GIVING SPIRIT

ON FRIDAY, DEC. 1, MADISON HARRIS DONATED COATS THROUGH HER PROJECT 'WARM EMBRACE.' EVAN NEWTON | THE COVINGTON NEWS

Harris donates coats to those in need

By EVAN NEWTON
News Editor

Birthday wishlists for first graders often include toys or video games, which seem to be typical items for children that age.

But Madison Harris is no typical first grader.

On Friday, Dec. 1, Madison — along with the help of friends and family — donated 46 coats using her birthday money. The coats went to children in need at Live Oak Elementary School.

Sanjane Harris, the first grader's mom, discovered her daughter's giving spirit when Madison asked her a question one day while heading to school.

"I remember one morning she asked me, 'Mommy, if God provides for me, why doesn't he provide for the other kids who don't have [anything]?' " Sanjane said.

At the time Madison asked this question, she was just 4 years old, which stunned Sanjane even more of her daughter's selflessness.

"I didn't think she'd have the intellect to ask me such questions, but ever since then she's had the passion [of giving]," Sanjane said. "She doesn't understand why other kids don't have the things that she has."

That passion for giving would later turn into the project known as "Warm Embrace."

A Warm Embrace from Madison

The project "Warm Embrace" started when Madison — a first grade student at the Newton County STEAM Academy — approached her parents about what she wanted to do with the birthday money she had just received.

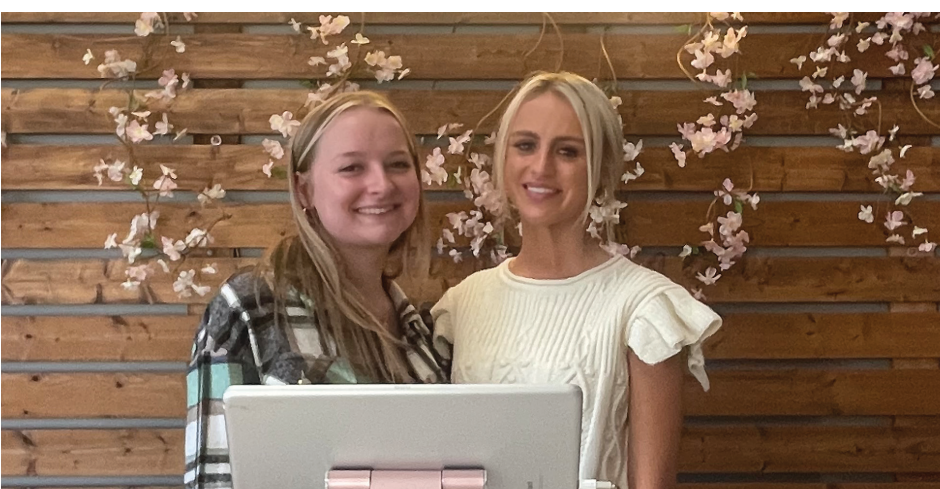

Madison's first wish was to host a medicine drive at her family's home. When that did not pan out, Madison then pivoted to donating coats for her peers in need. Speculating about this, Madison's mother asked her how she was going to accomplish this.

"I asked her [Madison], 'Where are you going to get the money?' and she said she was going to use her birthday money and the gift cards she got for her birthday to do this," Sanjane said. "It just really warmed my heart that she can, at such an early age, acknowledge that amongst her peers there is a need."

Touched by the selflessness of Madison, Sanjane reached out to Madison's godmother, Fay Salmon — the owner of EJB Senior Daycare — for extra guidance on how to accomplish this.

New boutique in Covington aims to make people feel 'worthy'

By EVAN NEWTON
News Editor

From the spare bedroom in her parents' house to a full fledged business, Covington native Haley Ellis is bringing her dreams to reality.

Ellis is the founder of Worthy Clothing Co., a boutique right here in downtown Covington that sells women's clothing, shoes and accessories.

The store is filled with modern, trendy clothes, but with a particular feel and style that caters to a multitude of fashion styles.

One thing that stands out upon entering the store is a bright sign behind the counter that says "Flawed & Still Worthy." This motto is especially important to Ellis, signifying the meaning behind the entire business.

"I have 'Flawed and Still Worthy' [as the slogan] because everyone has flaws which means you're not less worthy of anything," Ellis said. "I want [people] to have a positive outlook on boutiques and be very welcoming [to everyone]."

Ellis is a lifelong resident of Covington, graduating from Eastside High School in 2020. With a passion for fashion and the

NCSS hosts breakfast to relaunch Newton Education Foundation

STAFF REPORT

NEWTON COUNTY — Newton Education Foundation (NEF) celebrated its relaunch Tuesday morning by hosting a welcome breakfast for Dr. Duke Bradley III, recently appointed superintendent of the Newton County School System (NCSS).

Following the breakfast, a ribbon cutting officially marked the relationship between the foundation and NCSS.

NEF will relaunch its efforts with the "All in for Kids" campaign, which is a fundraising effort to help Newton County schools remove obstacles to learning, expand educational opportunities and support teachers in meeting the needs of all students.

Gail Rothman was recently hired as interim executive director of NEF to help with the relaunch, too. She has prior experience in education foundation.

“We look forward to building a strong partnership with Newton County Schools under the visionary leadership of Dr. Duke Bradley III, and to engaging individuals, small businesses and industry to come together in support of students,” Rothman said. “Our aim is to ensure that every corner of Newton County sees the foundation as a game-changer for the schools and the students.”

Bradley shared his thoughts on NEF’s relaunch as well.

“Education is the key to unlocking the true potential of every child, and the Newton Education Foundation plays a vital role by providing crucial resources to our schools,” Bradley said. “The foundation understands that educating children is a shared responsibility – and that when residents and businesses invest in the next generation, we can empower our students to succeed and create a brighter future.”

One of the original founders of NEF, Loucy Hay said it is an “exciting time for the foundation.”

“After 14 years of providing grants to Newton County Schools, we are ready to take the foundation to the next level by expanding our base of support and funding larger strategic initiatives,” Hay said. “We know that great schools build great communities.”

Founded in 2009 and based in Covington, The Newton Education Foundation is an independent non-profit that puts community resources to work for children so they can achieve academic and personal success by removing obstacles, providing opportunities that deepen learning, supporting teachers and strengthening community initiatives.

The “All in for Kids” Campaign has a goal of raising $50,000 by year-end and identifying volunteers to help with a variety of initiatives and campaigns. backing of a solid support system, Ellis decided to follow her dream and opened Worthy in 2021.

After months of online sales only, the business took a leap forward when Worthy moved into its first physical location in downtown Madison.

This experience was a bit daunting for Ellis – who was just 20 years old at the time – but a rewarding one that taught her how to properly run a business.

“It was pretty wild because I am so young so I was having to figure out how to do everything and run a business at the same time,” Ellis said. “But without the help of my mom I really wouldn’t have been able to do everything because she is a business woman and with her leadership it’s really helped me become a good boss and help my store become successful. It was hard but with a lot of work, it was good.”

Worthy remained in Madison for just over a year, gaining experience and mastering how to run a boutique of her own.

But for Ellis, Madison did not feel like home. That feeling only resided in Covington.

“I just didn’t feel like that [Madison] was home because I wanted my hometown [Covington] to be my home,” Ellis said.

On Oct. 26, Worthy made the official announcement that the store would be leaving the Madison location and moving to Covington.

Within weeks, Ellis and her team moved the store at a rapid pace, opening for the first time at the Lighting of the Square event on Nov. 16.

Now with a team of three other employees, the store is open for all patrons to come.

Worthy will have its “grand re-opening party” on Friday Dec. 8 from 4:30-7 p.m. at 1108 Clark St. Refreshments, giveaways, discounts and more will be offered at the event.

As a business owner in her hometown, Ellis is looking forward to the support that will come from being back home as opposed to anywhere else.

“I have a good support system in Covington... a hometown feel,” Ellis said. “Covington really wants to give back to the people who open stores and run businesses.”

Salmon then referred the family to Newton County District 3 commissioner Alana Sanders, who has a background in community welfare.

Together, along with administration from the Newton County STEAM Academy and Live Oak Elementary, the team formed the project “Warm Embrace,” which would provide children in need at Live Oak with coats for the winter season.

Everything culminated in a presentation of the coats last Friday to Live Oak Elementary principal Dr. Tiffany Richardson.

“We have several students here that need coats,” Richardson said. “They come in and have on shorts, they have not had coats and they need them, so we thank you.”

Sanders spoke highly of Madison during the presentation, giving the young leader some advice to take with her throughout her life.

“At your age I wasn’t thinking about giving [away] my birthday money. I was thinking about going to Toys R Us,” Sanders said. “I appreciate all that you are doing. Don’t stop, be giving and I’m very thankful to your parents for producing you because you are an amazing young lady.”

Also showing support to Madison was Xeron Pledger, the director of external affairs for Congressman Hank Johnson. Pledger delivered a message to Madison on behalf of Georgia’s 4th Congressional District representative.

“He feels as though you are an extension of him serving people at a very young age,” Pledger said. “He’s grateful to have someone like you in the district. He says hello from Washington D.C. and thank you very much.”

Madison was a bit shy during the proceedings, but offered some insight as to the reasoning behind the donation. The answer was quite simple.

“Because nobody has jackets,” Madison said.

And now that kids have those jackets that they need, Madison had only one word to describe how she was feeling – “Good.”

A Lasting Impact

The generosity of Madison has the potential to leave a lasting impact for years to come.

Sanders said that the generosity of Madison will show a large scale impact on the community as a whole.

“It impacts the community because it shows that somebody has a kind heart and [is] a giver,” Sanders said. “With someone this young of an age doing this, it sets an example for us adults for what we’re not doing.”

The commissioner also hopes that this is just the start of what is to come.

“What she’s doing is going to affect other kids and other people to be able to give, especially during this holiday season,” Sanders said. “There’s kids living in their cars that don’t have [things they need]. This starts the giving process and it tells me as a public servant and elected official that we need to be doing more and figure out how we get these kids out of their cars.”

As the fight to change at a larger scale continues, Madison and her family take comfort in their belief that Madison is making an impact.

It started on Friday when 46 children were granted access to coats that were not available to them before.

Sanjane, in particular, takes pride in the work that Madison has done early in her life.

“I am beyond proud of her,” Sanjane said. “Not only does she have a big heart of giving, she is excelling beyond standards in school, she is a part of girl scouts and she is also in karate. She has a really packed schedule, and to do this I am just... at a loss for words.”

Willey honored for entrepreneurship

news@covnews.com

University of North Georgia (UNG) senior Krista Willey was named Student Woman Entrepreneur of the Year by the Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation in the Mike Cottrell College of Business in a ceremony on Oct. 25 in the Cottrell Center for Business, Technology and Innovation at UNG's Dahlonega Campus.

Taylor Merritt, '15, was recognized as the Alumna Woman Entrepreneur of the Year. Merritt is CEO of Daddy Tay Fitness, a company she founded in 2022.

Willey is from Covington.

Willey, who is pursuing a degree in visual arts, was nominated by senior lecturer Dr. Ana Pozzi Harris, who taught her art history course.

Willey created two businesses, KWilley Pottery and Customs by Krista as a sophomore at UNG. She was inspired by the surge of "Vampire Diaries" fans visiting her hometown of Covington, Georgia, also the show's filming location.

Willey recalled working in UNG's ceramics studio, when she learned of her achievement on Oct. 20.

"I was so shocked and honored to be nominated," Willey said. "I thought for sure it would go to someone in the entrepreneurship program. To me, winning is a reflection of the Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation wanting to see artists succeed, and I love that."

Willey said she is excited to encourage her peers to try something new with the hope of similar outcomes.

Set to graduate in the spring, Willey is looking to pursue a master's degree in fine arts, focusing on her passion for ceramics.

"These women exemplify the creativity, determination and innovativeness that women entrepreneurs bring to the table. Krista and Taylor have not only excelled in their respective fields but also serve as role models, inspiring others to pursue their entrepreneurial dreams," said Dr. Mariangela Vecchiarini-Piazza, assistant professor of management.

Merritt earned her bachelor's degree in biology from UNG in the preprofessional pathway of pre-physical therapy. The entrepreneur was also a member of the 2015 UNG national championship softball team.

That team was inducted into the UNG Athletics Hall of Fame in 2021. She felt this award was an honor to receive.

"UNG taught me how to work harder, learn, lead, and achieve. UNG changed my life and will live in my heart forever," Merritt said. "Thank you to the entrepreneurship program and to those who are pursuing your passion with purpose."

NCSS Wins 2023 GSBA Leading Edge Award for Girls Coding Initiative

SPECIAL PHOTO

Newton County School System (NCSS) proudly announced its recognition as a recipient of the 2023 Leading Edge Award from the Georgia School Boards Association (GSBA) in honor of its Girls Coding Initiative. This award was presented to NCSS Superintendent, Dr. Duke Bradley, III, and School Board Chair, Shakila Henderson-Baker, by representatives from GSBA at the GSBA/GSSA (Georgia School Superintendents Association) Annual Conference in Atlanta.

Dr. Jennifer Williams, NCSS Director of Instructional Technology and Media Services, highlighted the origin of the Girls Coding Initiative.

"The initiative, which originated in 2015 as a small club at one school, quickly evolved into the NCSS InspiHER Code Like a Girl program in 2016, aiming to reach a wider audience of girls," Williams said.

Williams emphasized the program's impact.

"Through the InspiHER program, girls across the district actively participate in coding and technology-related activities. Additionally, they are invited to the annual InspiHER Code Like a Girl conference, specifically tailored to the needs of Newton County students," Williams said.

The conference featured keynote speakers and up to four learning sessions, covering diverse topics such as Coding Robots with Dash and Dot, Producing Music with Amazon Music, and Creating Digital Games with Microsoft. Attendees, highly engaged throughout, acquire new skills fostering innovation and creativity.

Leaders and experts in STEM and computer science, including in-house presenters like Williams and guest speakers from Amazon and the Georgia Department of Education, contribute to the conference. Students also engage in meaningful discussions and collaborative activities based on innovative lessons, presentations and conference messages.

Williams emphasized the program's significance.

"Research underscores the gender gap in computer science, with only 24 percent of computer scientists being women. Moreover, interest in computer science declines significantly after fourth grade. Our Girls Coding Initiative is pivotal in addressing this gap, providing opportunities for female students to explore and excel in these fields," Williams said.

Dr. Shelia Thomas, Chief Strategy and Support Services Officer, highlighted the broader impact of technology education.

"Newton County School System is committed to enhancing students' achievement in science, literacy, and math. Studies show that learning technology and coding improve both hard skills, such as computational thinking, writing, and problem-solving, and soft skills, like collaboration and communication."

"InspiHER participants not only acquire a diverse skill set but also gain hands-on experiences, aligning with our school system's vision that 'all students will be well-rounded and prepared for the future.'"

"We are immensely proud to receive the 2023 Leading Edge Award from the Georgia School Boards Association for our Girls Coding Initiative," Henderson-Baker said. "This recognition is a testament to the dedication of the team of educators who established the InspiHER Code Like a Girl program, the enthusiasm of our students, and the forward-thinking approach of Newton County School System."

"The Girls Coding Initiative not only empowers our female students to excel in technology and coding but also embodies our commitment to providing a well-rounded education that prepares all students for the future. We appreciate the support of the Georgia School Boards Association and look forward to continuing our efforts to inspire and equip the next generation of innovators in Newton County."

Let's slow down this holiday season

NOTE: This column ran last year around Christmas time and I think it is still applicable to the 2023 holiday season.

Have you ever been running late for work one morning and got caught behind a red light at a busy intersection? You're sitting and waiting for that light to change to green, and it feels like the clock in your car is going 10 times faster.

All while you're sitting there, you're becoming more anxious to start back going toward your workplace that you're late to. And finally, the light turns green and you speedily take off from the intersection and start heading to work.

On the ride, you're not focused on watching the scenery around you. You're not singing along to a song playing or anything. You're just focused on getting to your destination.

That is what I believe our society is dealing with now.

Not too long ago, the COVID-19 pandemic came and halted everything we thought we were able to do. From going shopping, to hanging out with friends or attending a sporting event, all of our lives were, in a sense, quarantined.

That's the red light we were stopped at for a while that seemed like it would never change to green for us to go.

It's like we're making up for lost time or something now.

We as a society hardly ever take time to slow down and enjoy every moment. We've seemed to have forgotten the lesson COVID-19 taught us that life is so precious and we should cherish everything and every person in our lives.

We're in the middle of the Christmas season, and that has become more evident with people racing around and rushing to get things done. I would even dare to say that visiting with family and friends this time of year has the feeling of an item we need to check off our to-do list.

I encourage each one of us — whether what I'm saying here applies to you or not — let's be intentional with our Christmas season festivities. When we ask someone how they're doing, let us not do it as a conversation starter, but let's have meaning behind it. When we visit with family, sit down, relax and look around you at the many blessings we all have.

We all have a lot to be thankful for this Christmas season and, if we slow down and enjoy this time of year more, I guarantee that we'll all have more joy than any gift can temporarily give us.

Let us not take anything for granted.

With that said, on behalf of our coverage team here at The Covington News, I want to wish all of Newton County and its community members a Merry Christmas! I pray God blesses each one of you with a wonderful time with your families.

And, remember, Jesus is the reason for the season. God bless!

An Awakening on the Subject of Sleep Deprivation

You never know what you are going to discover in the process of churning out columns. And, of course, I have an obligation to share with you any new and exciting developments, hoping that at your next cocktail party or church social, you can dazzle the crowd by quoting a factoid you found on these pages and see the look on their faces.

I have just read a report that the Great State of Georgia is the second most sleep-deprived state in the U.S. This information is courtesy of the medical marijuana experts at Leafwell.com, a company that provides advice on the medical use of cannabis, i.e. marijuana. ( I did not inhale while reading this report.)

The study examined the average nightly sleep duration in all 50 states and the number of searches by state for more than 90 sleep-related terms on the Internet such as, "insomnia," "lack of sleep" and "I can't sleep." The report doesn't say so but I'm wondering if one of the searches was, "How did someone with a clipboard and a stopwatch get in my bedroom?"

By the way, Georgia's most searched for sleep-related term on the Internet was "sleep music" with an average of 4,442 searches per month. Let me suggest to our local insomniacs that they simply click on "Ray Charles Robinson, of Albany, Georgia sings 'Georgia on my Mind.'" If that won't send you to dreamland, you likely aren't from around these parts.

The report says that Hawaii is the most sleep-deprived state of all. That doesn't surprise me. Mother Nature has not been kind to Hawaiians. A wildfire in Lahaina on the island of Maui last August killed at least 97 people and damaged or destroyed more than 2,000 structures. Now, the area is facing the potential of flash flooding and the possibility of toxic runoff into the ocean. These good people have every right to keep one eye open at night.

But what in the name of Rip Van Winkle makes Georgia the second most sleep-deprived state in the nation? The Leafwell.com people say that a short sleep duration is prevalent in 38.2 percent of the state's population. According to my trusty abacus, that's almost 4 out of 10 of us. That also means that more than 6 out of 10 of us hit the pillow each night and go lights out.

That was the beloved Woman Who Shared My Name. You had better have told her "good night" as her head was heading downward because when it reached her pillow, she was gone. I was one of the four who stayed awake all night, trying to figure out how she could go to sleep so effortlessly.

Before you ask, South Dakota is the least sleep-deprived state in the nation. Not sur-

Celebrating the good in each party

Whenever possible, I try to celebrate the good I see in each party. If we're ever to heal any of our wounds, we must always seek common ground.

I applaud President Biden for his support of Israel. I wish he would do more, especially since US soldiers have been attacked over 74 times in the past few weeks, but I know he is walking a fine political line with many in his own base.

I also applaud Senator Chuck Schumer's recent speech, which called out the hatefulness of antisemitic protestors.

"While the dead bodies of Jewish Israelis were still warm, while hundreds of Jewish Israelis were being carried as hostages back to Hamas tunnels under Gaza, Jewish Americans were alarmed to see some of our fellow citizens characterize a brutal terrorist attack as justified because of the actions of the Israeli government. A vicious, bloodcurdling, premeditated massacre of innocent men, women, children, the elderly—justified!"

"Even worse, in some cases, people even celebrated what happened, describing it as the deserved fate of "colonizers" and calling for "glory to the martyrs" who carried out these heinous attacks."

Did you know that many of the key founding members of the NAACP were Jewish? Jews are famous for standing up for the rights of all minorities. Imagine his sense of betrayal when he lamented, "Liberal Jewish Americans...are the ideological fellow travelers" of Leftists who were now calling for the extermination of Jews. "Not long ago, many of us marched together for black and brown lives, we stood against anti-Asian hatred, we protested bigotry against the LGBTQ community...recognizing that injustice against one oppressed group, is injustice against all."

"But apparently, that principle does not extend to the Jewish people."

Indeed, there is a mountain of eye-witness, video, and physical evidence (all provided by Hamas itself), that Hamas systematically uses rape as a weapon of war.

So...why does the Left remain silent?

"It is not that condemnations of gender-based violence by Hamas have been weak or insufficient," writes a column in Newsweek, "there have been none at all."

Where is the "Me Too" movement? Where is "UN Women"? Where is "NOW"? Organizations designed to protect women, still refuse to condemn Hamas for raping and murdering of Jewish women.

For that matter, where is Kamala Harris, the very first female Vice President of the United States? Her silence is deafening.

Schumer then recounted some of the massive antisemitic pogroms throughout history, especially those in Russia, Nazi Germany, the Spanish Inquisition, and the 800,000 Jews who were expelled from Arab nations after WWII. He reminded us that Israel offered the Palestinians a

Two-State Solution five different times. He also pointed out that Israel welcomed Arabs to stay in Israel with full Israeli citizenship. "But the Arab nations instead sanctioned the United Nations to set up refugee camps for the Palestinians, refusing to accept the possibility that any of them would ever be relocated."

Georgia Power announced today that Trey Kilpatrick has been named senior vice president of External Affairs, effective January 15, 2024. Kilpatrick's experience serving Georgians makes him well-suited for his new role with Georgia Power where he will lead the company's strategy and engagement in economic development, legislative and regulatory affairs, region external affairs and corporate communication. Currently, Kilpatrick serves as Chief of Staff for Governor Brian Kemp's Office. In this role, he has played an integral part in state government and working with community, civic and business leaders across Georgia. He joined Governor Kemp's administration in 2020 after 10 years serving the citizens of Georgia through the office of U.S. Senator Johnny Isakson in various roles, including deputy chief of staff, senior advisor, political director, state director and campaign manager. Prior to his time with Isakson, Kilpatrick was a vice president for Morgan Keegan & Co. Inc., an Atlanta-based investment firm. "Trey has an obvious passion for helping Georgia grow and thrive, serving all of its citizens, and making our communities better - that's a passion he and all of us at Georgia Power share," said Kim Greene, president, chairman and CEO of Georgia Power. "He has a deep knowledge of our state and incredible insight into the diverse needs of Georgians and the companies that do business here. We look forward to working with him to shape how we continue engaging with and supporting our customers, state and local leaders, and communities to ensure we're meeting their current and future needs. We welcome him to Georgia Power."

Kilpatrick has been actively involved in initiatives focused on continuing the historic growth in Georgia and making the state a place where people want to live and do business. This has included helping Georgia's ports thrive, strengthening rural Georgia, as well as strong economic development activities that have brought thousands of jobs to the state. He will succeed Meredith Lackey, who has been named Chief Compliance Officer for Southern Company. Kilpatrick serves on the boards of the Georgia Ports Authority and the Bobby Jones Golf Course Foundation, and he was part of Leadership Georgia's Class of 2020. Kilpatrick is a graduate of the University of Georgia and resides in Atlanta with his wife and three children.

Raffensperger Cautions Against Charity Scams During Holidays

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
news@covnews.com

ATLANTA — International Charity Fraud Awareness Week ("ICFAW") brings together charities across the world and the agencies that regulate them in a collaborative social media campaign to raise awareness of issues surrounding charity fraud, cybercrime and best practices. It is coordinated by an advisory panel and led by a coalition of over 40 charities, regulators, law enforcers, representative and umbrella bodies, and other not-for-profit stakeholders whose goal is to raise awareness and share best practices in tackling fraud and cybercrime. The continued focus this year are the issues facing charities, and Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger is raising awareness against fake charitable organizations during International Charity Fraud Awareness Week. The Charities Division has a duty to protect donors from financial exploitation. However, in recent years, the Division has seen that charitable organizations themselves are becoming victims of fraud. This is when someone knowingly impersonates a charity in order to deceive people into "donating" to this fake charity. They can do this by creating an organization that has a name very, very similar to yours and pretending to be a legitimate charity. "Charitable organizations in Georgia do amazing work serving the public," said Secretary Raffensperger. "Unfortunately, unscrupulous entities take advantage of the trust Georgians have in these organizations. The efforts led by our Charities Division help Georgians look out for fraudulent organizations and help protect the integrity of charitable organizations." Ensuring that charitable donations go directly to reputable and legitimate charities is a critical concern. The Charities Division has tips and best practices to help protect both the donors and the charitable organizations that serve the public. Visit our website here for more information. If you suspect a suspicious solicitation or suspect your charity has been compromised, call our Charities Division at the Georgia Secretary of State and/or the FTC and/or law enforcement. The Charities Division encourages Georgians and to contact division staff if they receive suspicious solicitations. To report suspicious activity, call (470) 312-2640 or email charities@sos.ga.gov to help #stopcharityfraud.

That is why there is a war today. Israel took in the Arabs who chose to stay. But the Arab nations surrounding Israel - like Lebanon, Syria, Egypt, and Jordan - refused to take in the Arabs who chose to leave. Finally, he heard back to pre-Nazi Germany. "German Jews were one of the most secure and prosperous ethnic communities in Europe. But in the span of a decade, all of that changed." "This is why many Jewish people worry about the marches today...we are worried—quite naturally, given the twists and turns of history—about where these actions and sentiments could eventually lead." Which led him to a very sad truth: Throughout history, Jews have never been able to count on the governments of countries they live in to protect them. That is why they need a nation of their own. "All Jewish Americans carry in them the scar tissue of this generational trauma...Can you understand why Jewish people feel isolated when we hear some praise Hamas and chant its vicious slogan? Can you blame us for feeling vulnerable only 80 years after Hitler wiped out half of the Jewish population across the world while many countries turned their back?" "Because the long arc of Jewish history teaches us a lesson that is hard to forget: ultimately, that we are alone." Dave Belton is a former state representative for District 112, which includes portions of Morgan and Newton counties, in the Georgia House of Representatives.

prising. What else is there to do in South Dakota but sleep? Shovel snow? Another interesting note about the Leafwell.com report: It is one of the few times in any state rankings on any subject where Arkansas and Mississippi aren't dead last or close to it. In this particular survey, Mississippi ranks 29th and Arkansas 32nd in sleep deprivation. This is a good indication that the locals don't lose a lot of sleep worrying about being last or close to it in most every state ranking published. As for why we are so sleep-deprived here in Georgia, I can only surmise it is brought on by a case of guilt. We lie awake at night wondering why we have it so good compared to other states. For example, our state has a budget surplus today of over $5 billion. By contrast, California is running a $541 billion deficit and they are only the 12th most sleep-deprived state. Go figure. We are blessed to have the Blue Ridge Mountains to the north and the Golden Isles to the south. We've got all the pecans we can eat. And plenty of sweet tea. The nation's oldest state-chartered university. Brasstown Bald and the Callaway Gardens Butterfly Center. Shrimp and grits. Movie studios. Our cup runneth over. Maybe knowing all of this will help you sleep better tonight. I want you sharp for your next cocktail party or church social so that when somebody drones on about the economy or the weather, you can jump in and inform them that according to medical marijuana experts, there are more sleepy people in Rhode Island than in South Carolina. And then watch the look on their faces. I get drowsy just thinking about it. You can reach Dick Yarbrough at dick@dickyarbrough.com or at P.O. Box 725373, Atlanta, Georgia 31139.

NOTE: The Covington News Athlete Alumni Check-In is a space to highlight former Newton County student athletes while also providing updates on where they are in their respective careers.

Robert Lewis, Alysee Dobbs and Jamel Johnson are the three athletes featured in this week's edition.

Robert Lewis

Lewis was part of Newton's 2019 graduation class and is a current wide receiver for the Georgia State Panthers football program.

The redshirt junior finished the year as the Panthers' leading receiver and made the Biletnikoff Award watch list. Lewis finished 2023 with a spot on the All-Sun Belt Third Team.

As each of his seasons have gone by, Lewis' targets, receptions, yards and touchdowns have increased.

Lewis ended his 2023 campaign with 70 receptions for 877 yards and seven touchdowns.

On Sep. 16, Lewis had a career day against Charlotte.

Against the 49ers, Lewis hurled in six passes for 220 yards and two touchdowns. The 220 yards is a Georgia State record.

On Dec. 1, Lewis announced on X (formerly Twitter) that he plans on entering the transfer portal. Since the announcement, Lewis has publicized offers from Auburn, Cincinnati, Liberty, Indiana and Eastern Carolina.

Alysee Dobbs

Dobbs graduated from Eastside as part of the class of 2020.

In her senior season, Dobbs became the first member of the Lady Eagles basketball program to reach the 1,000-point club.

Dobbs is currently a senior on the Truett McConnell women's basketball team.

After averaging 6.7 points in her sophomore season, Dobbs' game elevated in her junior year.

Dobbs averaged 15.8 points per game in 2022 while playing 686 minutes over the span of 23 games (averaging 28.9 minutes a game).

In 2023, Dobbs has started seven of the Bears' nine games so far.

In the fourth game of the season, Dobbs had a career high in points and three pointers.

Against Bluefield, Dobbs' 23 points led the Bears in their 75-66 win.

Jamel Johnson

Johnson graduated from Alcovy in 2022, and was a key part of the team that brought home the first region title in Tigers' history.

Following his senior season, Johnson committed to Charleston Southern University, where he started at defensive back.

Following his 2023 season, Johnson was awarded as an FCS All-American to go along with a spot on the Second Team Big South Conference.

In the stat sheet, Johnson finished with 58 tackles to go along with four interceptions, nine pass deflections and one forced fumble.

Johnson started every game for the Buccaneers in 2023.

On Dec. 1, Johnson announced on X that he would be entering the transfer portal with two years of eligibility left.

RIVALRY CONTINUED FROM A8

Jernigan grabbed an offensive rebound and put it back in late in the quarter to give Alcovy a 31-25 lead going into halftime.

With one more half left to play, the game stayed close.

Halfway through the third quarter, the Eagles took the lead back. Five different Eastside players found the basket in the third frame, giving the Eagles life.

Late in the quarter, key blocks from Alcovy on the defensive end allowed them to grab a 41-37 lead going into the final frame.

To start the final eight minutes, Eastside tied it on a three pointer from Trebor Edwards.

The two teams played close for the final quarter before the Tigers escaped with a three-point win.

Johnson led the Eagles in scoring with 19 points.

For the Tigers, Durham's 17 points led the way.

The win moves the Tigers to 5-2 on the year following back-to-back region losses to Jonesboro and Woodward Academy.

"We have tough and talented kids — they have really run through a gauntlet this week," Jackson said. "We played No. 5 Jonesboro Tuesday and No. 2 Woodward Academy Thursday. We were in those games at halftime, but we had some things go haywire in the third. We just learned from them. Eastside kept on making a push but our guys kept on coming back and we are getting there."

The Tigers will be back at home for a Region 3-AAAAAA matchup with Rockdale County Tuesday, Dec. 5.

Eastside's loss moves them to 2-2 on the year. Randolph and the Eagles will begin their region slate Friday, Dec. 8 against Loganville.

Lady Eagles vs Lady Tigers

The Lady Eagles earned their fourth consecutive win Saturday afternoon with a 71-33 rout of the Lady Tigers.

For Eastside, it was about capitalizing on Alcovy's mistakes while limiting ones of its own.

From the first quarter onward, it accomplished just that as the Lady Tigers struggled to hold onto the ball.

Turnovers led to Alcovy going scoreless through the first three minutes of Saturday's game. By the time the Lady Tigers put the ball in the hoop for the first time, they trailed 6-1.

The mistakes lingered into the second quarter for the Lady Tigers as bad passes and miscues on the dribble allowed the Lady Eagles to get more scoring opportunities.

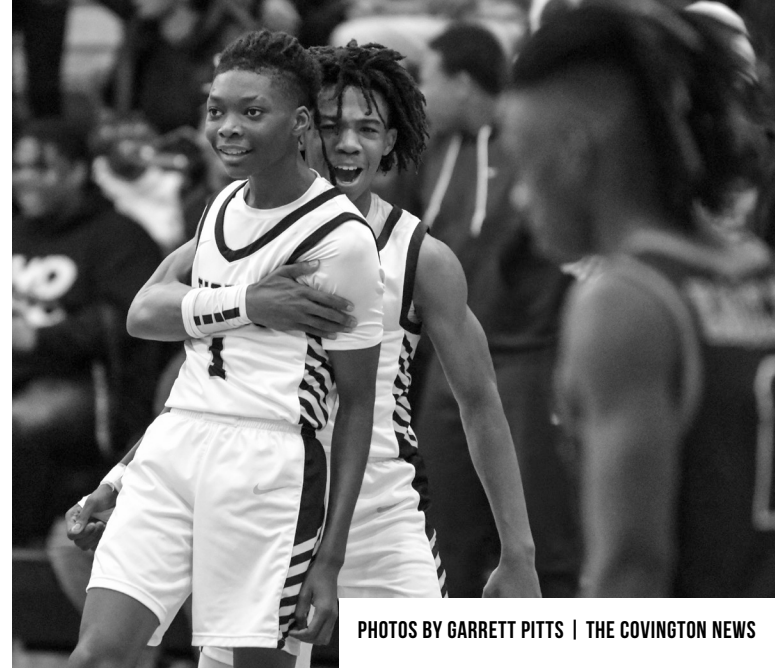

Multiple Eastside players contributed offensively in the first half, leading to a 30-10 advantage for the Lady Eagles going into halftime.

Coming out of the intermission, Donee Morain and Janae Hutcherson took the game over for their respective teams.

Hutcherson's eight points led the Lady Tigers in the frame, while Morain's 16 points allowed Eastside to gain more separation.

Lady Eagles head coach Gladys King had nothing but great things to say about Morian after the game.

"She [Donee] is awesome," King said. "She is tough. She has heart and she is going to give 110 percent every night. It does not matter if she is scoring on the offensive end or she is making up for it on the defensive end."

PHOTOS BY GARRETT PITTS | THE COVINGTON NEWS

Another key area for Eastside was its efficiency on the offensive and defensive rebounds.

King knew that the team's effort on defense allowed them an opportunity to take the game over on Saturday.

"Like I told the girls, 'Defense wins ball games,'" King said. "I have told them that we have to pick up our defense. There were a few games earlier in the year where we did not play good defense — we just traded baskets with teams. Tonight, toning down on our turnovers forced theirs."

After scoring 22 points in the third quarter, Eastside put up another 19 in the final frame to defeat Alcovy.

Morain's 24 points led the Lady Eagles in their win. For Alcovy, Hutcherson led the way with 13 points.

The win moves the Lady Eagles to a 4-1 record on the year. Eastside will be back in action for its region opener Friday, Dec. 8 versus the Loganville Lady Red Devils.

For the Lady Tigers, the loss drops them down to 2-4 on the year with a 0-2 record in Region 3-AAAAAA. Alcovy will return region play Tuesday, Dec. 5 against the Rockdale County Lady Bulldogs.

COVINGTON, Ga. — On Saturday, the Eastside Eagles and the Alcovy Tigers took the county rivalry to the hardwood. In the end, it was the Eastside girls team and the Alcovy boys team that came away with victories at Alcovy High.

Eastside Eagles vs Alcovy Tigers

The matchup between the Alcovy and Eastside boys' teams delivered to the final minute.

Ultimately, it was Alcovy that came away with the 55-52 win in its home opener.

As the game remained close as the minutes ticked off, the game came down to the free-throw line.

An offensive foul by the Eagles late allowed Alcovy's Tim Walls to shoot from the free-throw line with a one-point lead.

Walls knocked down one-of-two free throws to make it a three-point game in the final seconds.

On Eastside's next possession, the shot bounced off the rim to put the final touches on Alcovy's narrow victory.

Following the opening tipoff, it was the Eagles that pushed the pace to start the game.

After Eastside moved ahead with a 6-0 lead, Alcovy responded with a trio of three pointers from Andre Jernigan and Nick Durham.

From then on, the back and forth game commenced.

Both teams traded baskets throughout the first half as Alcovy's arena began to come to life with the Tigers' student section leading the charge.

Following the game, Alcovy head coach Taylor Jackson was ecstatic with the atmosphere of the Tigers' first home game of the season.

"It was so much fun, and it is going to keep on improving," Jackson said, "We have a huge one Tuesday, I expect a lot of people here to watch us play Rockdale. It was huge for us to play in front of that crowd in a high pressure environment."

Durham gave the Tigers separation in the second quarter.

The junior guard knocked down three shots from the perimeter on his way to a 10-point frame.

For the Eagles, Jayvon Johnson controlled the pace for head coach Dorrian Randolph's team.

Johnson's 12 points led Eastside through the first two quarters.

With the Eagles gaining momentum,

EASTSIDE MIA MOSTEK

MOSTEK SIGNS TO PLAY SOCCER AT EMMANUEL

By GARRETT PITTS
Sports Editor

Eastside's Mia Mostek signed the dotted line Friday morning, penning her NLI to play soccer at Emmanuel University.

The signing took place in Eastside's auditorium, where Mostek sat alongside her family as her friends and teammates were seated in the crowd.

Before it was official, Eagles' athletic director, Champ Young, spoke about Mostek's adversity throughout her Eastside soccer career.

In her junior year, Mostek suffered a torn ACL in September 2022, sidelining her season.

Following words from Young, Mostek took a moment to thank her family, coaches and teammates.

With the signing completed, Mostek still could not believe it was possible after what she endured in her junior season.

"I was really excited and nervous [to sign]," Mostek said. "I did not know it would be this quick signing to college after my knee injury."

Mostek plans to study kinesiology when she makes the trip to Franklin Springs in the fall.

The choice of kinesiology came with the desire to work in occupational therapy.

GARRETT PITTS | THE COVINGTON NEWS

When looking at Emmanuel University, it was the atmosphere of the campus and team that led Mostek to sign.

"I really liked the family environment," Mostek said. "Everyone was very inviting. On the soccer team, all the girls are nice."

With her senior year still ahead, Mostek plans to enjoy every minute of it before she puts on the Lions' uniform.

"I am just ready to go play for fun and enjoy it with my teammates," Mostek said.

Julia Roberts in "Leave the World Behind"

Away from it all: Luxury getaway goes south in 'Leave the World Behind'

A family's stay at a luxurious vacation home is unexpectedly extended due to a mysterious apocalypse in the new thriller "Leave the World Behind," premiering Friday, Dec. 8, on Netflix.

Based on the bestselling 2020 novel of the same name by author Rumaan Alam, the adaptation stars Julia Roberts ("Ticket to Paradise," 2022) and Ethan Hawke ("Moon Knight") as married couple Amanda and Clay Sandford, whose family getaway to Long Island is steered far from the rest and relaxation they expected.

After putting off a much-needed break from their busy day-to-day city life, Amanda tells Clay in the official trailer for the film, "I figured if I made the reservation and packed our bags, it would eliminate most of the reasons to say no." Off they go to a sprawling home near the beach with their two children, teenager Archie (Charlie Evans, "Everything's Gonna Be Okay") and their youngest, Rose (Farrah Mackenzie, "United States of Al").

While Amanda and Clay watch on as their children enjoy the pool and they all begin to settle into their temporary home, the peace and quiet begins feeling eerie. The cable and internet are mysteriously out, but the Sandfords try to make the most of it by pulling out games to pass the time. A knock at the door in the dark of night puts them face to face with two strangers in formal wear.

Mahershala Ali ("Swan Song," 2021) is G.H. Scott, the owner of the home, he explains to the bewildered couple blocking his doorway. This fateful introduction deepens the uneasiness that's beginning to build, when Amanda says to G.H. like an accusation, "This is your house?" G.H., joined by his daughter Ruth (Myha'la, "Industry"), face down their guests until they are eventually let into their home.

Widespread blackouts led the Scotts to flee New York City for their Long Island residence, wanting to wait out the outage away from the panic of the city. Relegated to the basement in-law suite by a forcefully skeptical Amanda, the divide between the two families intensifies.

If Amanda is determined not to make any friends in the apocalypse, her efforts are matched only by gruff contractor Danny, portrayed by Kevin Bacon ("City On a Hill"). Holding his shotgun as a warning in the trailer, Danny sternly tells G.H., "I would do anything to protect my family. What you do is your business." A woman desperately clings to the passenger side door as Clay accelerates away, lost in this unfamiliar beach town, leaving the Sandford and Scott families no choice but to rely on each other for the time being.

All they know for certain is that a country-wide cyberattack has caused sweeping power outages along the East Coast. Confirmed with an "unrecognized emergency warning" blasting bright blue light from the beach home's flat-screen TV, G.H.'s hunch that the seemingly unrelated disasters are connected grows.

"Leave the World Behind" is written and directed by "Mr. Robot" creator Sam Esmail, who spoke with The Hollywood Reporter in October about adapting the novel shortly after it was published during the COVID-19 pandemic. Esmail shared, "It was a crazy time, those early days [of the pandemic], and when I read the book what really resonated for me was this idea that in a moment of crisis, just how easily we could forget our common humanity."

Alam executive produced the film with Tonia Davis ("Rustin," 2023), Daniel M. Stillman ("Eurovision Song Contest: The Story of Fire Saga," 2020), Nick Krishnamurthy and Barack and Michelle Obama ("We the People"). Esmail also shared what it's like to collaborate with the former president and first lady, saying, "They gave notes on everything from the disaster elements to the characters." The director added, "It's a highlight of my career that I got to work with the Obamas. They're some of the most brilliant minds on the planet and I'm really grateful for their involvement."

tonight's PICKS

Jesse Palmer from “Bachelor in Paradise”

Bachelor in Paradise
WSDT 8 p.m.

With attractive people doing attractive things in attractive places, this season finale will give one last chance to the stars and villains of past seasons of “The Bachelor” and “The Bachelorette.” Who will leave hand-in-hand and who will leave crying?

Christmas at the Opry
WXIA 8 p.m.

Hosted by Wynonna Judd, this two-hour musical special includes holiday classics and today's biggest hits performed by some of country music's biggest stars. From Kelly Clarkson to Trace Adkins, Brenda Lee to Mitchell Tenpenny, it's a night of merry magic.

Children Ruin Everything
WPCH 8:30 p.m.

Work is really starting to take its toll with such long days at the office, and Astrid (Meaghan Rath) is beginning to feel that she's missing out on milestone moments with the kids. So she convinces James (Aaron Abrams) that the family needs an adventure.

Christmas Cookie Challenge
FOOD 9 p.m.

Things taste better during the holidays and hosts Ree Drummond and Eddie Jackson ask the four cookie makers to share in the magic of a Christmas road trip with edible two-sided picture postcards. Then, they must make 360-degree Christmas camper vans.

"Under Pressure: The U.S. Women's World Cup Team" (Dec. 12)

This all-access sports documentary miniseries allows audiences to intimately follow the U.S. Women's National Team's players and coaches, and reveal an inside look at the most decorated team in soccer history. Viewers get a first-hand look at the pressure, the euphoria, the joy and the hardships that these world-class athletes experience as they strive to capture their third World Cup title in a row. Issues ranging from injury, criticism and doubt, equal pay, and upholding legacies are all brought to light.

"The Crown" - Season 6, Part 2 (Dec. 14)

A chapter in history comes to a close when Part 2 of this historical drama's final season makes its debut. In Season 6, Prince William (Ed McVey) tries to integrate back into life at Eton in the wake of his mother's death as the monarchy has to ride the wave of public opinion. And, as she reaches her Golden Jubilee, the Queen (Imelda Staunton) reflects on the future of the monarchy with the marriage of Charles (Dominic West) and Camilla (Olivia Williams) and the beginnings of a new Royal fairytale in William and Kate (Meg Bellamy). Elizabeth Debicki also stars.

"Chicken Run: Dawn of the Nugget" (Dec. 15)

This sequel to "Chicken Run," makes its debut. Having pulled off a death-defying escape from Tweedy's farm, Ginger (Thandiwe Newton) has finally found her dream — a peaceful island sanctuary for the whole flock, far from the dangers of the human world. When she and Rocky (Zachary Levi) hatch a little girl called Molly (Bella Ramsey), Ginger's happy ending seems complete. But, back on the mainland, the whole of chicken-kind faces a new and terrible threat. Ginger and the team put their own hard-won freedom at risk — this time, they're breaking in!

"Face to Face with ETA: Conversations with a Terrorist" (Dec. 15)

Hosted by Jordi Évole, this documentary presents an exclusive interview with one of the key figures in the ETA organization: Josu Urrutikoetxea, also known as Josu Ternera. It looks at the terrorist group and some of its more significant moments upon its dissolution in 2018. Almost 50 years after an attack, this conversation helps provide answers to one of the terrorist group's victims.

BEST SEAN CONNERY MOVIES

"Goldfinger" (1964): Most Bond purists concur this is the first 007 screen adventure that has it all, including a deftly balanced Connery performance that blends suave charm and rugged action smoothly.

"The Hill" (1965): The long association of Connery and director Sidney Lumet began with this grueling drama of World War II military prisoners forced to do hard labor.

"The Offence" (1973): Connery's desire to get off the "star" pedestal manifested itself in this gritty police drama, again under Lumet's direction, about a London police detective whose anger goes too far when he interrogates a suspect.

"Murder on the Orient Express" (1974): One of many familiar faces in this great staging of the Agatha Christie mystery, Connery makes his presence known as one of the suspects questioned by Hercule Poirot (Albert Finney).

"The Wind and the Lion" (1975): Connery is superb as a Middle Eastern renegade who invites trouble by kidnapping an American (Candice Bergen).

"The Man Who Would Be King" (1975): Originally envisioned for such stars as Clark Gable and Humphrey Bogart, this John Huston-directed Rudyard Kipling adaptation - which Turner Classic Movies shows Saturday, Sept. 8 - was delayed many years, which was great news for Connery and Michael Caine in playing soldiers of fortune in India.

"Robin and Marian" (1976): Being shown by Turner Classic Movies on Saturday, Dec. 16, this wonderfully mature take on the Robin Hood legend cast Connery opposite Audrey Hepburn (who played, of course, his true love Maid Marian).

"Outland" (1981): Pretty much "High Noon" on another planet, this underrated sci-fi tale features Connery as a lawman who targets a sly profiteer (Peter Boyle).

"The Untouchables" (1987): Oscar came calling for Connery, and deservedly so, for his portrayal of a Chicago beat cop whose street smarts go a long way in helping U.S. Treasury man Eliot Ness (Kevin Costner) take down Al Capone (Robert De Niro).

"The Hunt for Red October" (1990): Connery stepped in for the originally cast Klaus Maria Brandauer in Tom Clancy's tale of a Russian submarine whose captain may be trying to defect, drawing CIA analyst Jack Ryan (Alec Baldwin) into the matter.

"The Rock" (1996): If Connery could make such a great secret agent, why couldn't he make an equally fine criminal on the screen? He could, as he proved in this Jerry Bruckheimer-produced action fest in which he plays a convict sprung to help a bookish FBI agent (Nicolas Cage) thwart a renegade general (Ed Harris) threatening San Francisco, using Alcatraz as a base.

tonight's PICKS

Byron Allen and Jennifer Lucas

CNN Heroes: Sharing the Spotlight
CNN 8 p.m.
Anderson Cooper hosts a look at the philanthropic efforts of athletes Simone Biles, Jeff Gordon, Tony Hawk, Alex Morgan and Kristi Yamaguchi. Biles, the world's most decorated gymnast and a former foster child, works with Friends of the Children.

Byron Allen Presents a Merry Soulful Christmas
WANF 8 p.m.
O' soulful night, the stars are brightly shining! Byron Allen hosts this tribute to Christmas-es past and present as music icons perform holiday music that makes you want to sing along. Grab some hot chocolate, put another log on the fire and enjoy.

Fatal Family Feuds
OXY 9 p.m.
Blood is thicker than water — and it definitely looks that way when it's spilled by family members. When two women are shot dead in a crowded courthouse, detectives find themselves looking at a tough custody battle and a family that will stop at nothing.

tonight's PICKS

Lucy Worsley in “Agatha Christie: Lucy Worsley on the Mystery Queen”

White House Christmas 2023
HGTV 6 p.m.
Every year the White House goes all in celebrating the season with decorations that must be seen to be believed. From the Blue Room tree to the bi-partisan gingerbread house, HGTV gives viewers a rundown of the decorations dazzling America’s first house.

The Elf on the Shelf: Sweet Showdown
FOOD 8 p.m.
It seems the elves are having some trouble with Santa’s sleigh, so Duff needs the teams to create a sleigh design that will blow away Mr. Kringle. The teams then build clever snow forts for a snow-ball fight between judges Kardea Brown and Ashley Holt.

Agatha Christie: Lucy Worsley on the Mystery Queen
WGTV 8 p.m.
In the second of this three-part miniseries, host Lucy Worsley takes a look back on the mystery surrounding Agatha Christie’s shocking disappearance for a few days in 1926 and how it would influence her mental state in the years following.

Holiday Wars
FOOD 9 p.m.
Jeff Mauro warms up the cocoa as cake, sugar and cookie artists team up to create mind-blowing edible holiday displays for judges Shinmin Li and Aarti Sequeira during this new episode. In the end, only one team will sled home with the grand prize.

The Toys That Built America
HIST 9 p.m.
He’s got the world’s most famous laugh and a suit to match. But how did jolly old St. Nick become one of the most beloved figures on Earth? It seems this third-century saint became a symbol of goodwill for all with some creative minds and big brands.

Catfish: The TV Show
MTV 8 p.m.
Genesis met Jerison online 12 years ago and they hit it off, but eventually lost touch. They recently reconnected on Facebook and Genesis is looking forward to a new beginning. But Nev and comedian Percy Rustomji think she is heading for heartbreak.

Season of Light: Christmas With the Tabernacle Choir
WGTV 8 p.m.
If you want to sing along with the numerous festive carols and holiday songs presented here, you'll need to really belt it out as the 500-person Tabernacle Choir is used to bringing down the house at the 21,000-seat Temple Center in Salt Lake City.

The Voice
WXIA 8 p.m.
The live finale is in sight for the remaining competitors in this long-running singing competition. These competitors will need to bring more than their “A” game to impress the judges and the masses, and secure a spot in the final five.

Beat Bobby Flay
FOOD 9 p.m.
The holiday brings out the competitive spirits as Alex Guarnaschelli gets help from Antonia Lofaso, Christian Petroni and Michael Symon for an Italian showdown. These culinary heavyweights celebrate a feast of the seven fishes Bobby will never forget.

sMothered
TLC 10 p.m.
The bond between mothers and daughters is something special, but sometimes, it can go too far for others. This docu-series, now in its fourth season, delves into the everyday lives of some extremely over-dependent mother-and-daughter pairings.

Seeking the 'Godfather' version that's hard to find

BY JAY BOBBIN

Q: I've seen the "Godfather" movies many times, but someone told me the first two had been edited into a version that runs chronologically, instead of much of "Part II" being flashbacks. Is that true, and if so, where can I see that version?
- Roger Foster, via e-mail

A: Known by several other names in later years, director Francis Ford Coppola's "The Godfather Saga" was televised by NBC in 1977 and merged the first two movies in chronological order, deleting some content that wasn't appropriate for broadcast television, but also adding scenes that hadn't been included in the theatrical releases. In 1992, "The Godfather: Part III" (which was released in 1990) was added to the earlier version to keep the "Saga" complete.

The latter edition was made available on VHS tape and laserdisc, but not on DVD, and it's rare to find it now ... and, frankly, anything to play it on. AMC also ran "The Godfather Saga" in 2012, to mark the 40th anniversary of the original "Godfather" film. The "Saga" that combines the first two movies has been available for streaming, but it hasn't been released on DVD, Blu-ray or 4K Ultra HD, making it one of the gems in the Paramount Pictures library that will be a very big event if it's ever issued on the currently prominent forms of physical home video.

Q: Who were the first hosts of "Good Morning America"? - Pat Johnson, Lexington, Ky.

A: David Hartman and Nancy Dussault were the founding co-hosts when the ABC program's weekday edition premiered in the fall of 1975, but "Too Close for Comfort" actress Dussault's run "GMA" was relatively brief. She was succeeded by Sandy Hill in the spring of 1977, and in turn, Hill's successor was Joan Lunden starting in 1980.

Hartman left in 1987 and was replaced by Charles Gibson, who was paired with Lunden until 1997, when Lisa McRee became the female co-anchor. Gibson left in 1998, with Kevin Newman assuming his spot. The Newman-McRee era lasted only until 1999, when Gibson was brought back and was partnered with Diane Sawyer. Robin Roberts became a co-anchor with them in 2005; in 2006, Gibson left again, leaving Sawyer and Roberts as the "GMA" anchor team.

Sawyer departed in 2009 to anchor the weeknight "ABC World News," and George Stephanopoulos was brought in to join Roberts. Lara Spencer got a promotion to third co-anchor in 2014, then in 2016, Michael Strahan also got a "GMA" co-anchor seat ... with Spencer officially reducing her time on the show in 2018. The Stephanopoulos-Roberts-Strahan trio is where things still stand on "GMA," though correspondents such as Linsey Davis, Rebecca Jarvis, Will Reeve and weekend "GMA" regulars Whit Johnson, Janai Norman (who's currently on maternity leave) and Gio Benitez often fill in.
