NEWTON COUNTY – Standing ovations were in order as the Newton County Board of Education recognized several students at its latest meeting.

While several stood in recognition of these students, several others in the room stood due to the lack of seats – as the meeting got to standing room only numbers.

Three different groups were recognized during the Jan. 23 meeting, with the first being the finalists for the 2023 Holiday Card Art Contest.

Students were asked to submit artworks to use for the contest, with hundreds of submissions considered.

Superintendent Dr. Duke Bradley III opted to choose the top 14, citing the challenges of choosing just one winner.

"I finally narrowed it down to 14 pieces of artwork to use on my official holiday cards as it was just too difficult to select just one,"

Collins to seek re-election in 10th District

CHRIS BRIDGES
THE WALTON TRIBUNE

GEORGIA – While it may only seem like a few weeks since Mike Collins took office as the 10th District representative in the United States Congress, in reality, it is now re-election time.

Collins said Thursday he does plan to seek another term representing Walton County and the large district in Washington, D.C. While he had not made a formal announcement, Collins told The Walton Tribune he will seek another term.

MIKE COLLINS

"It's hard to believe we are at this point already but qualifying is in March with the primary in May," Collins said while he attended the Walton County Chamber of Commerce annual awards banquet.

Collins represents a very red district so the Republican candidate will always be favored.

The Jackson trucking company owner will also have the advantage of being the incumbent.

Elected in 2022, Collins survived a tough

GEORGIA – Lexy Doherty has always had a strong interest in politics.

The Athens resident has never held elected office but the passion for it has always been there, she said.

Doherty has officially announced her candidacy for the Democratic Party nomination for the 10th Congressional District this year. She hopes to emerge as her party's nominee to challenge Republican incumbent Mike Collins.

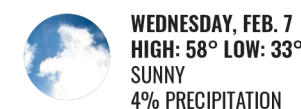

LEXY DOHERTY

"I don't think our current representative is very representative of a lot of people in our community," Doherty told The Walton Tribune. "There are a lot of people who are not part of the MAGA wing, even among Republicans."

Doherty earned a degree in geology from the University of South Carolina. She moved to Athens for graduate school. Her husband is a musician and both liked living in Athens so Doherty put her geology plans to the side and went into

NCSO provides update on missing persons case

STAFF REPORT | THE NEWS

NEWTON COUNTY – The Newton County Sheriff's Office (NCSO) issued a press release late Friday afternoon providing an update on Cover George Bryan.

The press release states that on Saturday, Jan. 27 at approximately 5:30 p.m. NCSO investigators were notified of a missing person with dementia in the Regency Place area. This would later be identified as the 68-year old Bryan.

Investigators were initially informed by Bryan's daughter that the last time she had seen Bryan was between 1:30-2 p.m. walking down the sidewalk to an unknown location. It was also noted that Bryan "had a history" of leaving his residence alone but would frequent the Salem Rd. Walmart.

A BOLO was then distributed to surrounding agencies as well as a social media post to inform the public of Bryan's disappearance. A Maddie's Call was also issued.

Weather conditions reportedly played a factor in searching for Bryan.

"Due to the weather conditions and the four-hour time lapse from when he went missing to when he was reported missing, the utilization of a helicopter or a K-9 would have been unsuccessful during the search for Mr. Bryan on Jan. 27th," via an NCSO press release. "Multiple deputies were searching the areas where Mr. Bryan was known to frequent, including the area of Regency Place where he resided."

The search then continued on Jan. 28 in the area of Regency Place, the pond behind the subdivision and the Salem Rd. Walmart. Leads from the BOLO and Maddie's Call were also investigated.

On Jan. 29 at approximately 3:15 p.m., investigators found a body matching Bryan's description in a wooded area near his residence. The body was sent to the Medical Examiner's Office of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation for positive identification – which has still yet to be completed at the time of this publication.

It was also stated in the press release that until the NCSO receives the report from the Medical Examiner's Office, "a positive identification cannot be confirmed."

The NCSO would later provide their condolences to Bryan's family and promised to provide updates to Bryan's daughter as the investigation continues.

"Sheriff Ezell Brown and the NCSO send their deepest condolences to the family and friends of Mr. Bryan. Sheriff Brown would like to thank the Georgia State Patrol for providing a helicopter during the missing person search once the weather cleared. He also thanks his staff for their hard work and dedication during the missing person search," an NCSO press release stated. "Additionally, sheriff Brown has personally met with Mr. Bryan's daughter and has reassured her that she will receive prompt updates from the NCSO regarding this case once more information becomes available."

Bradley said. "I want to personally thank and commend each and every artist here tonight for making my holiday cards a special treat for the recipients."

The finalists honored at the meeting were Litxy Molina Dominguez, Kaitlyn Wood, Ansley Felix, Ava Whitaker, Sonia Ramos-Gonzalez, Nydia Small Hazzoum, Jose Serrano, Emma France, Rivers Curtis, Carley Polston, Angelica Negron-Rivera, Megan Parks, Keleia Morris and Destini Lewis.

Next, the board recognized the two teams that became state finalists in the Samsung Solve for Tomorrow competition.

These teams were recognized as being two of the top six in the state of Georgia and top 300 nationwide. With the award, each team received a $2,500 care package from Samsung as a reward for their efforts.

The first team were creators of the Quick Save CPR mat – a portable mat designed to perform CPR on the victim's chest via voice commands.

The inventors recognized at the meeting were Hulet Neely, Shania Stewart, Layla Crayon and Nevaeh Craven.

Following a standing ovation, Bradley added his thoughts on the invention.

"I want everybody just to remember what they actually created," Bradley said. "They created something that's hard to describe but we know that it will save lives – I want y'all to hurry up and get a patent on that."

The second group recognized for their finalist designation were the creators of the Feather Falling Shoe. This shoe – designed for the elderly – was made to detect falls and alert medical personnel.

Inventors Justin Johnson and Tre'von Davis were recognized for their efforts.

Bradley gave a closing remark for the specific recognition portion, highlighting the importance of what the STEM – Science, Technology, Engineering and Math – program is doing for those involved.

"These outstanding projects truly exemplify the caliber of learning-based initiatives cultivated by students at the Newton County Career Academy STEM institute," Bradley said. "It is noteworthy to emphasize that these accomplishments were not extracurricular projects, but integral components of their in-class experiences."

"The innovative solutions presented tonight underscore the institutes' commitment to fostering real-world problem solving within the classroom, setting a standard of excellence for STEM education."

State sues feds over rejection of ‘Georgia-centric’ Medicaid expansion

DAVE WILLIAMS | CAPITOL BEAT

ATLANTA – The state of Georgia and the federal government remain at loggerheads over Gov. Brian Kemp’s limited expansion of the state’s Medicaid program.

The state filed a lawsuit in federal court in Brunswick Friday seeking an extension of the five-year program being denied by the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS).

The agency approved Georgia Pathways in October 2020 during the Trump administration. The program provides coverage to Georgians with incomes up to 100 percent of the Federal Poverty Level – a lower threshold than the Affordable Care Act (ACA), which covers those with incomes up to 138 percent of the poverty level.

Unlike the federal Medicaid program, Georgia Pathways also requires enrollees to participate in at least 80 hours per month of “qualifying” activities, including work but also education, job training, or community service.

In 2021, after Democrat Joe Biden succeeded Republican Donald Trump in the White House, CMS rescinded its approval of Georgia Pathways because of the work requirement. The state sued, and in a 2022 ruling won the right to proceed with the program.

The Georgia Department of Community Health (DCH) launched Georgia Pathways last July and requested an extension of the program – now due to expire next year – citing the delays in implementation caused by CMS’ change of course under the Biden administration.

Last October, CMS denied the request for an extension of the end date, prompting the lawsuit filed Friday.

“After the Biden administration’s lengthy, failed attempt to interfere with Georgia’s innovative plan to afford thousands of Georgians the opportunity to receive quality health care, they are back at it again,” Kemp said. “We beat them in court then, and now we are again asking for the federal government to adhere to the terms they agreed to rather than play politics by refusing to give us back the time they stole from delaying the Pathways rollout and implementation.”

Democrats in the General Assembly have pointed to sluggish enrollment in Georgia Pathways in arguing the state should fully expand Medicaid coverage instead through the ACA, as 40 other states have done.

In a news release Friday, Kemp said the DCH has ramped up efforts to enroll eligible Georgians in Georgia Pathways and noted the timing of the rollout has been complicated by coinciding with the Medicaid eligibility redetermination process required by the expiration last spring of the COVID-related federal public health emergency.

being an education consultant where she helps students apply for college.

In 2020 with COVID-19 arriving, many older poll workers were concerned about continuing in their duties and being exposed to the virus. Doherty decided to become a poll worker and has done that each election since.

“I realized I loved it,” Doherty said. “I enjoyed being part of the democratic process and making sure our elections were secure and safe and that everyone has a chance to vote.”

In recent months Doherty began asking around about potential candidates in the District 10 Democratic Party primary. She heard of no one planning to run so she jumped into the race.

“I will talk to anyone who wants to hear from me,” Doherty said. “I will reach out to all organizations. I am a farm girl. I enjoy riding horses and am still very involved in the farming world. Many farmers, even if they lean Republican, understand the importance of conservation. There are a lot of improvements that can be made.”

In terms of key issues in the 10th District, Doherty said she will focus on the following:

- Economy — “We have seen economic equality getting worse when it comes to affordable housing, food, health care. Many people are really hard working but are barely making it or not making it. I will look at ways to raise wages, lower health care costs and have quality education for all students.”

- Good governance — “People deserve to have a say in our elections. We have to have secure elections and make sure there is ballot secrecy. To me, it is crazy that those in congress are allowed to trade stocks. I would support a bill banning that. People need to be ethical and held responsible.”
- Working together — “People who think differently are people that I can learn from. I am the kind of person that you can change my mind.”

Tabitha Johnson-Green has been the Democratic Party nominee for the 10th Congressional District in the last three general elections but has lost big each time.

Doherty believes it is time for someone else to be the nominee although she said she has heard that Johnson-Green may run again in 2024.

Doherty and her husband Patrick have two dogs, a cat and a horse.

primary election with several fellow GOP candidates seeking the nomination. Collins won the general election with ease.

While no candidacy is official until qualifying, Collins said he has heard he may have a primary challenger in 2024.

“We welcome it,” Collins said. “We will run on our record.”

In recent days, Collins has been working a bill to override a Supreme Court decision regarding immigration in Texas.

“In light of the Supreme Court’s decision on Monday directing Border Patrol to temporarily remove razor wire installed by the state of Texas at known illegal immigrant hotspots, this week, I unveiled the RAZOR Act,” Collins said.

“This legislation would prohibit the federal government from removing Texas’ or any other state’s border barriers. Since President Biden took office there have been more than 8 million illegal crossings nationwide, with at least 1.7 million known ‘gotaways.’ On the U.S. southern border alone there have been over 6.7 million who have crossed illegally, as well as 312 on the terrorist watchlist encountered by U.S. law enforcement. If the Supreme Court won’t allow states to defend their sovereignty and our nation, Congress has a moral imperative to act.”

Collins does have one announced Democratic Party challenger for 2024. Lexy Doherty, an Athens-based educational consultant has declared she will run for the 10th Congressional District seat.

Patterson’s road to his ascension to mayor started much earlier than Nov. 7. Even earlier than when he originally announced his campaign in Porterdale’s 2022 Christmas parade, too.

In fact, Patterson’s original interest in politics stems from watching one of his favorite shows, “The West Wing.”

“It was like, ‘This is interesting,’” Patterson said. “And, even though it was drama and entertaining, I’ve always had this sense of interest in politics.”

From there, Patterson began attending city council meetings. Then, when now-former mayor of Porterdale Arline Chapman was first elected, Patterson hosted and moderated candidate forums.

Patterson proceeded to get involved with the planning and zoning commission and was voted in as chairman. After that, Patterson was appointed to serve a year of an unexpired term on the city council.

The next election cycle, he ran unopposed and served a full term as the Post 3 representative.

Being elected to an office is nothing foreign to Patterson, either.

After originally being a section 5 youth leader, he became the Georgia district youth secretary for six years. Then, in 2013, was elected the district’s youth president.

He filled that capacity for the next 11 years, still worked at Faith Tabernacle and even pastored Faith Tabernacle’s daughter church in Blakely, Georgia.

When Patterson was 24 years old, he was ordained and was associate pastor of Faith Tabernacle.

Two years removed from that — Feb. 1, 2012 to be exact — Patterson was voted in as his home church’s senior pastor.

Patterson was grateful by the vote of confidence.

“That was the greatest honor of my entire life, because I’ve always wanted to be in ministry,” Patterson said. “I grew up in ministry... I grew up getting my hands involved in everything I could in the church. My passion and desire for ministry just grew and I feel like my calling was developed through being around it all my life.”

gether a few years ago when Patterson participated in a celebrity golf tournament at Cherokee Run in Conyers with former Atlanta catcher and coach Eddie Perez.

Patterson played the whole round and rode on the golf cart with Perez.

Last year, Patterson started playing pickleball and joined the Covington Pickleball Club. For his birthday, Patterson’s church gifted him a kayak.

Patterson is the fifth generation of his family to live in Porterdale with his children representing the sixth.

He has a “blended family” with his wife of 15 years, Wendy — Newton County’s recently promoted EMA director. Patterson has two children, Corban and Logan and is a “bonus dad” to Blake and Addison.

At home, Patterson loves to play card and board games as well as put puzzles together. Currently, Patterson’s desire to read has him re-reading Lee Cockerell’s “Time Management Magic.”

He and his family have family dinner nights — namely Taco Tuesdays.

Patterson’s No. 1 vacation is to cruise, but his favorite spot to visit remains Pigeon Forge, Tn. When traveling to the area, Patterson attends an array of shows with the Comedy Barn, Hatfield and McCoy and Dolly Parton Stampede among his go-tos.

But Patterson is anything but just an attendee. While he said he relishes the entertainment aspect of the shows, Patterson oftentimes waits around after each show to meet the cast members.

Today, Patterson is Facebook friends and texts with many of them.

“I have one guy...he’s a bass player that ended up getting an infection in his leg and had to have half his leg amputated,” Patterson said. “And I was with him the whole time checking in, ‘How are you doing? I’m praying for you.’ And now he’s back on stage with a prosthetic leg and he’s playing. Every time I go up there, I see him and we talk and hang out and it’s really cool.”

Patterson believes that is just part of who he is.

“One of the ways I get a lot of conversations started is if I don’t know the person and I’m intrigued by them, I may go up to them and say, ‘Hey, I’m Michael, it’s good to meet you. What’s your story?’” Patterson said. “Because I’m interested in who they are but also what made them who they are.”

Patterson’s vision for Porterdale

Now, as the face of the city of Porterdale as its mayor, Patterson plans to use his personality and his past experiences to lead the city forward.

Patterson categorized the state of Porterdale as being in a “season of growth.”

As far as his objective in fostering that growth, Patterson aims to be intentional. That way, when more growth ensues, it will be to the betterment of the city and its citizens.

“If we don’t have a plan, we don’t have vision and we don’t have a masterplan set that we can agree on, then all that’s going to do is continue to be development driven where the developers come in and tell us what they’re going to do,” Patterson said. “What I want to do is have a master plan where when a developer comes in — whether it is for residential or commercial or industrial — that we can help connect the dots and the pieces of the puzzle to say, ‘This is how we can flow. This is how we can work together.’”

Patterson’s life in ministry

Another large portion of Patterson’s life is spent in ministry.

Now, the current pastor of Faith Tabernacle in Conyers, Patterson began his ministry under the leadership of his grandfather Dr. J.A. Patterson by playing the drums at 9 years old.

Six years later, he became involved in the youth ministry until he graduated from Rockdale Christian School. Not too long after that, he was named youth pastor.

Patterson then received his ministerial license through the United Pentecostal Church International (UPCI).

Patterson’s interests/hobbies

When Patterson is not discussing policy or delivering a sermon, he enjoys many hobbies.

Toward the top of the list is being an assistant coach for his kids’ Little League baseball team at the Newton County Recreation Department. Patterson is an assistant for their travel ball team, too, “Newton Rookies.”

Patterson is an Atlanta Braves fan with his favorite player while he was growing up being Chipper Jones and, today, it is Ronald Acuña Jr., because “the guy’s a beast.”

Another hobby of Patterson’s is golf. The two hobbies came to-

People with Risk Factors for Heart Disease Should See a Cardiologist

Editor's Note: The Covington News received the following Op-Ed.

Individuals with risk factors for cardiovascular disease should see a cardiologist regularly, regardless of whether they are experiencing symptoms of heart disease, according to Kalaimani Elango, M.D., a cardiologist with Piedmont Heart of Newton. Dr. Elango advises anyone who has diabetes, hypertension, or high cholesterol or who is obese, inactive, or a tobacco-user to consult a cardiologist.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) names heart disease as the leading cause of death for men and women alike in the country. On 14 February, 2022, Russia invaded our ally, Ukraine. It was first land war in Europe since World War Two. It is estimated that some 15,000 Ukrainian civilians and 70,000 Ukrainian soldiers have been killed. Russian fatalities are estimated to be more than 315,000 dead.

On October 7th, 2023, some 1200 Jews were massacred by Hamas terrorists who were funded by Iran. Almost 250 more civilians were taken hostage, and countless more were raped. It was the worst single day loss of Jewish life since World War Two.

Since that date, United States service members have been attacked over 160 times by Iranian-backed terrorist groups. Hundreds of service members were wounded, many with traumatic brain injuries.

Reflecting on the loss of three fallen heroes

DICK YARBROUGH
Syndicated Columnist

To: Sgt. Breonna Moffet. Sgt. William Jerome Rivers. Sgt. Kennedy Sanders:

I did not know you personally and the likelihood is that our paths might never have crossed. That does not matter.

Today, like your family, your friends and your fellow Americans, I am grieving at the news of your senseless deaths from a terrorist drone attack in Jordan. You were in the wrong place at the wrong time and as a result, three lives have been lost and three futures lost as well.

Individually, you had coached youth sports, worked with the disabled and had even had a previous tour of duty in Iraq. Collectively, you gave your lives for us. The ultimate sacrifice.

You were returned to the country this past week and greeted by your families, the president of the United States, the secretary of defense and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, among others. That is as it should be. You deserved that.

You came from all parts of Georgia – Waycross in south Georgia, Carrollton in west Georgia and Savannah on the coast – as members of the 718th Engineer Company, 926th Engineer Battalion of the U.S. Army Reserve Command. That's a mouthful to say but, in short, you were serving your country in our military.

I spent a very short time in Iraq covering the men and women of Georgia's 48th Brigade Combat Team and learned that while the military can delineate the difference between regular Army, Army Reserves and National Guard, it is all the same uniform to those seeking to do harm to us.

I'm not sure of your reasons for joining the military but one thing I do know – you were not forced to do so. You volunteered because you chose to, unlike a lot of countries where military service is mandatory.

Your passing should make us rethink the term, hero. Heroes are not athletes who get paid obscene amounts of money, some making more in a single day than your annual pay and then publicly denigrating our country and our flag, not appreciating that those who came before them fought and died for them to have the right to do so. They are not heroes. They play a child's game. You weren't playing. Yours was no game.

And then there is the rabble who wrapped themselves in the same flag the overpaid athletes have disrespected and with clubs and poles and zip-ties stormed the U.S. Capitol because they didn't like the results of the presidential election. Even worse, they and their supporters proudly refer to them as patriots. They were not and are not patriots in any sense of the word. They were and are rightwing zealots attempting to overturn the results of an election with which they disagreed. They should be ashamed for even uttering that word. You and your colleagues who serve your country and put your life on the line are the real patriots. Not them.

For one moment your sacrifice did bring us together as Americans. Black and white. Male and female. Old and young. Liberal and conservative. There has been nothing but prayers and praise for you. We can do that when we want to. But, sadly, it seems to always take a tragedy to unite us, however briefly.

And we are mad. And frustrated. Why were you in some outpost in Jordan near the Syrian border, anyway? And with all the sophisticated technology at our disposal how did we let a drone get through our defenses, costing you your

Week Four Under the Gold Dome

BRIAN STRICKLAND
Senator

It's been another impactful week on the Senate floor, and I'm proud of the progress we're making under the Gold Dome.

On Tuesday, my colleagues in the Georgia Senate Republican Caucus and I gathered on the South Steps of the Georgia State Capitol to outline our key priorities for the 2024 Legislative Session. At the forefront of our agenda are issues concerning tax relief, tort reform, education, foster care, workforce development, and public safety. While these priorities are crucial, I remain committed to advocating for all citizens of the 17th Senate District and Georgians across the state.

The Senate Committee on Judiciary, which I have the privilege of chairing, forwarded several Senate Bills from our committee meetings to the Senate floor this week. Notably, the "Safeguarding Adopted Children from Sexual Violence Act" passed with unanimous bipartisan support.

I had the honor of joining Gov. Brian P. Kemp and fellow members of the Georgia General Assembly for the signing of House Bill 30. This bill officially defines antisemitism for hate crime prosecution and cases of discrimination, demonstrating the state's unwavering support for its Jewish population amidst the troubling rise in antisemitism nationwide. In Georgia, there is no tolerance for hate, and I stand firmly behind this legislation.

Looking ahead to next week, we will first pay our respects and offer condolences to the late House Rules Chairman, Richard Smith, a revered leader in our General Assembly who will be deeply missed statewide. Meanwhile, we'll maintain our momentum in advancing bills through the Senate chamber and respective committees. Should you have any legislative inquiries, please don't hesitate to reach out to my office for assistance throughout the remainder of the session.

Sen. Brian Strickland serves as the Chairman of the Senate Committee on Judiciary. He represents the 17th Senate District which includes all of Morgan and portions of Henry, Newton and Walton County. Sen. Strickland may be reached by phone at 404.463.6598 or by email at brian.strickland@senate.ga.gov.

NCSS middle school math teams win at Regional Math Contest

STAFF REPORT | THE NEWS

Newton County School System (NCSS) middle school students dominated the recent Regional Middle School Math Team competition, winning both first and second place honors in the Division I Math Team Competition.

Coached by Mindy Alexander, the Newton County STEAM Academy team – comprised of Oliver Reid, Destini Alston, Elizabeth Biangel, Benjamin Parson and Rhonda Grider Purchase – took home top honors in the contest with Reid also walking away with second place honors in the Individual Winner category. Cousins Middle School’s math team earned second place honors in Division I, resulting in NCSS earning the top two awards in the Division I competition. The Cousins Middle School team was comprised of Ocean Douglas, Sincere Hunter, Janelle Ferdilus, Jackson Nealy, and Eathn Bullard. The team was coached by Deborah Olabiyi. Both math teams and students competed against other middle school teams from Butts, Fayette, Henry, Lamar, Pike, Spalding and Upson county school systems.

The math contest includes a one hour written test followed by a group-ciphering event. According to Dr. Stephanie Gordy, executive director for Griffin RESA, awards for the top three teams in each division are based on a total team score comprised of the top four highest scores on the written test and the team score on the ciphering event. Competitive divisions are determined by school enrollment.

“Our students’ outstanding performance at the Griffin RESA Math Competition is a testament to their dedication and hard work,” said Ms. Shundreia Neely, NCSS Director of Secondary Schools. “The results are a source of pride for the students, their math teachers, the school, and our district. I appreciate the dedicated work of our math sponsors and math instructional specialist, Dr. Teresa Broadwater, for creating challenging and engaging opportunities to prepare the students.”

On the night of the 20th of November, 2023, a British transport ship was seized by Iranian-based Houthi pirates. Overall, the Houthi’s have attacked more than 30 civilian transport ships in and around the Red Sea. As a result, many ships are now traveling the long way around Africa, adding some 26 days and countless millions of gallons of gas to their voyage.

On the night of the 21st of January, 2024, two Navy Seals were lost at sea during the boarding of a ship carrying lethal ballistic missiles being illegally transported to Iranian-backed terrorists.

Petty Officer 1st Class Christopher Chambers, 37, of Westfield, Massachusetts

Petty Officer 2nd Class Nathan Gage Ingram, 27, of Trophy Club, Texas.

On the 24th of January, 2024, the US Navy intercepted two missiles that Houthi pirates shot at a US transport vessel. Weeks later, the USS Gravely was nearly hit by a cruise missile fired by Iranian-backed Houthi pirates.

On the night of the 28th of January, 2024, three Army soldiers at US OUTPOST TOWER were murdered in their sleep by Iranian-backed terrorist drone attack. All 3 of brave these soldiers were from Georgia.

lives and injuring 40 others? And what are we going to do about it? And will it make a difference?

We have been in that cesspool part of the world for the past 30-plus years and nothing seems to have changed. It’s like trying to stamp out cockroaches. The more you eradicate, the more they seem to multiply. ISIS, Hamas, Hizballah, Al Qaida, on and on. All terrorists. All intent on destroying us and our way of life. We are dealing with immoral and uncivilized cretins who place no at least one of the top three risk factors for heart disease, which are high blood pressure (hypertension), high cholesterol and tobacco use, according to the CDC. A cardiologist can help manage these risk factors.

“Too many people wait to see me until they are short of breath or experiencing chest pain,” said Dr. Elango. “But if you have any of these underlying issues or habits, I would strongly encourage you to come see me before you don’t feel well. We can develop a plan together for adjustments to your diet, exercise routine and stress management practices that will make developing heart disease less likely.”

It is important not to wait for warning signs to visit a cardiologist because damage often occurs before a person feels any differently, says Dr. Elango. Heart disease risk factors themselves can be asymptomatic. The CDC notes that there is often no outward sign, for example, of high blood pressure or high cholesterol.

Proactive lifestyle changes for heart health may include a diet founded in fruits, vegetables and lean meats as well as an exercise regimen that entails heart-rate-raising aerobics for 20 to 30 minutes several times a week. Medication is another possible tool, under the direction of a cardiologist, to address high blood pressure or cholesterol.

“The best news I have for potential patients is that there are many things they can do to achieve heart health,” said Dr. Elango. “I also want them to know that I am here to help, to be part of their heart health support system, not to shame them if they haven’t taken perfect care of themselves to this point.”

Super Bowl cooks, it can be done: Buffalo wings with less splatter

KATIE WORKMAN
Food Writer
Associated Press

We will start by acknowledging that deep-fried chicken wings are very, very good. And when I am out and about in a bar-ish setting, it's difficult to pass them up.

But deep frying chicken wings – or really anything – at home? Very rare in my kitchen. It's messy, it calls for lots of oil, and then you have to make a whole lot to justify the amount of oil you use.

For this year's Super Bowl festivities, consider a simpler way.

I am among the many who have had their lives enriched by the air fryer. In a short amount of time, you can make a variety of crispy and crunchy foods without a bottle of oil, excessive splattering or quite so much guilt. And hooray, fried chicken wings are one of the foods the air fryer is made for.

All you have to do is toss the wings in a small bit of oil and place them in the air fryer. Toss them around again at least once during frying so they brown evenly. Then toss the now-crispy wings with a simple butter-hot sauce mixture, serve up a ridiculously easy homemade blue-cheese dip, and you're ready for game day. Or just a fabulous snack.

What turns ordinary chicken wings into Buffalo wings is that hot sauce with melted butter. And while there are folks who prefer one hot sauce or another, many of us feel it's not a classic buffalo wing without Frank's Red Hot Sauce. This just-the-right-amount-of-spicy sauce has the perfect balance of vinegar and heat, so you can glug that red love onto the wings and not worry about blowing your taste buds out.

Want it spicier? Add more Frank's, and maybe a bit of cayenne pepper.

Don't want to make your own blue cheese dip? That's cool. Buy some. But buy a good one. You made your own wings; give them a sauce they deserve. I'm a fan of Marie's blue cheese dressing, which can be found in the produce section in the refrigerator case.

Including carrots and celery makes us all feel better about the wings. One wing, one carrot, one wing, one piece of celery. And don't forget to dip the vegetables in that blue cheese dip too. Tomorrow you can have a salad.

If you want to make the wings ahead of time, just reheat them in a 300-degree oven for about 15 minutes.

AIR FRYER BUFFALO CHICKEN WINGS

Serves 6

Wings:

2 pounds chicken wings, flat part and "drummies" separated, tips saved for stock

2 tablespoons olive or vegetable oil

Kosher salt and freshly ground pepper to taste

Buffalo Sauce:

2/3 cup Frank's Red Hot Sauce

4 tablespoons unsalted butter, melted

Blue Cheese Dip:

1/2 cup sour cream

1/4 cup mayonnaise

1/2 cup crumbled blue cheese

1 to 2 tablespoons whole milk, half and half, or heavy cream

1 tablespoon lemon juice

1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

2 finely chopped scallions, white and green parts

Kosher salt and freshly ground pepper to taste

Carrots and celery sticks for serving

Cook the wings: In a large bowl, toss the chicken wings with the oil, salt and pepper. Place them into the basket of the air fryer; they can overlap a bit, but they shouldn't be stacked. Cook for 25 to 30 minutes at 400°F if your air fryer has temperature settings, or the dual cook setting if it doesn't. Turn the wings halfway through the cooking, redistributing them so they cook more evenly. Remove them when they are browned and crisp.

Make the Buffalo sauce: While the wings are cooking, combine the Frank's Red Hot Sauce and the melted butter in a large bowl.

Make the blue cheese dip: In a small bowl, mix together the sour cream, mayonnaise, blue cheese, 1 tablespoon milk, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce, scallions, and salt and pepper. If the dip is thicker than you'd like, add the extra tablespoon of milk (or other dairy product).

Transfer the hot cooked wings to the large bowl and toss with the buffalo sauce. Transfer to a serving platter and serve with the Blue Cheese Dip and carrot and celery sticks.

Appropriation Application available through Feb. 9

STAFF REPORT
THE NEWS

NEWTON COUNTY — Newton County asks that any 501(C) 3 organization requesting appropriations for the upcoming Budget apply under the County's policy.

The application for an appropriation from the Fiscal Year 2025 Budget is requested no later than Feb. 9, 2024.

Applications may be picked up in the Newton County Financial Services office located in the Newton County Administration Building, 1113 Usher Street, SW, Covington, Ga. Suite 204, filled out online here or sent to blwhite@co.newton.ga.us, subject line, "Appropriation."

Non-profit entities applying for an external appropriation must be designated and recognized as a non-profit entity for the 12 months prior to seeking an external appropriation. Such evidence of certification must be provided along with the application for external appropriations. Non-profit entities must provide documentation from both the state government and the federal government evidencing the entity's tax status. Entities not operating or having a period of non-compliance with legal requirements for the full, 12-month period prior to award of external appropriations are eligible to apply for an appropriation that year.

Entities seeking external appropriation must provide the last fiscal year's operating budget detailing costs and credits. Additionally, the entity shall provide organization creation documents, identify all board members and provide certified minutes from at least three Board meetings in the previous year. The Board of Commissioners reserves the right to deny a request for any external appropriation for any reason at all.

Please find the application form here: <https://co.newton.ga.us/FormCenter/County-Services-9/Newton-County-Fiscal-Year-2025-External--62>.

INDIVIDUALS RECAP

Newton County wrestling teams compete in region

Garrett Pitts | The Covington News

GARRETT PITTS | SPORTS EDITOR

Newton County area teams competed in their regional individuals on Saturday, Feb. 3. In the end, Alcovy, Eastside and Newton each claimed top three finishes.

Eastside Eagles

Eastside played host to the Region 8-AAAAA sectionals. On their home mats, the Eagles came away with 10 top three finishes in the event. The lone first place wrestler for Eastside was freshman Micah Mostek, who improved his record to 29-2 on Saturday. Mostek claimed first place in the 106-pound weight class with a win via fall over Jefferson's Barrett Clayton. Nolan Christian (126-pound weight class), Dylan Baines (138-pound weight class), Jordan Amedee (144-pound weight class) and Jertavious Allen (157-pound weight class) each came away with second place in their respective weight classes. Charles Henderson (120-pound weight class), Hasaan Williams (132-pound weight class), Collin Pucko (150-pound weight class), Da-mani Fleming (165-pound weight class) and Jamorrie Cole (190-pound weight class) claimed third place finishes in the event. Grayson Carter (175-pound weight class) and Daizon Epps (285-pound weight class) finished in fifth and sixth places, respectively. History was also made for the Eagles wrestling program. According to head coach Caleb Payne's Twitter (now known as 'X'), Amaiah Clayton (third place) and Destiny Carter (fourth place) became the first two Lady Eagles ever to qualify for sectionals.

As a team, the Eagles finished in third place with 184 points. Jefferson's 271 points led the way with Flowery Branch claiming second place with 189.5 points.

Alcovy Tigers

The Alcovy Tigers competed in the Region 3-AAAAAA wrestling individuals at Woodward Academy. The man leading the charge for Alcovy was Makhai Jones, who claimed first place in the 175-pound weight class.

YOUNG PLAYERS HELP LADY EAGLES FIND SUCCESS

JET RAWLS | CORRESPONDENT

With a current third place, 8-4 Region 8-AAAAA record, the Eastside Lady Eagles are vying for playoff contention. Head coach Gladys King attributed the team's success this season to the roster's young talent stepping up when called upon. One underclassman leading the way for the Lady Eagles is sophomore Aysia Spivey. The 2023 All-Region player averages 9.1 points per game and had a 14-point second half performance against Loganville on Jan 16. King described Spivey's freshman year as a wake up call with the pace of varsity play. But Spivey has adjusted well to it. "Going from middle school to high school is totally different," King said. "The competition is a little bit faster. It's going to be a little bit tougher and a little bit more aggressive, and she's gotten used to that." Another second-year player that King praised was Jarilix Rivera-Villarini. The guard, who the team nicknamed "Little Bit," has been a valuable shooter for the Lady Eagles. Rivera-Villarini has put together two double-digit showings in the month of January, a stat that makes her a go-to for King when the team is in need of a shot-taker. Rivera-Villarini said that while her game has evolved, her drive to improve has held firm. "I expect to get better with my shooting and finishing," Rivera-Villarini said. Sophomores are not the only underclassmen who Eastside has utilized this season.

Freshman Ari Carter has taken meaningful minutes off the bench and has a playing style that a former coach of King said reminds him of King's time on the court.

Redskins name Jeremy Holder as new offensive coordinator

GARRETT PITTS | SPORTS EDITOR

The Social Circle Redskins offense will have a new look in 2024 with the addition of Jeremy Holder as the new offensive coordinator. On Friday, Social Circle athletics announced on X (formerly Twitter) that Holder had been hired for the role after a seven-year stint as Parkview's offensive coordinator.

Before his time at Parkview, Holder coached at Monroe Area for 10 years. Holder's decision to join the Redskins' staff stemmed from his desire to go back to Walton County. "I was really trying to get back closer to home. That is the reason I started looking in that direction," Holder said. "I am excited to get the opportunity to go to Social Circle and work with coach Patton." Outside of returning to Walton County, the feel of Social Circle weighed heavily on Holder's decision. "I love the small town community feel," Holder said. "It felt like home when I went there. I like the idea of everyone knowing everybody and having a town behind the school was appealing." For head coach Rob Patton, the hire is one that he feels can elevate the Redskins football program in 2024.

"Coach Holder is going to make our program better," Patton said. "I coached against him when I worked in Gwinnett County and his offense was tough to prepare for. He always did a great job of tweaking his blocking schemes to put the defense in a tough position." Despite making the drop from Class AAAAAAA to Class A, Holder has experience with a smaller roster and is familiar with players playing both sides of the ball. "There is a lot of potential [on the team] in terms of single-A football and just utilizing what athletes you have," Holder said. "Everyone [in single-A] is in the same boat of not having that many kids to draw from." Looking ahead to the 2024 season, Holder plans to bring his spread scheme to the Redskins' offense. "Everything comes off the run game, so we will be a little run-first [offense] with play-action and RPO," Holder said. "We will be in multiple formations with the same core run plays and pass concepts."

Redskins sit at 2-2 in region play with split result

‘Skins split at Jasper, sit at 2-2 in region

EVAN NEWTON | NEWS EDITOR

MONTICELLO, Ga. – The Social Circle Redskins split the series Friday night when they visited the Monticello Hurricanes.

In game one, the Lady Redskins picked up a statement 58-28 win. Following that result, the boys team fell just short in a 64-57 loss.

Each team now sits at 2-2 in Region 5A-Division I play with the split result.

Lady Redskins win in dominating fashion

Social Circle’s 30-point win earned it the season sweep of the Lady Hurricanes for the 2023-24 season.

Both squads traded baskets within the first 30 seconds of the contest. Then, two, three pointers courtesy of freshman Marissa Morrell allowed the Lady Redskins to gain an early 12-6 lead going into the second quarter.

A strong second quarter sparked what would define the game for the Lady Redskins.

Seven players put points on the board. This led to an 18-7 run in the frame to put Social Circle up 30-13 at the half.

With the game already out of reach for the Lady Hurricanes, Brielle Price put the team on her back to close out the game.

The freshman scored all 10 points for the Lady Redskins in the final frame.

Four total players scored double digits.

Price led all scorers with 15. Stewart logged 11 points with Morrell and Jada Hyman adding 10 apiece.

Head coach Norman Jones was pleased with the effort the Lady Redskins showed with this win.

“I’m just proud of how we came out and shared the ball and played defense,” Jones said. “We were able to get some girls who were in a slump to put the ball in the hoop and start to feel their confidence and build their confidence again and that’s when we started to pull away.”

With the win, the Lady Redskins improve to 2-2 in region play and 9-13 overall.

Jones feels that, after a statement win like this, the Lady Redskins have what it takes to bring their best against the other teams in Region 5A-Division I.

“The girls definitely want Prince [Avenue Christian], they want that game back and then Oglethorpe we spotted them 17 in the first quarter and went even the rest of the way. So now the girls are really believing,” Jones said. “Sometimes failure is on the pathway to success, and they felt that Prince game, they felt that Oglethorpe game and now they believe that we actually can win the region championship.”

Evan Newton | The Covington News

The Lady Redskins will look to carry that positive momentum forward in their two remaining regular season games. They take on the Prince Avenue Christian Wolverines on Feb. 6 and the Oglethorpe County Patriots on Feb. 9. Both matchups commence at 6 p.m.

Redskins lose in back-and-forth game

A gutsy, back-and-forth game between region rivals saw the Redskins come up short against the Hurricanes in a 64-57 defeat.

The Redskins could not stop the three ball. As a result, Social Circle trailed 15-3 early in the first quarter.

Following repeated errors by the Hurricanes offense, the Redskins closed the gap with baskets from Derrick White and Justin Russell getting the team within six for a 15-9 score at the end of the first frame.

While the defensive woes against the three-point shot continued in the second frame, the Redskins capitalized on repeat mistakes from the Hurricanes.

Two big three pointers from Ethan Brown along with eight points from Russell brought the Redskins to within two.

Social Circle went into halftime trailing 27-25.

A quick three-pointer from Tivan Branch got the Redskins the first lead of the night quickly into the third frame.

The lead got up at one point to 37-29 as the Redskins move the ball well for the duration of the quarter. However, costly mistakes for the Redskins caused the Hurricanes to surge back with Randy Williams and Kemarion Thomas punishing the Redskins on defense.

A last-second tip in by the Hurricanes allowed the home team to take the lead back over the Redskins 43-41.

Both teams traded the lead back-and-forth in the fourth frame, with Williams and Thomas for the Hurricanes and Russell and Jameccus Hardge for the Redskins trading offense.

As Social Circle trailed by three, a lost possession from the Redskins sealed their fate.

Russell led all scorers with 19 points, with Hardge and Brown adding nine each.

The loss dropped the Redskins to 2-2 in region play and 7-15 overall.

Jones said after the game that both the environment and lack of focus cost them in the close region game.

“I told them we gotta match their intensity and second-half I told them we were playing in a hostile environment, playing against refs, their senior right and we just have to lock in more,” Jones said. “We have to be laser focused and match their intensity and we did that. I just feel bad that certain calls went the way that they did. It’s basketball. I told them that I’m proud of them and hey we’re probably gonna see them [The Hurricanes] again.”

Despite the loss, Jones spoke highly of Russell who shined in the game.

“I’m proud of Justin because a bunch of region play was back-and-forth with me and him,” Jones said. “You know his love for Jackson where he left, getting accustomed to a new way, he finally bought in and he’s just been playing great basketball ever since.”

Jones hopes that the Redskins can take what they learned to tonight and bounce back for the last few regular season games as well as the region tournament.

“I told the guys if we play like we played tonight, but fix what we did in the first quarter – coming out a little slow – we’ll be fine,” Jones said. “I think we’re gonna be able to take care of our senior night and then go down to Oglethorpe and take care of business down there and then be ready for region play whoever we gotta play.”

The Redskins will look to get back on track next week as they take on the Prince Avenue Christian Wolverines on Feb. 6 at 4:30 p.m. and the Oglethorpe County Patriots on Feb. 9 at 7:30 p.m.

WRESTLING earned the top finish with a win via decision over Woodward Academy’s Jack Cobb.

Christopher Mace (120-pound weight class) and Michael Boyd (157-pound weight class) finished in third place for their respective weight classes.

Alanzo Shipley (144-pound weight class) and Austin Hooke (215-pound weight class) claimed fourth place finishes.

Jonathan Murray (132-pound weight class) and Anthony Morales (138-pound weight class) earned fifth place while Thomas Elison (190-pound weight class) finished in sixth place.

The Tigers finished in fourth place as a team with a total score of 89 points, following behind Woodward Academy, Rockdale County and Morrow.

Newton Rams

The Newton Rams competed in the Region 4-AAAAAAA wrestling individuals at Parkview High School.

In the end, the Rams claimed a pair of top three finishes.

Aaron Tillman earned second place in the 215-pound weight class while Malachi Riley finished third for the 165-pound weight class.

Ronny Miles Galon (157-pound weight class) and Caileb Manley (190-pound weight class) each earned fourth place finishes.

Nicholas Jones (132-pound weight class) and Jackson Marchman (175-pound weight class) claimed fifth place.

Ja’Lon Gordan (138-pound weight class) and La-Quan Brooks (150-pound weight class) finished sixth.

The Rams ended the event sixth place as a team with a score of 82.5.

EAGLES King couldn’t help but smile when reminded of the statement.

“I get goosebumps,” King said. “I remember how hard I went after it. I didn’t have any worry. It wasn’t about being selfish or anything like that. It’s just about playing hard, going in, getting after the boards and stuff like that. When I see her, I do see her going in and going after the boards, and I like that mentality.”

Despite not even having a full season under her belt, King left no doubt in stressing Carter’s ability to keep up with the best on the hardwood.

“She has that drive,” King said. “She has that fight. She has that willpower. She wants to win.”

Carter herself noticed the jump from middle to high school was a big one, describing the competition as “bigger, faster, and stronger” than what she has faced in the past. Carter believes that the competition spike can be overcome, however, as she gains more experience.

“I was nervous at first, but I’m comfortable now,” said Carter.

As the Lady Eagles make their final playoff push, King said that the drive to be better in her young players makes the whole team better.

“They’re hungry,” King said. “They have nothing to lose. They’re fighting for that starting spot.”

Justin Hartley in "Tracker"

On the hunt: Justin Hartley is the 'Tracker'

Steadily and surely, the stars of "This Is Us" have been moving on to other projects.

Milo Ventimiglia was first with the ABC series "The Company You Keep," while his former television "wife," Mandy Moore, made her series comeback recently with the second season of Peacock's "Dr. Death." Sterling K. Brown appears in the current movie "American Fiction," and his ex-spouse from "This Is Us" — Susan Kelechi Watson — has been working on a Netflix series titled "The Residence," which also involved Andre Braugher before his recent death. Chrissy Metz, meanwhile, starred in the holiday horror movie "A Creature Was Stirring" (2023) and has been advancing her singing career.

Now, it's Justin Hartley's turn. Formerly the commitment-phobic and trouble-prone Kevin Pearson in "This Is Us," he plays someone much more in command in "Tracker," a drama series that gets a post-Super Bowl premiere slot, Sunday, Feb. 11, on CBS and Paramount+. The series will stay on Sundays thereafter, with Hartley (also an executive producer of the show) playing Colter Shaw, a survivalist who crosses the country, using his specialized skills to help people — both police and private citizens — with searches and collects rewards for the missions when they're completed. His complicated family history has given him demons he tries to exorcise in the course of doing his work.

Also featuring Abby McEnany ("Work in Progress") and Robin Weigert ("Deadwood") as the managers of Colter's business affairs, "Tracker" is one of the first new series to debut after last year's strikes by writers and actors. The friendly Hartley admits he was "a little nervous" as those protests continued, but he marvels that "we were somehow able to save our premiere date and get back into production in enough time to let us keep going like it never happened ... which is pretty amazing. We'd worked so hard on this, there was some stress, but it's wonderful to report for work as normal — just a reminder of what a great business we have."

"Tracker" is based on the bestselling novel "The Never Game" (which was also the series' original title) by "The Bone Collector" author Jeffery Deaver, and that name adapts Shaw's credo that he uses to advise people he assists: "Never let panic take the wheel." Indeed, the first episode starts with him assisting a fearful hiker who has been seriously injured, then follows him as he seeks a missing youngster. In both cases, he stays calm as he informs his new companions of their odds for survival under their respective circumstances.

The opening story involving woodlands, rivers, high cliffs and the like suggests that much of "Tracker" will be set in visually rich locations, and Hartley reports that he's an outdoorsy sort anyway. He also appreciates that Colter, who typically would rather just do something than explain it, "can be so intense. He doesn't just let life happen to him, like Kevin did [on 'This Is Us']."

"With this guy, if there's some kind of a problem, he's the one who's going to figure it out. And selfishly for me as an actor, it's wonderful to take on a different role. I loved playing Kevin, but I'm having the time of my life. ['Tracker' is] cool, but it's also believable. I like that Colter is not a superhero. If he gets shot, he bleeds. He doesn't have an iron skin."

John Goodman stars in "The Conners"

Tournament of Champions

FOOD 8 p.m.
This season's tournament begins with a series of qualifier episodes, seeing Guy Fieri introduce a round of battles where "TOC" wannabes must sharpen their knives and fight for one of the 32 available slots, each hopeful to partake in the main event.

Married at First Sight LIFE 8 p.m.
The honeymoon is over, with this new episode following as the newlyweds return to Denver, now facing a mountain of new challenges. During a relaxing retreat, some hope to deepen their bond while others are on a collision course of pent-up emotions.

Nature WGTV 8 p.m.
As part of a conservation movement, this documentary shows a growing number of bird lovers, experts and citizen scientists mobilizing in order to understand the changing world in which migratory shorebirds must continue to adapt in order to survive.

The Conners WSDT 8 p.m.
It looks like things are heating up between Becky (Lecy Gorranson) and her new boyfriend, Tyler (Sean Astin), in this season premiere. Meanwhile, life continues as usual in Lanford for the Conners, including Dan (John Goodman) and Darlene (Sara Gilbert).

American Pickers HIST 9 p.m.
Mike and Jersey go deep into the Tar Heel State and discover a collection of mad scientist-related antique medical "equipment" that put the quack in quackery. Meanwhile, in California, Larry's barn is chocked full of vintage cars, motorcycles and gear.

tonight's PICKS

Nyesha Arrington is a mentor in “Next Level Chef”

NHL Hockey ESPN 8 p.m.

It's an Eastern Conference battle as Nikita Kucherov and Steven Stamkos lead the Tampa Bay Lightning to UBS Arena in Elmont, N.Y. They take on Brock Nelson, Bo Horvat and the rest of the battered New York Islanders in this NHL matchup.

The Power of Film TCM 8 p.m.

In the finale of this six-part docuseries on the ways in which film affects its audience, host Howard Suber examines why the most memorable love stories in the medium stick in viewers' minds despite not always having a happy ending.

Next Level Chef WAGA 8 p.m.

Chefs Gordon Ramsay, Nyesha Arrington and Richard Blais are on the hunt to complete their own teams of “top chefs,” as the trio continues to watch on during the audition rounds, seeing fellow professional chefs battle it out for the final five spots.

Law & Order WXIA 8 p.m.

Price (Hugh Dancy) and Maroun (Odelya Halevi) struggle to convince a jury of motive and face a difficult decision about their only witness. Meanwhile, newcomer Riley (Reid Scott) investigates a real estate agent's murder with Shaw (Mehcad Brooks).

Married to Real Estate HGTV 9 p.m.

Renovations and new builds are not just for suburbia as Mike and Egypt decide to take on the challenge of renovating the men's basketball locker room at Clark Atlanta University seven weeks before the season begins. They can't afford to go into overtime.

"Taylor Tomlinson: Have It All" (Feb. 13)

In her third Netflix original comedy special, Taylor Tomlinson talks about having your dream job, finding your perfect partner, dealing with anxiety and insomnia all while asking the age-old question... can you really have it all?

"Players" (Feb. 14)

New York sportswriter Mack (Gina Rodriguez) has spent years devising successful hook-up "plays" with best friend Adam (Damon Wayans Jr.) and their crew. While it has led to countless one night stands over the years, following their playbook comes with a strict set of ground rules — chief among them: you can't build a relationship from a play. When Mack unexpectedly falls for her latest target, charming war correspondent Nick (Tom Ellis), she begins to rethink the game entirely. As the lines begin to blur, Mack must learn what it takes to play for keeps.

"Love Is Blind" - Season 6 (Feb. 14)

This hit reality series is back, following a new set of singles from Charlotte, North Carolina. All of the participants are ready to cut through the static of modern dating and forge authentic relationships, sight unseen. This season, the singles form deep and immediate connections, setting the stage for an unexpected journey full of twists, turns, and shocking revelations that will test each relationship well after the participants leave the pods for the real world. Vanessa and Nick Lachey return to host.

"The Vince Staples Show" - Season 1 (Feb. 15)

Who's Vince Staples? Well, that's a tricky question. He's kind of famous, but he's not. He's kind of rich, but he's not. He's also kind of a criminal. But he's...not? Follow him on his daily adventures in this limited series, where anything that can go wrong usually does.

BEST KATHARINE HEPBURN MOVIES

"Morning Glory" (1933): Hepburn earned her first of several Oscars as an aspiring actress who attracts three men who could boost her career ... but not necessarily for the right reasons.

"Little Women" (1933): While the Louisa May Alcott story has gotten the screen treatment a number of times, this early version with Hepburn has endured for the better part of a century.

"Alice Adams" (1935): Hepburn's title character is determined to be upwardly mobile in her town's social scene.

"Bringing Up Baby" (1938): In one of the movies that define "screwball comedy," Hepburn plays a dotty heiress who makes life complicated — as does her pet leopard, the film's "Baby" — for a paleontologist (Cary Grant).

"The Philadelphia Story" (1940): Hepburn is terrific as a socialite whose imminent remarriage isn't favored by her previous husband (Cary Grant) nor a reporter (James Stewart). Turner Classic Movies shows the film Wednesday, Feb. 14, as part of a "31 Days of Oscar" day of nominees and winners for best adapted screenplay (it won).

"Adam's Rib" (1949): One of the very best of the Hepburn-Spencer Tracy teamings features them as lawyers on opposing sides of the same case.

"The African Queen" (1951): Hepburn and Oscar winner Humphrey Bogart make an unlikely but great team as dissimilar people aboard a beaten-up boat that becomes caught up in World War I.

"Pat and Mike" (1952): Hepburn plays a pro golfer who hires a sports promoter (another role for Spencer Tracy) to help keep her mind, and everyone else's, on her game.

"Summertime" (1955): Director David Lean casts Hepburn as an American secretary vacationing in Venice and hesitating to fall completely for an antiques dealer (Rossano Brazzi). "The Way We Were's" Arthur Laurents wrote the screenplay.

"The Lion in Winter" (1968): A third Academy Award came Hepburn's way — in a year in which she tied with "Funny Girl's" Barbra Streisand — for her depiction of Eleanor of Aquitaine's stormy marriage to King Henry II (Peter O'Toole).

“Life Below Zero: Next Generation” - Season 6 (Feb. 14)
This reality series follows the lives of those who have tried contemporary life and rejected it in favor of a life of freedom in the brutal Alaskan wilderness.

“Star Wars: Young Jedi Adventures” - Season 1, New Episodes (Feb. 14)
The first season of this animated family adventure series returns. Set 200 years before “Star Wars: Episode I - The Phantom Menace,” (1999) during the High Republic era, the series follows Jedi younglings as they study the ways of the Force, explore the galaxy, help citizens and creatures in need and learn valuable skills needed to become Jedi along the way.

“Marvel’s Spidey and his Amazing Friends” - Season 3, New Episodes (Available Now)
Team Spidey returns for a Third Season to swing in and save the day with their incredible new Web-Spinner suits that allow them to explore exciting new places beyond their friendly neighborhood. Whether it’s underwater, the ice cold arctic, an erupting volcano, or even outer space, Spidey and his Amazing Friends continue to provide positive examples of what it means to be a Super Hero.

“The Marvels” (Available Now)
Carol Danvers, aka Captain Marvel (Brie Larson), has reclaimed her identity from the tyrannical Kree. When her duties send her to an anomalous wormhole, her powers are entangled with super-fan Kamala Khan, aka Ms. Marvel (Iman Vellani), and Carol’s estranged niece, astronaut Captain Monica Rambeau (Teyonah Parris). Together, this unlikely trio must team up and work together to save the universe.

tonight's PICKS

Tichina Arnold co-hosts "The Super Bowl Soulful Celebration 25th Anniversary"

Everything But the House

A&E 12 p.m.

Lara Spencer takes time out of her busy schedule to help families declutter their homes. This time, she helps a widow come to terms with the passing of her husband by letting go of their beloved collections to make way for a new family legacy.

Love & Jane

HALL 8 p.m.

Lilly (Alison Sweeney) is a hopeless romantic and avid reader whose life changes when her dream of meeting her favorite author, Jane Austen, actually happens. With a romantic bent from love's leading author, she finds a new lease on life — and love.

The Super Bowl Soulful Celebration 25th Anniversary

WANF 8 p.m.

The only inspirational music event sanctioned by the NFL, this special brings NFL players and award-winning musicians together at the Palms Casino in Las Vegas for a night of music prior to Super Bowl LVIII. Cedric the Entertainer and Tichina Arnold host.

Puppy Bowl XX
ANPL DSC TBS TRUTV
2 p.m.

What's cuter, cuddlier and fluffier than the Super Bowl? The Puppy Bowl, of course! Celebrating its 20th year on air, this furry game of "football" features more than 130 puppies from 73 shelters across the country, representing Team Ruff or Team Fluff.

ANPL DSC TBS TRUTV
5 p.m.

Sarah Silverman hosts the re-imagining of a popular segment from "Late Night with David Letterman." In this series premiere, Sarah sits down with Letterman as he passes the torch, with the help of a goat with its own yoga practice.

WANF 6:30 p.m.

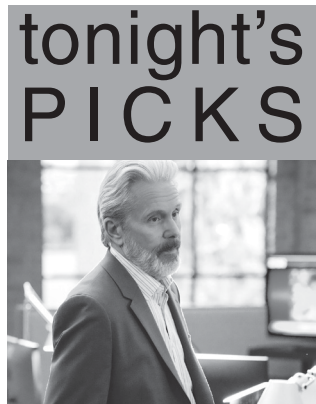

Whether you tune in for the commercials, the half-time show or the score, fans can expect a quality football game to take place, as teams battle it out in the 58th run for the Vince Lombardi Trophy, airing live from Las Vegas. Usher performs at halftime.

WGTV 8 p.m.

In this season finale, Eliza (Kate Phillips) must do everything she can to track down a fugitive suspected of murder before the police can locate him. As such, Insp. William Wellington (Stuart Martin), aka The Duke, is put in a very tough spot.

Gary Cole stars in “NCIS”

Mysteries of the Unknown

TRAV 8 p.m.

Host Don Wildman examines fascinating artifacts in his hunt to uncover the truth about some of history's biggest mysteries, including relics from Joseph Merrick — better known as the Elephant Man — and

tonight's PICKS

Tori and Zach Roloff with their children in “Little People, Big World”

FBI
WANF 8 p.m.
In this season premiere, Maggie (Missy Peregrym), Valentine (Jeremy Sisto) and the rest of the team work to stop a terrorist organization following a bus explosion, which kills innocent people. Then, Scola (John Boyd) tries to balance work and father-hood.

Finding Your Roots With Henry Louis Gates, Jr.

WGTV 8 p.m.
Using the latest methods in ancestry research as well as analyzing genetic code to trace bloodlines, educator and host Henry Louis Gates Jr. helps actress Danielle Brooks and legendary singer Dionne Warwick learn about their long-lost ancestors.

Road Wars
A&E 9 p.m.

Mind your (road) manners. In this new episode, a driver takes things too far when they follow the other back to his home in Wooster, Ohio after an incident. Then, a driver experiences how it is to fly after soaring over 120 feet off a tow truck ramp.

Why the Heck Did I Buy This House?

HGTV 9 p.m.
Sometimes, going with your gut leads to an upset stomach. That's the case for homeowners who fell in love with their quirky mid-century lake house before realizing it's dysfunctional. Designer Kim Wolfe takes on the challenge and creates a beauty.

Little People, Big World
TLC 9 p.m.

The legacy of Roloff Farms is at stake in an all-new season of this hit TLC reality series. Father Matt is at odds with his son Zach as they fail to come to an agreement over the farm's future. Seeing no future in the farm, Zach relocates his family.

Anthony Anderson is all about 'Family' now

BY JAY BOBBIN

Q: Since Anthony Anderson is hosting "We Are Family" now, does that mean "To Tell the Truth" is over? – Carrie Lowe, via e-mail

A: At least for the time being, especially since "Mama Doris" has traveled along with him to the new Fox contest. His ABC revival of "To Tell the Truth" had a good six-year run, and it achieved Anderson's personal aim of making his mother a TV star, something she had hoped for, though she gave up that career ambition earlier to raise Anderson and his half-brother.

As it happens, Anderson wasn't supposed to be the "We Are Family" host initially. Jamie Foxx and his daughter Corinne were to preside over the show, but a medical condition that reportedly hospitalized Foxx evidently necessitated another host. Foxx does retain an executive-producer credit on the program, however.

Q: It's been interesting to see the 60th-anniversary celebration of "General Hospital." As the only other two daytime dramas on broadcast network television, how long have "The Young and the Restless" and "The Bold and the Beautiful" been on the air? – Helen Richards, Raleigh, N.C.

A: "The Young and the Restless" began in 1973 on CBS, expanding from a half-hour to a full hour each weekday in 1980, and it will mark its 51st anniversary in late March. Its success eventually prompted executive producers William J. Bell and Lee Phillip Bell to launch "The Bold and the Beautiful" as a separate but related show in 1987, and it also has an anniversary coming up in late March ... its 37th.

Though "Days of Our Lives" now streams on Peacock instead of being broadcast by NBC, it's another still-running daytime serial that deserves mention for its longevity. That program began in 1965 (it marked its 58th anniversary last November), and in 1975, it also expanded from a half-hour to an hour. It will be continuing its Peacock run at least through September 2025.
