EDUCATION RECOGNITION

NCCA recognized as 2023 College and Career Academy of the Year

By PHILLIP B. HUBBARD
Managing Editor

Earlier in October, the Newton College and Career Academy (NCCA) received a special recognition from the Technical College System of Georgia (TCSG).

For 2023, the TCSG named NCCA as the College and Career Academy of the Year.

Chad Walker, NCCA's Chief Executive Officer, said he was "blown away" in an interview with The Covington News.

"I was blown away with excitement. Not just excitement for myself, but for this building. We have been doing a lot of hard work and to be recognized is tremendous," Walker said. "I'm just excited that other people across the state and other people in our community get to know about the Newton College and Career Academy."

Walker provided The Covington News with stats sent by NCCA to TCSG.

Here are just a few of them:

NCCA opened its doors over a decade ago in April 2012. At present, the enrollment stands at 899 students, which is a 35-student increase from the 2022-23 school year.

There are 16 Advanced Placement courses offered. NCCA has 22 Career, Technical and Agricultural Education pathways, which include industry certified pathways veterinary science, small animal care, culinary arts and early childhood education.

Fifty two Dual Enrollment courses are available through NCCA and its partners – Georgia Piedmont Technical College, Georgia State University, Point University and Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College.

Housed in NCCA is also the STEM Institute that has two pathways: Biotechnology and engineering. Eighty seven students are in each path-

CITY COUNCIL DENIES SPECIAL USE PERMITS ON COVINGTON BYPASS

By EMILY ROSE HAMBY
Staff Writer

COVINGTON, Ga. -- The Covington City Council denied two special use permits requests at Martin Luther King Jr. Avenue/Covington Bypass Road by Neely Farms, LLC at its Oct. 16 meeting.

The first special use permit (SUP), requested by developer of The Quarry @ Neely Farms project, Chris Folgman, proposed a mixed-use development across 73 acres with 125 townhomes, 350 apartments, 125 condominiums, retail, restaurants and outdoor activities.

The second SUP, also proposed by Folgman, proposed 227 single family attached townhomes for 22.7 acres. Currently, 370 detached single-family homes are under development as part of the same project. The entire project site spans 200 acres.

In September 2021, the city council implemented an improved intersection on Martin Luther King Jr. Avenue at Nitro 2 Go as a condition for the SUPs.

According to Folgman, Neely Farms has agreed to install a traffic signal at an estimated cost of $1.8 million. The project is in the final steps of obtaining the signal permit following the city's application and is awaiting final approval from the Georgia Department of Transportation (GDOT).

The Covington Planning Commission recommended denial of both SUPs.

Prior to the public hearing, three residents of the Covington Place neighborhood expressed their concerns regarding traffic, noise pollution and other issues during the time allotted for public comment.

Additionally, another Covington Place resident voiced her concerns due to the lack of emergency services in the community, suggesting the issue should be considered before adding more density.

Matt Crowe, owner of the Covington Ford dealership on Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Avenue, vocalized his concerns about traffic during the public hearing.

"Traffic is a huge concern of ours," Crowe said. "The traffic is a nightmare. Getting on and off in front of the dealership, you basically take your life into your own hands to try and take a left hand turn and a right hand turn sometimes."

Being elected officials of the city council, you owe it to the residents and the employees of the businesses here a safe and accessible passage in and out of their homes and in and out of the businesses."

In a 4-2 vote, the Covington City Council denied the SUP request for the mixed-use development. Councilmembers Kenneth Morgan and Charika Davis casted the two opposing votes.

During the second SUP request's public hearing regarding the 227 townhomes across 22.7 acres, Attorney Joshua Scoggins, representing the applicant, said he did not believe the council had Piedmont Newton Hospital, Facebook Meta, SRG Global and General Mills are among the 25 partnerships NCCA has with local businesses and industries, too. Over the past two years, NCCA has had 27 AP Scholars. There were 376 CTAE pathway completers in 2023 along with 169 students who received GeorgiaBEST certificates. Eighty seven percent of NCCA students are members of CTSO while also having four state CTSO officers and four regional officers. NCCA produced 240 CTSO competitors and 25 national CTSO competitors. On NCCA’s annual career signing day, 13 students go directly into the workforce or military after high school graduation. Walker referred to NCCA as a “hidden gem.” “It’s funny. “That zoning condition you imposed required us to go get approval from the DOT, and we have been diligently working toward that and have just now been able to get the city to agree to be the applicant, which is what the GDOT requires,” Scoggins said. “We can’t comply with that zoning condition if the project isn’t improved.

So if anybody wants a light out there, we’re going to have to develop this piece.”

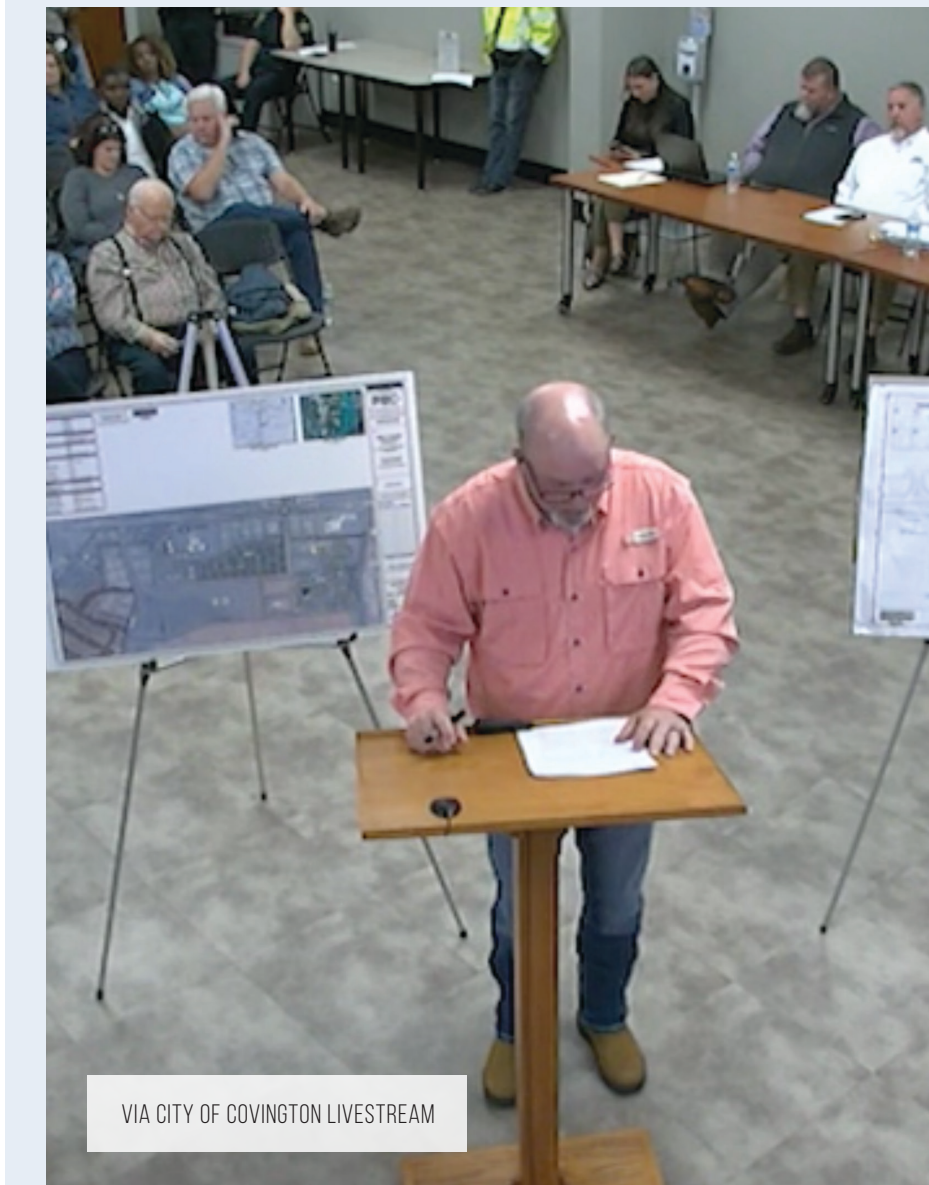

Morgan made a motion to approve the SUP, but it died for lack of a second.

Councilmember Fleeta Baggett made a motion to deny, which was seconded by councilmember Susie Keck. The vote tied, with Baggett, Keck and councilmember Don Floyd in favor of denial. Morgan, David and councilmember Anthony Henderson opposed the denial. Mayor Steve Horton broke the tie with a 4-3 vote to deny the SUP request.

Urgent Care or ER? WHICH SHOULD YOU CHOOSE?

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
news@covnews.com

COVINGTON, Ga. – Navigating the healthcare options available to you shouldn’t be a confusing process, whether you’re in the middle of an emergency, trying to prevent the onset of the flu, or just want to know what specific virus you’ve caught this time—these offices are available to offer you support; sometimes, it’s just a matter of knowing what kind of support they’re each designed to provide and how they can overlap.

To start, Emergency Rooms are equipped to handle more severe medical cases. This encompasses life-threatening, limb-threatening, or potentially life-altering events, such as convulsions, seizures, loss of consciousness, pregnancy-related problems, and signs of a heart attack or stroke. Serious burns, dehydration, trouble breathing, fainting, or a high fever in children under two months of age should also be treated at the ER.

For non-emergent situations, Urgent Care centers, like Piedmont Urgent Care locations, are ideal for treating the more common kinds of ailments—things that pop up at inconvenient times, making treatment time-sensitive but not necessarily life-threatening—such as colds, sinus infections, sore throats, sprains, strains, minor lacerations, or earaches. Urgent Care centers are also your go-to stops for digital X-rays, testing and some vaccinations. Essentially, if you think you have COVID, actually have COVID and the situation is non-emergent—Urgent Care is your friend.

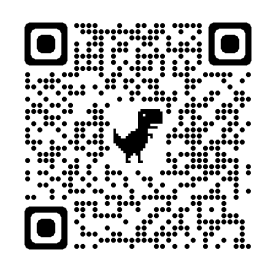

You can also have non-severe ailments—everything that can be treated at an Urgent Care, except for strains and broken bones—treated at Piedmont QuickCare centers.

“People often go to the emergency room for treatment of non-emergent issues, such as pink eye, congestion, or ear pain, not realizing there are faster and less expensive options like primary care locations, Piedmont Urgent Care clinics, and even virtual visits,” said Brian S. Bobb, M.D., WellStreet’s Senior Medical Director.

It’s also important to remember that you’ll never be turned away from a Piedmont emergency room—our hospitals are required by law to provide you with a medical screening and stabilizing treatment, and we do take into account the instances where, in the heat of the moment, it can be hard to tell whether an illness or injury is life-threatening or not, especially after a major, world-wide health crisis.

“Our goal is to educate our patients, making it easier for them to take charge of their health by offering quick and convenient access to care,” adds Dr. Bobb.

There is an urgent care location in Covington and another in Conyers. Patients can walk in, book ahead of time, or schedule a virtual visit. In the event you are experiencing a life-threatening emergency, please remember to call 9-1-1 or proceed to your nearest Emergency Room. Students took summer to prepare for future

STAFF REPORT
news@covnews.com

NEWTON COUNTY – Summer may be over, but Newton County students and grads are well on their way to beginning exciting careers right here at home. Throughout Summer 2023, Newton County young people took advantage of a variety of internships, externships, and training opportunities offered by companies located right here in their own backyards.

“We are so incredibly proud of the students who took the initiative in applying to and participating in these programs,” said Asher Dozier, Vice President of Economic Development at the Newton County Industrial Authority. “As Newton continues to attract cutting-edge businesses from a wide range of industries, we are eager to continue finding ways to train the next generation of Newton County’s workforce. Whether they choose to enter their careers right after high school, or attend a technical school, college or university, this summer of experience will be invaluable to our students.”

There was certainly no shortage of opportunity for local students and recent grads to gain experience in the construction industry this summer, as the industry continues to boom in tandem with local development. Students worked alongside welders, equipment managers, project engineers, and more with local companies like Inglett & Stubbs, Yancey Brothers, Holder Construction, ULCS, and Batchelor & Kimball.

Newton students also received valuable experience training in healthcare with Piedmont Newton Hospital. Eastside students Lila Whitmire, Laura Shepard, and Griffin Lane shadowed hospital staff through the Summer Jr. Volunteer Program. Madison Forsythe, a previous Summer Jr. Volunteer, leveraged her experience with Piedmont Hospital on her way to becoming a pediatric pulmonologist.

Engineering students capitalized on opportunities with Nishinbo Automotive Manufacturing to gain real-world experience through their Engineering Summer Co-Op. Newton College and Career Academy (NCCA) grad Bethany McGowan worked as an Engineering Co-op Lead at Nishinbo this summer. This fall, she’s headed to Georgia Tech where she will continue her studies in engineering.

Bethany isn’t the only NCCA grad with a bright future – three other engineering pathway grads also completed engineering internship experiences with SRG Global this summer. This fall, Noah Geiger will continue his engineering studies at Georgia Tech. Michael Adams is extending his internship with SRG Global this fall before continuing his collegiate plans. And Natalie Henderson was able to leverage her skills and aptitudes for engineering directly into starting a career with SRG Global as an industrial engineer.

Newton County Industrial Development Authority is grateful to the community partners who have invested in providing hands-on training and practical experience to local students and recent grads.

Newton County companies are committed to developing training opportunities so Newton’s young people can be prepared to enter the workforce in their hometown – helping all of Newton retain our best and brightest. This summer’s experience builds on the year-round efforts Newton companies undertake to support workforce development for people willing to learn and develop new, in-demand skills.

I Stand with Israel.

I was in Israel just a few weeks ago. After touring Jerusalem, my Jewish-Christian guide took us to an Arab restaurant in the same place where Jonah met his whale. It was wonderful. I saw Jews and Arabs and Christians – men, women, and children – eating and laughing and enjoying life together in joyful diversity of peace and acceptance.

Imagine my horror, when just a week later, some 1500 Jewish men, women, and children – mostly civilians – were brutally massacred in the worst single day of slaughter since the Holocaust.

Despite what you may have been told, Israel has always agreed to a “Two-State Solution” that would give the Palestinians a sovereign state of their own. Indeed, when the United Nations formed Israel in 1948, they also formed an independent Palestine along side it.

But, on the very first day of Israel’s existence, all the nations surrounding them (Lebanon, Egypt, Syria, Jordan, and Iraq) attacked the nascent Jewish state. Miraculously, Israel survived.

Following this war, and at the behest of many Arab nations, some 700,000 Arabs voluntarily left Israel and were then dubbed “the Palestinians”. In a later memoir, the former Syrian Prime Minister admitted this when he wrote, “We have been demanding the return of these refugees to their homes. But we ourselves are the ones who encouraged them to leave.” During that same year, some 800,000 Jews were expelled from Arab nations. They mostly went to Israel and America.

The difference in these two migrations, was that Israel and

DAVE BELTON

America accepted these Jews as citizens. The Arab nations, on the other hand, still refuse to accept the Palestinians even to this day, insisting that they remain refugees for over half a century.

Pakistan was also created in 1947. It was never a nation before, but broke away from India because they wanted to live in a Muslim state. A bloody civil war ensured, in which a million Indians were killed. Because of the horrific violence, 7 million Muslim Indians fled to Pakistan, and 7 million Hindu Indians left Pakistan to live in India.

The tragedy broke Gandhi’s heart. Yet despite all that bloodshed and strife over religion, no one claims that Pakistan shouldn’t exist.

Why do people say that Israel shouldn’t exist?

It is also a fact, that the modern day countries of Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, and Iraq were all created around the same time as Israel. Yet, no one refutes the validity of any of these nations.

In 1967, the Arabs attacked Israel again. Even though they were hopelessly surrounded, the Jews won again. That is when Israel captured “the West Bank” and Gaza and the Sinai.

In response, the Arab League got together in Sudan and announced their “Three No’s” – “No Recognition, No Peace, and No Negotiations with Israel”.

Since that time, Israel has tried many times to trade land for peace. In 1978, Jimmy Carter brokered a deal where Israel gave the Sinai back to Egypt in an exchange for a peace treaty.

In response, the Palestinians

Middle East war is the price of Netanyahu’s history with Hamas

For all his personal eccentricity, the Irish poet William Butler Yeats said it best in his 1919 poem “The Second Coming.” In the wake of Hamas’ monstrous atrocity against Israeli civilians, it appears that “the best lack all conviction, while the worst/Are filled with passionate intensity.”

Which is exactly how the murdering lunatics of Hamas wanted it. The instinct is for tribal revenge. Israeli Defense Minister Yoav Gallant referred to Hamas as “animals” in announcing Israel’s intention to cut off electrical power, water and food to Gaza’s civilian population as its bombing campaign began.

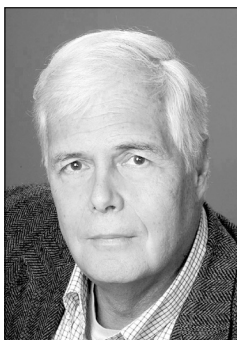

Traveling Israel in the immediate aftermath of the massacre, New York Times correspondent Isabel Kershner found author Dorit Rabinyan, whose 2014 autobiographical novel “All the Rivers” sparked controversy by describing a love affair between an Israeli woman and a Palestinian Muslim man.

Now, however, Rabinyan seeks revenge.

“I know it’s not noble of me,” she told the reporter. “I know there is suffering on the other side, but the other side took hostages and slaughtered so violently, with so much passion, that my compassion is somehow paralyzed.”

The novelist doubtless speaks for millions of Israelis, those who consider Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu a bigot and a fraud, and who protested his Likud government’s policy of encouraging so-called “settlers” to seize Palestinian property in the West Bank and expel impoverished former owners to Gaza, the world’s largest prison camp.

Tribal instincts, once aroused, are hard to subdue.

GENE LYONS

Perennially warlike Arkansas Sen. Tom Cotton was even less ambivalent. “As far as I’m concerned, Israel can bounce the rubble in Gaza,” the Republican lawmaker told Fox News. “Anything that happens in Gaza is the responsibility of Hamas. Hamas killed women and children in Israel last weekend.”

Exterminate them, he may as well have said.

And then what? Hamas hopes to provoke Israel into committing crimes against humanity. Its goal is not so much to liberate Palestine as to exterminate Jews. The terror group’s charter recaptulates every antisemitic slur dreamed up since the Middle Ages. Hamas blames Jews for everything from the French and Russian revolutions to World War II – all part of a Jewish conspiracy to usher in that ancient delusion, one world government.

Based upon his own history, there’s no reason to think Netanyahu can restrain himself from a massacre of innocents. He’s too compromised, too captivated by Israeli religious fanatics, too weak.

‘Clear responsibility’ of Netanyahu

While it’s hardly mentioned by American cable news channels promoting “Israel at War,” the Times of Israel has reported that the Egyptian government says it gave pointed warnings to Netanyahu that Hamas was planning a big attack, and that he basically blew them off. He claims it never happened. It appears, however, that the embattled prime minister, facing trial on criminal corruption charges, may have imagined that a terrorist attack would make him stronger.

“For years,” the newspaper explained, “the various gov-

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,
The Problem with Politics today... The consensus is that ‘Washington is Broken’ and people point their fingers at many different factors that have contributed to the decline, social media, News Media, Career Politicians, etc.

The simple truth is that the real problem is We the People.

As a Representative Democracy, We the People are empowered to vote and select those who will represent us.

We wield the true power by the choices we make in the ballot box.

We continue to wield that power with our feedback to those representatives.

We keep re-electing them which makes them Career Politicians.

We give raucous cheers to representatives who are disrespectful to each other rather than demanding they be civil and work for the common good. Then we wonder why respect for authority is spiraling downward.

We applaud our representatives who stonewall the other party rather than pushing them to compromise (yes, I used that horrible word) on solutions that make sense. We know from our lives that this behavior is self-destructive.

We are apparently fine with the fact that our representatives spend countless hours conducting pointless investigations into each other and the other party rather than demanding they focus on legislation. They certainly should conduct appropriate and necessary oversight, but most of these hearings are useless grandstanding.

We tear into every single fault of a member of the other party while ignoring Grand Canyon size problems within our own party. Blatantly ignoring our own issues will only result in cementing our demise.

We bury our heads in one sided News Media whose only purpose is to enrage and inflame, rather than educate and inform. We return over and over for the newest egregious headline – “Breaking News – The other side sucks”, which drives up their ratings. We allow ourselves to make them rich.

We trust the most untrustworthy of sources for news. Social Media in all its forms is anything but trustworthy, yet most of us treat it as a primary source of news. We do not take the time to read/explore all sides of a story. We let the first story that fits our biased narrative become the ‘truth’.

We are no longer happy posting signs in support of our candidate in our yards. Now we put out signs and hoist flags blatantly attacking the opponent, sometimes in the most vulgar of terms. If we cannot be civil then why would we ever expect those that represent us to do the same?

We buy into the view that the other party ‘hates’ our America and is out to get us. Members of the other party are nothing more than, family, coworkers, friends, parishioners, neighbors, etc. All of whom love our Country, but none of them ‘hate’ you. We simple have a difference of opinion.

In short, ‘We the People’ bear the burden for the current state of our political system. Until We demand better of ourselves and those that represent us, We will continue to get the dysfunctional government We deserve regardless which Party is in power.

Sincerely,
Chuck Rawlins

Use a Virtual Visit When You Have Cold, Flu, or COVID-19 Symptoms

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
news@covnews.com

COVINGTON, Ga. – Ever since the pandemic, every cough, snuffle, sneeze or body ache could be more than just the common cold, and not knowing what you have can start driving anyone crazy. Because colds, influenza, and COVID-19 share some symptoms, Piedmont urges everyone to stay safe, and keep others safe, while your physician works to determine your diagnosis. Not only is it dangerous to expose others, especially those who are immunocompromised, to any kind of virus, but being infected yourself lowers the strength of your immune system, and increases your risk of susceptibility to ailments you would normally be protected from.

“Germs are germs, and while the flu and COVID-19 are obviously more dangerous than the common cold, it’s important for everyone to follow the procedures put in place to keep everyone safe,” says Darryel Alexander Wilson, M.D., with Piedmont Physicians at Brown Ridge in Covington. “This includes wearing masks inside the doctor’s office if you’re displaying symptoms.”

It’s also important to note that telemedicine and virtual visits are additional options for patients. Piedmont has been offering telemedicine in many of its physician practices for several years, but they have been used more frequently since the COVID-19 pandemic. Virtual visits can also provide additional safety for all patients, including high-risk individuals from potentially being exposed to COVID-19. Now that cold and flu season has begun, virtual visits can keep sick patients safe at home unless a screening for flu or COVID-19 is deemed necessary.

The flu and COVID-19 are both contagious respiratory illnesses that have very similar symptoms. Some of the most common symptoms seen with both flu and COVID-19 are fever, sore throat and cough, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing, fatigue, a runny nose, headache and body aches or muscle soreness. Some people can also experience gastrointestinal symptoms.

“If you are sick with a cold, the flu, or COVID-19, your best form of treatment includes staying home and taking care of yourself, as well as staying in touch with your doctor,” adds Dr. Wilson. “Meeting with a physician in a virtual visit will keep you safe and comfortable, while also protecting others.”

Piedmont offers virtual visits with primary care physicians, urgent care locations, and specialty practices. Most visits are conducted over video, and all you need to get started is a video-enabled computer, tablet or smartphone. Piedmont’s virtual visits are also HIPAA-compliant, so you can be confident that your information is kept safely. In addition, Piedmont offers On-Demand Virtual Visits that allow patients to be seen same-day through the Piedmont MyChart portal. That way, if a patient starts experiencing symptoms and wants to know what they’re dealing with right away, they can see a provider virtually with no appointment needed.

For more on telemedicine at Piedmont, visit piedmont.org/virtualvisits.

launched their First Intifada against Israel, killing hundreds of Jews.

Following their success with Egypt, Israel offered to give the Palestinians their own state...not once, not twice, not three times, not four times, but five separate times!

The Palestinians rejected every offer.

The most famous of these negotiations was in 2000, when Bill Clinton invited Yasser Arafat to Camp David. There, Israel offered the Palestinians a nation of their own, 94 percent of the West Bank, all of Gaza, and East Jerusalem as its capital. Arafat, who had already been given the Nobel Peace prize, refused. Clinton said that Arafat was, “here 14 days, and said no to everything.”

Shortly after, the Palestinians launched the Second Intifada, where waves of suicide bombers entered Israel and killed over 1000 Jews.

Still, Israel sought for peace. In 2005, in a gesture of goodwill, Israel gave Gaza back to the Palestinians without any conditions. In 2008, Israel offered the Palestinians even more land in the West Bank.

A few weeks ago, Hamas launched a brutal attack from Gaza, the very same place they had been given.

There are 22 Arab states with 453 million people, stretching four thousand miles from the Atlantic Ocean to the Indian Ocean.

There is only one Jewish state of about 10 million people. Smaller than New Jersey, you can literally drive from one end of the country to the other in less than an hour.

Israel is a model of diversity, and one of the only nations in the Middle East that ensures LGBTQ rights. Over 20 percent of the people who live in Israel are Arabs who enjoy full citizenship. The Jewish Constitution guarantees freedom of religion, education, culture, and language to everybody, regardless of their ethnicity, a rarity in the Middle East.

Biden claimed he wanted to end our “Forever Wars” when he ignobly pulled out of Afghanistan, giving $82B of our weapons to terrorists. Now, we have two massive wars in Ukraine and Israel as bad actors feel emboldened. Still, I’m very glad the Leader of the Free World is finally defending the only democracy in the Middle East.

The new coalition of China and Russia and Iran and North Korea are watching. If we fail to defend the free peoples of the world, more grief will come to the Free World.

ernments led by Benjamin Netanyahu took an approach that divided power between the Gaza Strip and the West Bank – bringing Palestinian Authority President Mahmoud Abbas to his knees while making moves that propped up the Hamas terror group.”

The idea was to weaken Palestinians trying to negotiate a “two-state solution” while trying to buy off Hamas fanatics. Netanyahu was quoted at a Likud party function in 2019 “saying that those who oppose a Palestinian state should support the transfer of funds to Gaza, because maintaining the separation between the Palestinian Authority in the West Bank and Hamas in Gaza would prevent the establishment of a Palestinian state.”

Haaretz, Israel’s oldest newspaper, editorialized: “The disaster that befell Israel on the holiday of Simchat Torah is the clear responsibility of one person: Benjamin Netanyahu.” The prime minister, they wrote, failed by “establishing a government of annexation and dispossession ... while embracing a foreign policy that openly ignored the existence and rights of Palestinians.”

According to Noga Tarnopolsky in The New York Times, “[f]ormer prime minister and former Israeli army chief Ehud Barak blamed Netanyahu on Sunday for ‘the greatest failure in Israel’s history.’ That same day, Moshe Yaalon, an opposition legislator and former Israeli army chief of staff, said in an interview that ‘every day that Netanyahu remains in power puts Israel in danger.’”

Party politics aside, in a small country like Israel, these are widely respected figures of real authority. Polls show that Netanyahu’s support has cratered.

If he had any integrity, the prime minister would resign and take his arrogant and stupid policy of playing games with homicidal lunatics with him. The president of the United States should keep his distance.

OUR THOUGHTS GARRETT PITTS

What will Georgia's offense look like in Bowers' absence

The Georgia Bulldogs are coming off a bye week full of questions, and most circle back to the injury report.

The question that stands above all: What is the plan going forward without All-American tight end Brock Bowers?

In the Bulldogs' game against Vanderbilt on Oct. 14, Bowers sustained a high ankle sprain and was later announced to be having tight-rope surgery on the ankle.

According to Dawgs Daily, the "standard" time for recovery for the surgery is four to six weeks. The timetable sets for Bowers to return around the time when Georgia will be playing Georgia Tech or in the SEC Championship game.

The question of, "What is next?" is warranted but I do believe it is an easy one to answer.

Easy Answer

Right away, you look to who else is in the tight end room.

The man sitting on top of the depth chart is sophomore Oscar Delp. We already got a glimpse of what Delp is capable of when he took over for Darnell Washington late last season and during his time as the second string tight end this year.

Behind Delp, you have a pair of promising freshmen with Lawson Luckie and Pearce Spurlin. Luckie recently returned to action after having tight-rope surgery himself.

It is expected and almost guaranteed that Delp will be relied upon more in the final five weeks of the regular season with Bowers sidelined.

As an offense that works mostly in 12 personnel (two tight ends, two wide receivers, one running back), Luckie and Spurlin will see more of the field.

This will give Georgia fans a glimpse of what is to come from the freshmen duo who were listed as 247Sports No. 2 and No. 5 tight ends in the class of 2023.

Who Else?

While I believe the rest of the tight end room will play a big factor the rest of the way without Bowers, I believe this will allow the wide receiver room to step into the spotlight a little more.

In ways, the production from the tight end spot has overshadowed Georgia wide receivers for the last two years. This season, Bowers leads all Georgia players in receiving yards.

GARRETT PITTS

Given the situation, guys like Marcus Rosemary-Jacksaint, Dominic Lovett and Rara Thomas will be looked to the rest of the way.

Lovett, a transfer from Missouri, and Thomas, a transfer from Mississippi State, have been good additions but have not fully lived up to expectations based on their previous seasons.

In 2022, both Lovett and Thomas were the leading receivers on their respective teams.

Despite their stats through the first seven games of the schedule, the Bulldogs' passing game has been one of the best in the county.

In the Bulldogs' Oct. 7 game against the Kentucky Wildcats, we saw the receiving group break out in a big way.

Rosemary-Jacksaint caught seven passes for 99 yards and a touchdown while Thomas had five completions for 63 yards and a score.

Not including Bowers, Rosemary-Jacksaint and Thomas, nine other players on the Georgia offense had completions.

On a remaining slate that features unranked Florida (5-2), No. 16 Missouri (7-1), No. 12 Ole Miss (6-1) and No. 21 Tennessee (5-2), the offense is going to need more of that if they want to three-peat without Bowers for four to six weeks, potentially.

One bright spot for the Georgia offense is running back Daijun Edwards, who rushed for a career-high 146 yards against Vanderbilt.

Takeaways and Expectations

Going forward without Bowers, I feel we can see a mix of the normal twelve personnel mixed with a little more spread offense to get more wide receivers involved.

Without his best option on the field, we also get to see who quarterback Carson Beck will look to as his go-to target on offense.

There are reasons to worry with the injury to Bowers, but head coach Kirby Smart seems confident about the offense going forward when he spoke to the media during the bye week.

"If they think one guy is going to replace Brock Bowers, they're wrong. If anybody thinks they have to be superman, they don't need to be on our team," Smart said.

one before beating the Lady Cougars 9-1 and 11-1 in their final two games.

Following the Columbus-clinching win over Chattahoochee, head coach Heather Wood felt that her team was "peaking at the right time," and the stat sheet all but confirmed it.

With Donnee Morain leading with a .888 batting average, four other Eastside batters over .300.

On the mound, Dezaria "Z" Johnson and Eva Davis allowed a combined three runs through three games.

Eastside resides in an Elite Eight that also holds Northgate(19-11), Ola(27-3), Cartersville(21-9), Cambridge(19-9), Harris County(24-7), Northside(25-7) and Kell(26-7).

The Lady Eagles will begin their Columbus stretch against the Northgate

Lady Vikings Wednesday, Oct. 25. If Eastside wins their first game, they will play the winner between Northside and Kell. If they lose, they will face the loser between the Lady Patriots and the Lady Longhorns.

Southwest Georgia. They had two players connect for homers who had never had any in their careers."

After the final game, Piedmont Academy players shared their thoughts on their fourth straight state championship.

"It feels amazing to win four consecutive state championships because winning never gets old, especially when you know how hard you've worked," said senior Breck Piedra. "It's great to come out on top for my last year playing as a senior."

Junior Marissa Holder said it is great continuing to make history for both her school and GIAA Class AA.

"The keys to winning state championships is never to be satisfied and continuing to show up ready to work and be great every day at practice," Holder said. Piedmont finishes the 2023 season 24-6 overall with a

Perfect 8-0 mark in region.

The Lady Cougars played their toughest schedule to date, according to their coach.

"We knew going to Columbus that Southwest Georgia was really going to be [tough] and that would be who we would have to beat," Johnson said. "Their top pitcher is really good."

Hinson homered in the first game against Southwest Georgia on Saturday helping to a 6-2 win. Piedra and Hinson both drove in two runs.

Emily Whitwell earned the win, striking out five batters in seven innings of work in the pitcher's circle.

"This is really a surreal feeling," Whitwell said. "It feels amazing to know that all of our hard work paid off when it mattered. Playing together as a team and staying positive were keys for us."

Whitwell then earned the win in the 12-8 win to clinch the championship. She had two more strikeouts in the final game.

Hinson had five RBI with two homers.

While Piedmont will lose Piedra to graduation, the remainder of the team returns, setting up another deep run in the postseason in 2024.

Junior Kylee Keck has been part of all four championships for the softball program.

"Most teams are lucky to win one title, much less four," Keck said. "We have worked so hard every year for this outcome and the memories I have made will last a lifetime."

Keck said the keys to repeating once again in 2023 were effort and attitude.

"Everyone did their job and we worked as a team," said Keck, who played second base in the field. "For us it was one out and one run scored at a time. We gave everything we had four one last weekend and fought back and never quit."

Lady Cougars win fourth straight state title

By Chris Bridges
The Walton Tribune

COLUMBUS, Ga. — State championships never get old.
Just ask the Piedmont Academy fast-pitch softball team.
The Lady Cougars capped another state championship season Saturday by defeating Southwest Georgia twice. Once again, Piedmont reigns supreme in GIAA Class AA.
“It never gets old but it seems like they get tougher,” said Lady Cougars head coach Joe Johnson. “Southwest Georgia clipped us pretty good on Friday so it was a great accomplishment to come back and beat them twice Saturday.”
Piedmont’s bats were on fire for most of the Final Four in Columbus. The team had three homers in the championship game (two from Teagan Hinson and one from Kamie Gibby).

Overall, Marissa Holder and Hinson both had three homers while Gibby had two after the team got to Columbus
The Lady Cougars defeated Citizens Christian 8-0 on Thursday before falling to Southwest Georgia 11-2 on Friday.
Piedmont then defeated Brentwood 17-2. This set up a rematch with Southwest Georgia but it would take two wins on Saturday by the Lady Cougars to claim another state title trophy.
A 6-2 win was followed by a 12-8 victory against the Lady Warriors.
“Sometimes getting punched in the mouth is a good thing,” Johnson said. “You can tell the players all you want but they have to believe it. Nothing went our way in the first game against

Columbus awaits Lady Eagles, Lady Tigers

By GARRETT PITTS
Sports Editor

The Alcovy Lady Tigers and Eastside Lady Eagles are set for their Columbus trips after each team swept Super Regionals.
That was after both teams secured No. 1 seeds with region titles.
Now, it is time for Columbus, where both teams enter into the elite eight for their respective classifications.
Alcovy Tigers
The Lady Tigers finished Super Regionals with a sweep over Lakeside (Evans) and North Atlanta. Alcovy beat Lakeside 8-7 before beating North Atlanta twice, 5-3 and 13-5.
For the Lady Tigers, the closest contest of Super Regionals was the first one against Lakeside.
Alcovy mounted a comeback in the bottom of the seventh against the Lady Panthers, ultimately walking it off on an RBI single from Jamaya Anderson.
The Lady Tigers trailed North Atlanta late in game two before a four-run sixth inning boosted them to their second win. In game three against North Atlanta, Alcovy won via a rout to secure their position in Columbus.
Offensively, the Lady Tigers will look to carry momentum from Super Regionals, where they had three batters who finished over a .500 batting average. Pitchers Olivia Tomberlin and CeCe Williams were the main pitchers in Super Regionals, where they finished with identical innings pitched at 9.2.
The Lady Tigers are in an Elite Eight that holds River Ridge(21-12), South Effingham(29-4), Pope(29-3), Newnan(23-7), Grovetown(27-5), Lassiter(28-2) and Effingham County(25-5).
Alcovy’s first game at the South Commons Complex in Columbus will be against the River Ridge Lady Knights Wednesday, Oct. 25 at 5 p.m. If Alcovy wins their first game, they will play the winner of Lassiter and Effingham County. If they lose, they will face the loser between the Lady Trojans and the Lady Rebels.
Eastside Eagles
Similar to Alcovy, the Lady Eagles finished with a sweep of Super Regionals after beating Lithia Springs and Chattahoochee.
Eastside finished all three of their Super Regional games via run-rule.
The Lady Eagles beat the Lady Lions 16-1 in game

BY DANA SIMPSON

David Furr and Louisa Jacobson
in "The Gilded Age"

Operatic opposition: HBO period drama lifts curtain on Season 2

Whether first heard as a quippy one-liner from famous New York humorist Fran Lebowitz ("Pretend It's a City") or read in Esther Crain's book "The Gilded Age in New York, 1870–1910," there is little doubt you've heard about New York City's penchant for change. Per Crain's aforementioned book, released in 2016 and available through most major booksellers, "the most common observation about New York is that it never stops evolving."

This is especially true in the HBO series "The Gilded Age," premiering Season 2 on its home network and the Max streaming service Sunday, Oct. 29. Starring Carrie Coon ("Gone Girl," 2014), Cynthia Nixon ("Sex and the City") and Christine Baranski ("Mamma Mia!," 2008) as some of New York's finest wealthy gossips, the series follows a group of business moguls and socialites as they work hard to make a name for themselves and build an empire in New York City during the turn of the 20th century.

Coon stars as Bertha Russell, a "new money heiress" who caused some major waves in Season 1 alongside her husband, railroad tycoon George Russell (Morgan Spector, "The Plot Against America"), and her fellow socialite Mrs. Caroline Astor (Donna Murphy, "The Nanny Diaries," 2007), the leader of aristocratic social society called The Four Hundred. With her own societal standing foremost in her sights, Bertha often stirs up more trouble than is necessary to get what she wants.

Also to blame for her fair bit of trouble is Marian Brook (new talent Louisa Jacobson), who fell on hard times when her father died in the series premiere and began Season 1 by moving into her estranged aunts' house for a bit of a lifestyle makeover in the Big Apple. Marian's aunts, Ada Brook (Nixon) and Agnes Van Rhijn (Baranski), both belong to the old-money world and thus have very particular views on how things should be done among New York's finest. While Marian does her best to please her aunts, she has also learned that not everyone subscribes to her family's conservative school of thought.

Returning alongside Coon, Murphy, Jacobson, Nixon and Baranski for Season 2 is Denée Benton ("UnREAL"), who plays highly motivated writer Peggy Scott, who moved from Pennsylvania to New York City with Marian. Despite holding down a job as Agnes' secretary, Peggy is of respectable societal standing herself and has come to enjoy the company of her old friend in a new city. She also enjoys testing the boundaries set in place by those in high-up positions, often complicating matters for herself and those closest to her.

Headed into the show's second season, the Primetime Emmy-winning series follows more of the petticoat-clad drama that comes along with Gilded-era expansion. This time, according to the official HBO trailer, it seems that the bulk of the hullabaloo centers on the world of the operatic arts. More specifically, it likely revolves around the 1886 closing of the Metropolitan Opera House.

As newcomers to the show (and maybe even some avid fans) may not yet know, "The Gilded Age" takes many of its plot lines from the annals of history. While hardly to be considered a true story, the first season held to realities of the robber barons of the late 1800s, like the railroading Russells. (The Astors were also a real family, fictionalized for the series.) Now headed into its second season, "The Gilded Age" is placing its focus on the so-called "Opera House War" of the 1890s and the subsequent end of the "Knickerbocker era."

"All The Light We Cannot See" (Nov. 2)
Based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel, this limited series follows the story of Marie-Laure (Aria Mia Loberti), a blind French girl, and her father, Daniel (Mark Ruffalo), who flee German-occupied Paris with a legendary diamond to keep it from falling into the hands of the Nazis. Relentlessly pursued by a cruel Gestapo officer, Marie-Laure and Daniel soon find refuge in St. Malo. Here, Marie-Laure's path collides inexorably with the unlikely of kindred spirits: Werner (Louis Hofmann), a brilliant teenager enlisted by Hitler's regime, who instead shares a secret connection to Marie-Laure.

"Nyad" (Nov. 3)
This film tells the remarkable true story of athlete Diana Nyad (Annette Bening) who, at the age of 60 and with the help of her best friend and coach, Bonnie Still (Jodie Foster), commits to achieving her life-long dream: a 110-mile open ocean swim from Cuba to Florida, often referred to as the "Mount Everest" of swims.

"Ferry: The Series" - Season 1 (Nov. 3)
A spinoff of Netflix's "Undercover," this new series tells the story of drug lord Ferry Bouman (Frank Lammers), as he rises from obscurity and tries to get a foothold in the Brabant underworld. Together with John (Raymond Thiry), brother-in-law Lars (Yannick van de Velde), Remco (Tim Haars) and Dennis (Huub Smit), he fights the immovable drug lord Arie Tack (Stef Cuijpers) and a notorious motorcycle club to win his place at the top. But, he quickly learns that greatness comes with a price.

"Blue Eye Samurai" - Season 1 (Nov. 3)
This provocative and visually stunning cinematic series immerses the viewer in a world of vivid adult animation with a live-action edge. Set in Edo-period Japan, the series follows Mizu (voiced by Maya Erskine), a mixed-race master of the sword who lives a life in disguise seeking the deliverance of revenge. The voice cast also includes George Takei, Masi Oka, Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa, Brenda Song, Darren Barnet, Randall Park and Kenneth Branagh.

Frances Dade and Bela Lugosi in "Dracula"

BEST MOVIE MONSTERS

Frankenstein: Though Boris Karloff established the legend of playing Dr. Frankenstein's monster, the screen incarnation pre-dated him, going back to 1910 – and actors from Lon Chaney Jr. to Robert De Niro would succeed him. Turner Classic Movies shows the 1931 Karloff version during the concluding day of a two-day Halloween "Terror-Thon" Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Dracula: Here's another situation where one actor (Bela Lugosi) made a frightening role his trademark, but others actually played it before he did, including in the unauthorized adaptation "Nosferatu." Christopher Lee and (on both stage and screen) Frank Langella also would become noted for their interpretations of the character.

The Wolfman: Yet another fear-instilling figure brought to the screen many times, this was another character Lon Chaney Jr. was renowned for ... though other performers to sprout a lot of hair upon a full moon have included Benicio Del Toro and (in a Mike Nichols-directed modernization) Jack Nicholson.

The Mummy: Karloff also got to do extra monster duty with a part he got all wrapped up in, quite literally. Arnold Vosloo inherited the role (and the bountiful bandages) in a modern retelling and its sequel, and another remake starred Tom Cruise.

King Kong: The mightiest ape of all first reigned supreme in a 1933 stop-motion-animation milestone in which he famously carried a shrieking Fay Wray, then returned in a 1976 version (with Jessica Lange) and Peter Jackson's 2005 version (with Naomi Watts).

Godzilla: Originated in Japan and brought to America in a 1956 version of the initial movie that added scenes featuring Raymond Burr, this giant sea monster has been revived on film numerous times in projects of varying quality, the most notable of which starred Matthew Broderick (1998) and Bryan Cranston (2014).

The Fly: First played by Al (later David) Hedison and later by Jeff Goldblum and Eric Stoltz, this character derived its terror from generating thoughts of what could happen if man tampered with nature.

"Bruce" the Shark: Bruce was the name by which the mechanical creature was known to the cast and crew of "Jaws" (1975) who famously endured many malfunctions while engineers figured out how to get the model working again. Once it was, the scares it provided moviegoers became legendary ... and pretty much cemented the career of a then-novice filmmaker named Steven Spielberg.

The Alien: Based on designs by H.R. Giger, the intergalactic enemy that first terrorized a space crew in "Alien" (1979) surely gave astronaut Ripley (Sigourney Weaver) and others much opportunity to test the famous advertising line, "In space, no one can hear you scream."

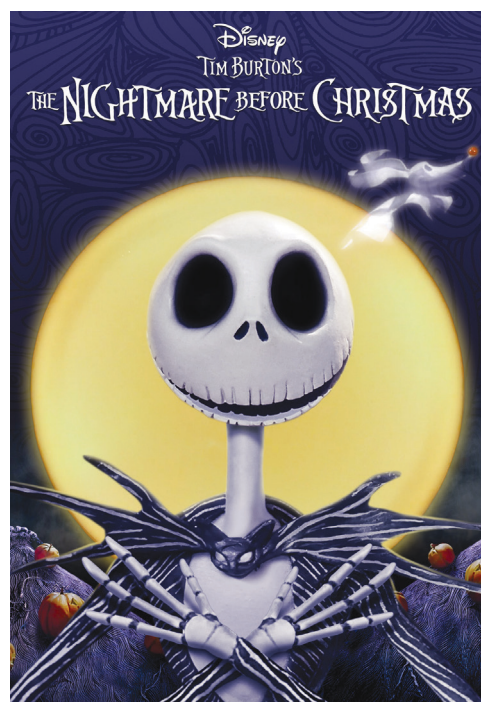

Tyrannosaurus rex: This mighty dinosaur has reared its head (literally) in numerous movies over the years, but one of its most famous appearances surely was in "Jurassic Park" (1993), with the movie technology of the time making the cloned creature incredibly and scarily realistic.

This season, the series dives into the history of the Haunted Mansion, the Pirates of the Caribbean, how The Twilight Zone Tower of Terror transformed into Guardians of the Galaxy – Mission: Breakout! and more. “The Buccaneers” - Season 1 (Apple TV+ — Nov. 8, Series Premiere)

Inspired by Pulitzer Prize-winning author Edith Wharton's unfinished final novel of the same name, this series follows a group of fun-loving young American girls as they explode into the tightly corseted London season of the 1870s, kicking off an Anglo-American culture clash as the land of the stiff upper lip is infiltrated by a refreshing disregard for centuries of tradition. Sent to secure husbands and titles, the buccaneers' hearts are set on much more than that, and saying “I do” is just the beginning.

A real "Fantasy": Malcolm McDowell played Mr. Roarke

Q: Seeing Malcolm McDowell on "Son of a Critch" has made me think that I saw him play Mr. Roarke on a version of "Fantasy Island." Am I right? – Stan Phillips, via e-mail

A: You are. The McDowell-starring 1998-99 ABC variation on the theme was the second pass at the concept about guests flying to an island to have their fantasies fulfilled, though typically with twists they didn't expect. While McDowell assumed the role that Ricardo Montalban originated, initial assistant Tattoo (who had been played by Herve Villechaize) was replaced by Ariel (Madchen Amick), an elderly woman who was able to adopt different appearances ... including her most frequent one that made her look much younger. McDowell's "Fantasy Island" lasted only a half-season, but it wasn't the last stand for the premise. It inspired a 2020 feature film, one of the last movies to get a wide release before the coronavirus pandemic, with Michael Pena starring as Mr. Roarke (and Lucy Hale and Maggie Q among those playing guests). Then in 2021, Fox launched another "Fantasy Island" series led by Roselyn Sanchez as Elena Roarke, who was a grand niece of Mr. Roarke (Montalban's incarnation, since the update – which ran for two seasons – was linked in certain ways to the very first version of the show).

Q: When I watched the Adam Sandler movie "Big Daddy," I saw that it said, "Introducing Dylan and Cole Sprouse as Julian." Was that the same Cole Sprouse who played Jughead on "Riverdale"? – Amy Strand, Joliet, Ill.

A: Yes. He worked with his twin brother Dylan a number of times when they were starting their careers, and they had shared the role of Patrick Kelly on TV's "Grace Under Fire" earlier. Cole also played Ross's (David Schwimmer) son Ben on "Friends," and he was Cody in the popular show "The Suite Life of Zack & Cody." After doing more TV work principally for Disney Channel, he portrayed Jughead throughout the seven seasons of "Riverdale," which ended its run on The CW recently.
