COUNTY NCSSO ART GALLERY

First NCSSO art exhibit allows inmates to ‘SEE THEIR FUTURE’

NEWTON COUNTY - The Newton County Sheriff’s Office hosted its inaugural art exhibit last Thursday, allowing its graduating class of eight students to present their art pieces to family and friends.

The initiative, a group effort by Sheriff Ezell Brown, Captain Brice Smith and Workforce Development Program Coordinator Tongela Smith, was inspired by a similar program in Chatham County, where inmates participated in art workshops.

NCSSO’s two month art program, led by art instructor Dr. Zerric Clinton, provided inmate residents an allotted time each week to express themselves creatively. Meeting every Monday, Clinton would assign homework to his students and set deadlines for them to be completed.

“When I got the opportunity to work with the students here, I jumped at it,” Clinton said. “This was a really different experience for me. I guess it kind of pulled a lot out of me being in a different environment than a traditional classroom, but it went very well.

At the art program’s graduation ceremony, each student with the exception of two being absent, were invited to the stage to offer insight into their creative visions. The class of eight included: Destiny Oliver, Kelly Choma, Tonya Blair, Teresa Hunt, Jahyssa Thomas, Jennifer Bagley, Tamekia Clark and Rachel Willis.

COUNTY GROUNDBREAKING

Newton County breaks ground on Spring Hill Park

STAFF REPORT

NEWTON COUNTY - Newton County broke ground on Spring Hill Park, soon to be located at 757 Lower River Road.

The park has been a dream of area residents for a long time, making its way onto the ballot as part of the 2017 Special Purpose Local Option Sales Tax (SPLOST) with $500,000 in funding. Community meetings began in October of 2021 and an addition $5.5 million was dedicated to the park form unallocated SPLOST funds.

“I know this is an exciting time for our community as we want to make sure we make Newton County a great place to live, play and work,” Marcello Banes said. “Without the county’s support of the SPLOST this would not be possible.”

The park will feature green space, a playground, a walking trail, a pavilion and a community center.

Meetings were held with community members throughout the course of a year to gather input on what amenities were desired and a suitable location.

“I am so thrilled to see this come to fruition,” said District 5 Commissioner Ronnie Cowan, whose district the park was in when planning started. “I think everybody in the community is going to be well served by this.”

The park is expected to be completed by summer of 2024. You can find out more about the park at <https://www.co.newton.ga.us/649/Spring-Hill-Park-Update>.

SPORTS MEDIA DAY

Football Media Day returns after four-year hiatus

STAFF REPORT
news@covnews.com

COVINGTON, Ga. - An event that has been on a four-year hiatus returned last Friday, July 21. High school varsity squads from Newton and Walton counties gathered for the 2023 East Metro Atlanta Football Media Day.

The occasion was held in the Newton College and Career Academy Lecture Hall.

The day served as a way to help kick off the upcoming football season set to begin in mid-August.

Phillip B. Hubbard, sports editor with The Covington News, served as the emcee and delivered opening remarks.

“I know we have some rivalries in here but, the way I view it, we’re all just football fans,” Hubbard said. “I encourage all of us to sit back, relax and let’s just talk football and see what each program has going on heading into a new year.”

A coach and two players from each team attended to help highlight what their teams were up to in the offseason.

Here’s a list of representatives from each school:

I know Commissioner Cowan heard them, I heard them and the Board of Commissioners heard them say ‘We want something done in our community,’” said District 4 Commissioner J.C. “This one’s a clown,” Oliver said. “I really drew it because life is like a clown. It’s scary and it’s funny. But you got to get back up and try again. And then I did a butterfly, and it’s got flowers and stuff because one day we’re gonna be free.”

“I’m not gonna lie at the beginning, I was all for it, and I really didn’t have the confidence after that,” Choma said. “So what I did was I turned around and I gave up. Well, here recently, I poured my heart into this one.... If you’re looking from an angle, there’s hidden angels. I call it my hidden angel. I have lost everything since I’ve been here. I know He’s got plans for me.”

“This really just started out like a doodle, but then the more I got into it, especially with my colors, I was trying to catch her moving because this is me,” Blair said. “To be able to express myself like this is the proper way. This is the way I really want to wake up in the morning and go to bed at night and approach my family and interact with other people. Having said that, her being my inner child, this is what I aspire to be.”

“This is something I finally realized in life, that I always felt about me being a victim and I blamed everybody else,” Hunt said. “I’ve come to realize that my mother was a victim also. I didn’t really realize how much she [has] done for us kids, she put up with a lot of stuff from my father. My mom stood her ground and she’s still here and today and I just want her to know that I’m sorry and I love you. It took me a long time to realize that you were still a victim like me and I apologize.”

“I had done a painting of this years ago,” Bagley said. “I had to put it down with pencil, lead. I painted it with my best friend when she was in hospice. Her name was Marie. Just being still, thinking, feeling, wondering what the fog was about. It wasn’t sad, but it was the past, and there will be a reoccurring love, and I will see her again. So there is an ending to that, and that will be color.”

To conclude the artists’ statements, Tamekia Clark kept it simple when describing her art, summing up the effects that the art program has seemingly had on every student.

“I’m growing to be a better person by each day that passes by,” Clark said.

All of the artwork created will be displayed throughout the Newton County Sheriff’s Office in places chosen by the eight artists.

“[They will be] on display so that we can show the general public that we have great minds at the moment,” Brown said. “Perhaps their physical bodies are trapped, but they still share a dream or a story.”

Though the graduating class included all women, the NCSO plans on continuing the art program and offering classes to male inmates in the near future.

“We’re always looking for something positive for our inmates to be able to express themselves,” Smith said. “We’re gonna continue this.”

Following the ceremony, Smith shared her thoughts on the outcome of the art exhibit and the structure it provided for its students.

“I think [art is] more than an outlet,” Smith said. “I think it calls [the inmate residents] to not only look at their now, but see their future. The ladies [and] gentlemen coming [to] our next class are going to be able to find not only their life in writing, drawing, but they’re also going to be able to write their future in pictures. That’s the impact.”

STATE ENERGY

Georgia Power submits test results on second Plant Vogtle nuclear reactor to feds

CAPITOL BEAT
News Service

ATLANTA - Georgia Power has completed a major step toward bringing the second of two nuclear reactors being built at Plant Vogtle into operation even as the first new unit is set to open this month.

Southern Nuclear, like Georgia Power a subsidiary of Atlanta-based Southern Co., has submitted all 364 inspections, tests, and analyses that have been performed on the second unit to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC), Georgia Power reported Friday. The step is designed to assure the NRC that the reactor meets all nuclear safety and quality standards.

Once the NRC declares that Southern Nuclear has met all license acceptance criteria, fuel loading can begin.

The second unit is scheduled to begin operating late this year or early next year.

Meanwhile, Georgia Power spokesman John Kraft said the first unit remains on schedule to go into service by the end of this month.

The two reactors originally were expected to be in operation in 2016 and 2017. However, the Plant Vogtle nuclear expansion ran into a series of delays that drove up the cost to more than twice the $14 billion estimated at the time the Georgia Public Service Commission approved the project more than a decade ago.

Critics have long maintained Georgia Power should have given up on the nuclear reactors and more aggressively pursued other sources of electrical generation.

Georgia Power officials have countered that nuclear power is the most efficient way to ensure the utility’s 2.7 million customers will enjoy reliable energy for the next 60 to 80 years. The company is building the new reactors in partnership with co-owners Oglethorpe Power, MEAG Power and Dalton Utilities.

STATE SECURITY

Raffensperger warns of new cryptocurrency scam

CAPITOL BEAT
News Service

ATLANTA - Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger has issued an investor alert warning consumers to watch out for a cryptocurrency scam known as “Pig-butchering.”

The scam, which originated in Southeast Asia, involves a predator building the victim’s confidence through casual conversation that leads to the scammer convincing the victim they will help them make money.

“Pig-butchering” refers to the constant feed of information to the victim as the scammer “fattens” the victim with the illusion of opportunities for a great return on their investment.

“Everyday Georgians, especially retirees, are falling victim to unscrupulous con artists miles and miles away,” Raffensperger said Monday. “We are doing everything in our power to protect the hard-earned savings of good, honest people.”

BRAD RAFFENSPERGER

old friend, a trusted public figure, colleague, or even a prospective romantic partner. The conversation may begin slowly to center around investments or cryptocurrency. The scammer’s goal is not to ask for money but coax the victim to invest in a fake trading website or platform that shows a bogus balance with lots of profit. Allowing the victim to withdraw profits early creates the illusion of a trusted process. Scammers may even “lend” money to facilitate larger trades.

Once the scammer decides to make his or her move, the website will require more money to cover withdrawal fees or taxes. The scammer then runs off with the funds, never to be heard from again.

Consumers who suspect such a scam may be taking place should immediately stop transferring money to the suspected scammer and report the crime to their bank and local law enforcement agency.

For more information, contact the secretary of state’s office at registrations@sos.ga.gov or call 470-312-2640.

STATE NONPROFITS

New nonprofit to help process foster care tax credits

CAPITOL BEAT
News Service

ATLANTA - A new nonprofit has launched to help Georgians contribute to a state tax credit program aimed at helping young adults aging out of the foster care system.

Fostering Success Act Inc., named after legislation the General Assembly passed last year, will help taxpayers submit applications to the Georgia Department of Revenue to qualify for the program.

Individual taxpayers can receive dollar-for-dollar state income tax credits for up to $2,500 per year contributed to the program, while married couples filing jointly can receive up to $5,000. Corporate donations are limited to 10 percent of the company’s annual tax liability.

However, contributors may apply to exceed those limits under a change that has occurred because the program has not reached its $20 million cap. The legislation took effect in January with the beginning of the 2023 tax year.

About 700 young Georgians age out of the foster care system each year, most with no family to return to after they leave the system. Contributions to the tax credit program will be used for “wraparound” services - including housing, food, and transportation - to help support these young people while they attend college or technical school.

“This is a great opportunity for any Georgia taxpayer - individual or corporation - to designate where their tax dollars are spent,” said Heidi Carr, executive director of Fostering Success Act Inc. “Through the Fostering Success Act ... we will be able to do more to reduce poverty, homelessness and despair than any program ever before.”

Applications to the revenue department are accepted on a first-come basis. Once approved, taxpayers have 60 days from the date of approval to send their contribution check or pay online.

ANN COULTER CONTRIBUTOR

Trump’s Endorsement Got DeSantis Nothing

Donald Trump is indignant that Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis would dare run for president when he KNOWS Trump is running. According to the former president and big baby, this is a betrayal of epic proportions because Trump endorsed DeSantis during his first gubernatorial run. (Whereas winning the presidency by promising to build a wall, and then reneging, is a trifle, hardly worth mentioning.)

DeSantis, he says, would be “working at a Pizza Hut” if not for Trump’s endorsement. [Counter-argument: DeSantis is a graduate of both Harvard and Yale, and didn’t pay someone to take his SATs for him, as Trump did.]

But since Trump won’t shut up about his splendiferous endorsement of DeSantis, let’s see how valuable it really was.

Answer: It was utterly irrelevant. Trump endorsed DeSantis on Dec. 22, 2017, shortly before he officially announced his candidacy, tweeting, “Congressman Ron DeSantis is a brilliant young leader, Yale and then Harvard Law, who would make a GREAT Governor of Florida. He loves our Country and is a true FIGHTER!”

The response was Earth-shattering!!! Actually, it had absolutely no effect. Not the slightest little bump in the polls. Weeks later — thanks to Trump’s back-breaking work typing out a tweet — DeSantis’ primary opponent, Florida Commissioner of Agriculture Adam Putnam, led DeSantis 23 percent to 18 percent, according to a Florida Chamber of Commerce poll.

Although DeSantis wasn’t shy about touting Trump’s endorsement, by early June 2018, Putnam had a double-digit lead over him. A Fox News poll, for example, showed Putnam ahead 32% to 17%, and an NBC poll had Putnam leading DeSantis 38% to 21%. Not only that, but Putnam had outraised DeSantis $30 million to $10.8 million.

That’s the old Trump magic! It wasn’t until the first primary debate at the end of June 2018 that DeSantis soared in the polls and never went back down. As Floridapolitics.com reported, numerous surveys showed “a dramatic leap to the top for DeSantis since the two [primary candidates] squared off in the nationally televised debate in Orlando on June 28.”

It’s not that DeSantis is an amazing debater — he’s not — but two months before the election, voters started paying attention.

By the time of the second and final debate on Aug. 8, 2018, DeSantis was leading Putnam by 20 points, and went on to win the primary 57 percent to 37 percent. Trump had nothing to do with it: DeSantis was underwater from Trump’s December 2017 endorsement right up until the voters got a look at DeSantis for themselves.

True, Trump reminded voters of his DeSantis endorsement just before that first debate, and there were no polls between Trump’s re-endorsement and the debate a week later, so maybe the second time’s the charm!

Were Florida voters especially enamored of Trump in June 2018? Hardly. A Marist/NBC poll, taken between June 17 and June 22, had Trump down 20 points on the “deserves to be reelected” question. Indeed, Trump’s endorsements only seem to “work” by random chance — or when his aides tell him who’s going to win, and then, at the last minute, he endorses that guy. (See J.D. Vance.)

Remember Alabama? Even in the Trumpiest of Trump states, his endorsed candidates in 2017 lost in both the primary and the general election.

This was during Trump’s first year as president, when he was at the height of his powers — before we knew he was going to betray us. (Some of us had an inkling.) Trump’s endorsements did the impossible, producing a Democratic senator from a deep red state.

His endorsement of Herschel Walker in 2022 cost Republicans a Senate seat in Georgia. His endorsement of Doug Mastriano (for claiming the 2020 election was stolen) cost Republicans the entire state of Pennsylvania. Also: Kari Lake in Arizona, Tudor Dixon in Michigan, Don Bolduc in New Hampshire and so on.

How about the race that obsessed Trump more than any other? Far more than a couple of tweets, Trump waged a jihad against Georgia’s Republican Gov. Brian Kemp in 2022, practically turning himself into David Perdue’s campaign manager.

He even used half a million dollars from his PAC to defeat Kemp — marking the first time Trump spent his donors’ money on something other than his own properties and family members.

Result: Kemp slaughtered Perdue in the primary, 74 percent to 22 percent, and then increased his margin of victory in the general election from four years earlier.

And never forget that in the weeks before DeSantis’ reelection in 2022, Trump repeatedly attacked him at rallies, calling him the oh-so-witty “Ron DeSanctimonious.” The day before the election, Trump hinted at an imaginary DeSantis scandal, telling The Wall Street Journal, “I will tell you things about him that won’t be very flattering. I know more about him than anybody other than perhaps his wife, who is really running his campaign.”

As we all now know, DeSantis went on to win reelection by 20 points, the largest margin in 40 years, in an otherwise rotten year for Republicans (thanks to Trump).

Moral of the story: A Trump endorsement is electoral poison.

Aside from the insanely narcissistic rank stupidity of Trump thinking he has the right to demand that no other Republican run against him, DeSantis owes him absolutely nothing. Next year, when the “justice-involved” former president is angling for a presidential pardon and decides to endorse DeSantis, the governor should refuse it. That will bring the country together.

DICK YARBROUGH COLUMNIST

An open letter to Georgia’s public school teachers

I can’t believe I am writing a back-to-school letter to you in July. That’s because I can’t believe you are starting a new school year in July. Somehow, that doesn’t seem right. Back in the good ol’ days – which look better and better as I get older and older – school always began right after Labor Day.

Even today, I dread the thought of Labor Day because it reminds me of the years of having to get up early, put on shoes and socks and freshly-ironed clothes and trek off to school. Once there, I waited for recess to come and then how long until lunch and, after that, wondering if the school day would ever end so I could get home and take off my shoes and socks. And, of course, there was homework. Always the homework, which greatly interfered with more important pursuits like playing ball or riding my bike.

In spite of this, Miss Dent and Miss Bolton and Jimmie Lou Hopgood, among others, managed to corral my wandering mind and taught me how to read and write, add and subtract, spell multisyllabic words and to absorb a fair amount of history. That is what school teachers do. They did it back in my time and you do it today.

The difference in those days and now, in my opinion, is two-fold: Parents in my generation, for the most part, came out of rural settings where education was not a priority. Plowing, planting and harvesting were. They wanted their children to get the education they had been denied.

Second, the teaching profession was held in high regard by society. I have a friend who says that while the U. S. Constitution may say we are innocent until proven guilty, it didn’t work that way when we were in school. If the schoolteacher said you were guilty, chances were your parents accepted that verdict, much to your discomfort.

What has happened to parental support since those days, I’m not sure. Perhaps you know. I do know and I think you would agree that where parents are involved in a positive way in their child’s educational development, the results are positive. The problem is that many times, that involvement is not about their child’s progress, but about political and social issues. We’ve all seen the pictures of parents screaming and waving signs at each other over things like masks in the schoolroom during the COVID-19 pandemic. How is that a positive influence on a child’s behavior?

Now you are caught in the crossfire between competing political philosophies on the issue of diversity, equity and inclusion. In my not-so-humble opinion, those discussions belong in the home and you should not be held responsible for doing what the parents should be doing. However, no matter what you do regarding that subject – or what the politicians and special interest groups force on you – it won’t please a lot of people and then we will get the predictable blather about “failing public schools,” which is not your fault. It is the fault of society.

If there is a failure here, it is mine for not doing a better job of getting it into

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

It is hard to believe that students will soon report back to school for the start of the 2023-2024 school year. As a result, we recently welcomed approximately 200 new teachers to our district at our annual BEST Teacher Induction Program. Our Partners in Education made a great impression on the new teachers and showed once again that Newton County School System has the absolute best school partners by donating dozens of door prizes for the event. We received gift bags, tote bags, gift baskets, and numerous gift cards—just to name a few! Needless to say, the new teachers were excited at the prospect of taking home one of the wonderful prizes.

Although we announce the name of each business or organization that donates a door prize at the time of the drawing, so that our local community is also aware of their commitment, I’d like to publicly thank the following school Partners in Education for donating gifts for our new teachers: American Legion Ladies Auxiliary; Mayfield ACE Hardware; Zion Baptist Church; Pilot Club of Covington; Reagan Financial Planning; Snapping Shoals EMC; Dr. Bradley Jacoby; Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., Phi Omicron Zeta Chapter; The Church Covington; Arts Association in Newton; Discover Covington; Brightmoor Hospice; Piedmont Newton; Stewart Community Church; Sports Clips; Jimmy John’s; Georgia United Credit Union; and Pleasant View Baptist Church.

Thank you so much for supporting our schools! And thank you to all our Partners in Education who continually support our students and schools throughout the school year. Our community is blessed with businesses, organizations, churches, and civic groups that truly care about the children and employees of Newton County Schools. We look forward to working with each of them during the course of the 2023-2024 school year!

OBITUARY MARY EVELYN PLOTT

CALDWELL & COWAN
Funeral Home

The family of Betty Neal Johnson of Covington, GA sadly inform the community of her passing this past Tuesday evening, July 18, 2023.

“...no way could I have ever made it through this life without the love, guidance, presence, promises and comfort of my Heavenly Father.”

At 91 years of age, you could say she lived a long and fruitful life. And now she has the comfort of Everlasting Life. But the family still feels her absence, and the anguish of their loss.

Betty is survived by her children, Jeff and Laurie Bailey of John’s Island, SC, David and Bonnie Bailey of Covington, GA, and Laura and Phillip Gregory of Snellville, GA.

The grandchildren and families that she leaves behind are Seth Bailey (sp. Jana, d. Mabel), Ian Bailey (sp. Kati), Serah Nock (d. Skylar, s. Trey), Eric Murphy and family, Matthew Murphy, and Taylor Gregory.

BETTY NEAL JOHNSON

Born June 8, 1932 in Wilmington, NC, Betty was the youngest of 8 children of her beloved parents, Jesse and Geneva Neal.

A resident of Covington for over 60 years, Betty raised her 3 children here. They enjoyed all the benefits of small-town living including playing ball, piano lessons, scouting, church youth choir and more! She was a very much engaged and involved mom.

Her funeral service was held Saturday, July 22, 2023 at 11:00 a.m. in the sanctuary of Highpoint Baptist Church (where she served as Church Secretary for 9 years), with Rev. Tom McElhaney officiating. Interment followed at Lawnwood Memorial Park. Friends were invited to visit with the family at the church one hour prior to her service from 10:00 – 11:00 a.m.

people’s heads that public schools are a microcosm of society. My son – who is one of you, by the way – has told me many times you can’t shut the schoolhouse door on society’s problems. If a child is hungry, abused, has apathetic parents or no parents at all, is transient, can’t speak English or is a gang member, it doesn’t matter. You are supposed to educate them, anyway.

Rather than address these problems directly, the solution for many politicians is to give tax breaks to parents (mostly white, well-to-do Republicans, although we don’t know that for sure since the information is not publicly available even though it involves our tax dollars) to send their kids to private schools that don’t have to abide by the same rules you do. If the child doesn’t play by their rules, they are sent back to – guess where? And you have no choice but to take them back.

But you are willing to take all the slings and arrows because we both know you will have a positive and lasting impact on some child’s life. I suspect everyone reading this with us today can name a schoolteacher who made a difference in their own life. Again, that is what teachers do. Yours is a noble profession. And I thank you for doing it.

Dezaria “Z” Johnson is currently committed to play college softball at North Carolina.

the Lady Dogs and Lady Canes. Since starting, it’s been all about softball for Johnson.

“I’ve always been a grit player when it came to softball,” Johnson said. “No breaks, no time off. I’ve just been foot on the gas.”

Though her family’s involvement caused her to try the sport out, Johnson found her own love for playing.

“The passion for the sport I had. I just feel like I had to continue it on. Keep it in the family. Even with my nieces, I push them,” Johnson said. “Just being around it so long, I’ve always had a passion for the sport.”

Johnson’s career progressed to the middle school ranks when she began playing for the Indian Creek Lady Panthers. While there, Johnson helped lead the program to a championship season during her eighth grade season.

Around that time, Johnson began playing for 12U, 14U and 16U teams. During that stretch, Johnson was just playing for the love of the game. She had no inclination as to how far her career could take her.

While playing in one game for 16U shed more light on her possibilities.

“I was pitching this one game with 16U and I had SEC, ACC and tons of coaches watching me play. That was really an eye opener,” Johnson said. “‘Hey, this is getting real. I’m actually bringing coaches like this,’ especially with coaches I’ve dreamed of playing for.”

Johnson took another step closer to solidifying her post-high school career with her Oct. 2, 2022 commitment to the University of North Carolina. When describing her final decision, Johnson said the program just “felt like home.”

Nevertheless, the Lady Tar Heel commit isn’t quite ready to retire her title as a Lady Eagle.

“It hasn’t hit me just yet since we haven’t had our first game, but going into the first game it’s really going to hit me,” Johnson said. “I’m going to feel great but, again, sad for leaving the girls behind. I have little sisters and the girls looking up to me.”

“Z” finished her junior campaign with a 3.70 ERA and had 120 strikeouts. At the plate, Johnson batted for a .396 average while drilling seven homers over the outfield fence. By season’s end, Region 8-AAAAA coaches voted Johnson as a First Team All-Region honoree.

This go round, however, Johnson wants to step up for Eastside more than just producing on the field.

“It’s my senior season,” Johnson said. “So, I have big shoes to fill. I have to be a team leader. Last year as a junior I had seniors in front of me. But now I have a lot of room to be a team player and lead.”

Johnson and her teammates come into 2023 with lofty belief that they can make another run in the state tournament. They did so last year by finishing No. 6 in Class AAAAA by upsetting a few higher seeds along the way.

Eastside’s season commences on Aug. 7 with a road matchup against Locust Grove. The Lady Eagles’ region schedule will kick off versus Winder-Barrow at home.

Johnson is on the edge of her seat waiting for the season to get underway. And, even though she knows it will be her last season as a Lady Eagle, Johnson is ready to end her career with a bang.

“We have set the standard. We’re here, but we have to do more,” Johnson said. “We need to work 10 times harder than last year because we want to go further.”

“We did go to state, but now it’s time to go to win state.”

for Columbus. It matters. Everything counts.”

Eastside’s Region 8-AAAAA classification features some heavy hitters once again this year. The reigning back-to-back region champion Loganville Lady Red Devils are coming off a 16-2 season. Winder-Barrow is back off a 12-6 year followed by Flowery Branch who edged the Lady Eagles out of third place at the end of last year. Throw in the Jefferson Lady Dragons for contention, too, for play-off positioning.

Even though her team did qualify for the playoffs last year and went far, Wood wants to see the Lady Eagles contend for that region crown.

“We talk a lot about Columbus and what it takes to get there. We know that it’s not ever an easy task for any team in our classification,” Wood said. “Our success in our region really is key. We don’t want to be content with just making it to Super Regionals. We understand starting off is our goal of getting a higher seed in our region so that way we can have a better path going to Columbus.”

“We talk a lot about Columbus and what it takes to get there. We know that it’s not ever an easy task for any team in our classification,” Wood said.

Sprinkled throughout the regular season schedule are a few high profile non-region opponents.

Eastside begins the year at Locust Grove on Aug. 7. It also matches up against the likes of Monticello, Social Circle, Troup County and East Coweta.

The Lady Eagles will travel to Alcovy High School to face the Lady Tigers and the Newton Lady Rams for the Newton County Diamond Day.

Wood, who is entering her 12th year overall at the helm, acknowledged that, no matter what the season holds, there will be ups and downs along the way. But she is confident that this year’s group has “hit the ground running” from day No. 1.

Amid all of the drills, plays, pitches and hits, Wood has great anticipation herself to watch her team play each game.

“What’s great about this team is their competitive spirit,” Wood said. “They want to do well. We have pushed and made it clear that we’re setting high goals this year and that starts at practice. When you’ve shown us what you’ve done, now we’re only going to be better. We just got to realize we got to step it up and step it up at practice. There’s always someone out there wanting to beat us.”

Lady Eagles enter new year with high expectations

By PHILLIP B. HUBBARD

COVINGTON, Ga. — Over the last several weeks, the Eastside Lady Eagles have gone through 10 summer workouts and have played in two preseason scrimmages. Throughout each drill and play, head coach Heather Wood has taken note of the players' exhilaration heading into a fresh year.

According to Wood, the players' positive attitude might have something to do with the squad's advancement to Columbus a season ago. But Wood wants to see all of the players "set the bar even higher" going into 2023.

"We've been really pushing them to have that eagerness and fire to win," Wood said. "Not only every game, but every inning and every moment. That's what's really going to drive the team. That consistent drive to be successful and win every single game and inning."

After starting last season with growing pains that come with having a young squad, the Lady Eagles seemed to have flipped a switch on the home stretch.

Eastside finished No. 4 in Region 8-A, won the Super Regionals and finished No. 6 in the state. Unlike last year's off-season where the program had just graduated eight of its players, the majority of the squad is set to return.

The Lady Eagles' senior ace, Dezaria 'Z' Johnson, returns after recording a 3.70 ERA and 120 strikeouts in addition to her .396 batting average while drilling seven homers at the plate.

Assisting in the pitcher's circle is Eva Davis who, as a freshman last year, registered 148 innings pitched, a 2.80 ERA and 102 strikeouts.

Wood is looking to the returners to keep that fire to win alive throughout the year.

"It's looking at the big picture and our goal," Wood said. "We want to be a state contender. That's the ultimate goal. They know every game counts. This all lays the groundwork how we do in a season that prepares us

Johnson brings energy into senior year

COVINGTON, Ga. — Registering 120 strikeouts a season ago, it's no wonder why Dezaria Johnson owns the nickname, "Z." Johnson has the innate ability to put opposing players' at-bats to rest.

Not only does she assist the Lady Eagles in the pitcher's circle, but with her bat as well.

In fact, Johnson credits her power hitting to the momentum that carries over from registering solid pitching performances.

"That energy after I strike a batter out, I take it to my at-bat. Even if I hit a home run after I just struck three batters out, it's still my adrenaline from pitching," Johnson said. "Pitching sets the standard and then hitting a home run just continues my energy."

Johnson has always been around the game of softball. Her mom Brandy and aunt Laquoya Lackey — who is an Eastside softball alumna — both played the sport when Johnson was a kid.

At 6 years old, Johnson became drawn to playing softball herself through the Newton County Recreation Department. She was a member of

Kiowa Gordon in
"Dark Winds"

'Winds' of change: New season of 'Dark Winds' blows onto AMC

When AMC aired "Dark Winds" Season 1 finale mid-July last year, the show proved, if nothing else, that all it takes is six great episodes to create a strong and supportive fan base. Now, a little more than one year after said finale, New Mexico cops Joe Leaphorn (Zahn McClarnon, "Reservation Dogs") and Jim Chee (Kiowa Gordon, "The Red Road") are back for Round 2, calling all fans back to their TV sets and computer screens once again. Season 2 of "Dark Winds" premieres Sunday, July 30, on AMC and the AMC+ streaming service.

Set in the American Southwest during the 1970s, the spiritually infused crime thriller follows two Navajo officers of the law, Leaphorn and Chee, as they take on a smattering of cases in their desert community. Constantly plagued by an open double murder in the first season, the officers take on several other, smaller cases while chipping away at the big unsolved crime, all while grappling with their own personal and cultural demons.

The series opened to positive reviews when it premiered in June 2022 and continued to pick up acclaim over its six weeks on air. Among the most notable accolades, "Dark Winds" was nominated for the Best Action/Thriller Television Series Saturn Award, and leading man Gordon was nominated for a Gotham Award for his performance as undercover FBI agent Chee. Additionally, the Graham Roland ("Tom Clancy's Jack Ryan") -created series earned a Western Heritage Award for the pilot, titled "Monster."

The AMC production has also been lauded for its richness of Indigenous culture, well-rounded character development and overall beautiful storytelling — the latter of which comes as no surprise to those familiar with the other works of executive producers George R.R. Martin ("Game of Thrones") and Robert Redford ("Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid," 1969). Backed up by a massive team of talented writers, producers, directors and more, Martin and Redford have a major part in bringing the Navajo Mysteries novels of Tony Hillerman to life.

Much of the magic, however, falls in the hands of the series' cast. Returning for Season 2 alongside Gordon and McClarnon are Jessica Matten ("Frontier") as gifted tribal police Sgt. Bernadette Manuelito; Deanna Allison ("Accused") as Leaphorn's wife, Emma; and Rainn Wilson ("The Office") in his unusually sinister role as twisted missionary and used car salesman "Devoted Dan" DeMarco. There has also been word that Sally Growing Thunder (Elva Guerra, "Reservation Dogs"), Frank Nakai (Eugene Brave Rock, "That Dirty Black Bag") and Hoski (Jeremiah Bitsui, "Better Call Saul") are likely to return this season.

As for the remainder of the second-season plot, the "Dark Winds" trailer features a very human threat in the form of a "blond man" walking onto the reservation and committing a string of murders. Though with many of Season 1's questions still lingering without concrete answers, it's worth noting that many of this season's horrors link back to the freshman season in one way or another.

Leaphorn, still dealing with a personal loss from last season, has a lot to face before he can move forward with his grief. Now more determined than ever that he can't face his demons alone, Leaphorn once again teams up with Chee and Manuelito to bring peace to their Nation — hopefully once and for all. But it certainly won't be easy.

Hopes have been high for "Dark Winds" — and not just from a Hollywood success standpoint. In an interview ahead of the series premiere, McClarnon acknowledged his own hopes for the series.

"What I hope to see from 'Dark Winds' is just more doors opening, not only for Indigenous talent in front of the camera but also behind the camera," McClarnon said. "I think we're kind of in a unique time right now with Native representation in media [a]nd I'm glad to be a part of it."

"Dark Winds" Season 2 premieres Sunday, July 28, on AMC and AMC+.

tonight's PICKS

Julie Chen Moonves

from "Big Brother"

Nancy Drew

WUPA 8 p.m.

Nancy (Kennedy McMann), Nick (Tunji Kasim), Ace (Alex Saxon) and the rest of the Drew Crew prepare to battle a Sin Eater in the seaside village of Horseshoe Bay, Maine. The meeting should bring them ever closer to solving just who is behind the killings.

Big Brother: 25th Anniversary Celebration

WANF 9 p.m.

Celebrating the landmark 25th year of this popular reality series, this special debuts one week ahead of the "Big Brother" Season 25 premiere. The event is promised to be a nostalgic romp down memory lane, one featuring our favorite past Houseguests.

Human Footprint

WGTV 9 p.m.

Hosted by Shane Campbell-Station, this part-science, part-travel series takes viewers from high-tech labs to sweltering street markets and from primeval forests to the back alleys of New York to explore the ways humans are transforming the planet.

This Fool

FX 10 p.m.

Season 2 premieres with two new episodes, airing back-to-back. The series follows Julio Lopez (Chris Estrada), a man with a heart of gold, as he attempts to better his community, overcome codependency issues with family, and navigate working-class life.

Love Island

USA 11 p.m.

Singles travel to the lush, tropical shores of Fiji in order to find their version of romance while navigating the pitfalls of jealousy, alcohol and hookup culture in this season premiere. But one lucky couple wins a cash prize.

Kelly Ripa from “Generation Gap”

Ghosts
WANF 8 p.m.

This two-part special airs, offering the welcome chill of Christmas in July. Bela (Punam Patel) returns for a holiday visit with a male friend, and some make it their mission to spark romance between them. The ghostly scheme doesn't go quite to plan.

Generation Gap
WSDT 8 p.m.

Teams of seniors and juniors work together in challenges that ask players to answer questions about pop culture from each other's generations, in a hilarious disparity that takes a trip from rotary phone to touch screens. Kelly Ripa hosts a new episode.

Eli Roth Presents: A Ghost Ruined My Life
TRAV 9 p.m.

They say marriage is hard. But no prenup can prepare you for this. Imagine opening wedding presents with an angry demon. Newlyweds move to an isolated home in rural Oregon, only to find they've attracted the attention of an ancient demon.

Breaking the Ice
WE 9 p.m.

Like a toe pick to the groin, Coach Rory gets upsetting news about Nationals that puts Team DMV's future in jeopardy. Making matters worse, the synchronized skaters struggle with new choreography, and tensions flare between Rory and the parents.

What We Do in the Shadows
FX 10 p.m.

Season 5 continues with a juicy new episode, this time seeing the roommates step out of their comfort zones as Colin (Mark Proksch) runs for office; Nandor (Kayvan Novak) makes a friend; and Nadja (Natasia Demetriou) reconnects with her roots.

Brett Kelly and Jewel Staite in "Family Law"

Ready to Love

OWN 8 p.m.

There's a power shift this week favouring the women when Tommy throws a Texas hoedown at a Black-owned ranch. But two of the guys are in danger of being sent home when one skips out early, and the other overshares his sexual eccentricities.

Family Law

WUPA 8 p.m.

This series follows the members of a dysfunctional family as they reluctantly work together at their father's law firm in downtown Vancouver. In this episode, a mail-order bride's husband wants to annul the marriage and have her deported.

Fire Country

WANF 9 p.m.

In this red-hot episode, the crew faces challenges as a vegetation fire becomes more complicated due to a distressed horse's reluctance to leave a blazing barn. Meanwhile, Vince's (Billy Burke) brother Luke (Michael Trucco) unexpectedly pays a visit.

Heels

STARZ 10:05 p.m.

Jack (Stephen Amell) must earn Ace's (Alexander Ludwig) forgiveness, convince Staci (Alison Luff) that he's ready to put his family first, and fend off more challenges from rival promoter Charlie Gully (Mike O'Malley) in this Season 2 premiere.

How to With John Wilson

HBO 11 p.m.

Filmmaker John Wilson continues his mission of self-discovery, exploration, and observation as he films the lives of fellow New Yorkers while attempting to give everyday advice on deceptively simple and wildly random topics in this season premiere.

"Too Hot to Handle: Season 5"

Ten hot new singles think they are retreating to a lavish yacht in the Caribbean and competing on a new dating show, "Love Overboard," hosted by a handsome and mysterious captain. Little do they know that Too Hot to Handle is back for a fifth season and Lana is ready to put their romantic connections to the test. There's a $200,000 cash prize at stake and all they have to do is avoid all physical intimacy.

"Documentary: The Lady of Silence: The Mataviejitas Murders"

This documentary look back to the year 2000, when a number of murders have the capital police stunned in Mexico City: older ladies are being strangled in their own homes. The victims' profiles are causing never-before-seen social outrage and media coverage, and the Attorney General's Office is employing all its resources and efforts to capture Mexico's first serial killer. In January 2006, after more than 40 murders, several failed arrests, and multiple contradictions, a woman, Juana Barraza, is detained in broad daylight.

"Heartstopper: Season 2"

Season 2 finds Nick (Kit Connor) and Charlie (Joe Locke) navigating their new relationship, while Tara (Corinna Brown) and Darcy (Kizzy Edgell) face unforeseen challenges and Tao (William Gao) and Elle (Yasmin Finney) work out if they can ever be more than just friends. With exams on the horizon, a school trip to Paris and a prom to plan, the gang has a lot to juggle as they journey through the next stages of life, love and friendship.

"The Lincoln Lawyer: Season 2, Part 2"

Mickey Haller (Manuel Garcia-Rulfo), an iconoclastic idealist, runs his law practice out of the back seat of his Lincoln, as he takes on cases big and small across the expansive city of Los Angeles. Based on the series of bestselling novels by renowned author Michael Connelly, the second season is based on the fourth book in The Lincoln Lawyer series, "The Fifth Witness." The series also stars Neve Campbell, Becki Newton, Jazz Raycole and Angus Sampson.

BEST SIGOURNEY WEAVER MOVIES

"Alien" (1979): Director Ridley Scott's deep-space chiller introduced Weaver — who now stars in the Prime Video series "The Lost Flowers of Alice Hart," debuting Friday, Aug. 4 — to audiences as she played one of several astronauts aboard a vessel that unwittingly picked up an unwelcome, and quite lethal, guest during a rescue mission on a remote planet.

"Eyewitness" (1981): Weaver smartly proved early on that she could do more than horror, playing a television reporter probing a murder that a janitor (William Hurt) claims to have seen.

"The Year of Living Dangerously" (1982): Weaver and Mel Gibson are extremely sexy together in a tale of romance amid political unrest. Co-star Linda earned an Oscar in a gender-crossing supporting role.

"Ghostbusters" (1984): Who ya gonna call? In the case of Weaver (as a literally haunted woman), Bill Murray and company, of course, but demonic possession lets her camp and vamp it up for a while.

"Aliens" (1986): "Alien" is iconic, but the sequel gave Weaver even more to do as astronaut Ellen Ripley fought a queen alien to ensure a child's safety.

"Gorillas in the Mist" (1988): Weaver proves an ideal choice to embody famed scientist Dian Fossey, who paid greatly for her dedication.

"Working Girl" (1988): Weaver is perfect in this comedy, directed by Mile Nichols, as a sneaky boss who wants to take credit for an employee's (Melanie Griffith) business idea while trying to keep her claim on the man (Harrison Ford) they both love.

"Dave" (1993): Playing "straight man" to Kevin Kline, also one of her co-stars in "The Ice Storm" later, Weaver is fine as the first lady who doesn't realize an imposter has replaced her president husband.

"Death and the Maiden" (1994): Weaver does a lot of the heavy lifting in director Roman Polanski's intense drama, in which she plays an activist convinced that she has a previous and very unsavory connection to a neighbor (Ben Kingsley).

"Copycat" (1995): Weaver does a superb job of conveying agoraphobia as a psychiatrist reluctantly helping a cop (Holly Hunter) track a serial killer.

"The Ice Storm" (1997): A very adult, and adulterous, Weaver is great in helping put forth a story of restless mid-1970s suburbanites.

"Galaxy Quest" (1999): This good-natured sci-fi spoof casts Weaver as one of the former stars of a fantasy series, thought to be the real thing by actual aliens who want the actors' help against an intergalactic enemy.

"Heartbreakers" (2001): Weaver and Jennifer Love Hewitt are fun as a mother-daughter team of con artists who bait wealthy men into compromising situations, but they meet their match in one intended target played by Ray Liotta.

"Avatar" (2009): Reunited with "Aliens" director James Cameron, Weaver plays it properly clinically as a scientist who either could aid or foil an ex-Marine's mission on the planet Pandora.

"Hamilton Sing-Along"

Disney brings fans a new, sing-along version of the awards-sweeping Broadway musical, "Hamilton." While exploring American history through the life of Founding Father Alexander Hamilton, audiences at home can try their own hand at the musical's famously intricate and fast-paced lyrics. Filmed at The Richard Rodgers Theatre on Broadway in June of 2016, the film features creator and star Lin-Manuel Miranda, Daveed Diggs, Renée Elise Goldsberry, Leslie Odom, Jr., Christopher Jackson, Jonathan Groff and Phillipa Soo.

"Documentary: Tomorrow x Together: Our Lost Summer"

After a successful debut that saw TOMORROW X TOGETHER take over the airwaves, the group are preparing to embark on their first world tour in this behind-the-scenes documentary. In 2019, the group made a splash by becoming the first K-pop group to enter the U.S. Billboard 200 chart with their debut album. In the film, viewers get to see band members Soobin, Yeonjun, Beomgyu, Taehyun, and Hueningkai reunite in preparation for their international tour and some of the world's biggest stages, including Lollapalooza.

"Pretty Freekin Scary: Season 1, New Episodes"

Revived from the kids' book series by Chris P. Flesh, the series follows the adventures of 14-year-old Frankie Ripp (Eliana Su'a), who once had a seemingly perfect life. When an accident upends her life, sending her to the Underworld and face-to-face with The Grim Reaper (Siobhan Murphy), Frankie begs to go back to "living" life. Grim agrees on one condition: Frankie must return alongside her new guardians, Pretty (Kyan Samuels) and Scary (Leah Mei Gold), who will keep an eye on her as she adjusts to her new life as a "once-dead" teenager.

"Never Say Never with Jeff Jenkins: Season 1"

This National Geographic series asks viewers to leave their comfort zone. Following Jeff Jenkins — a travel journalist who didn't step foot on a plane until he was 20 years old, and who is now exploring the world on a global odyssey — the series hopes to inspire others by inviting them to travel without fear and push past their perceived limitations to experience everything the world has to offer. Episodes feature some of Jenkin's craziest adventures, from a 70-foot climb up the face of a mountain to sailing through a windstorm.

Michelle Forbes

Q: What has the actress who played Valerie on "Berlin Station" been up to since it ended?

A: Michelle Forbes ("Kalifornia," 1993) has been up to a lot since her spy drama "Berlin Station" ended in 2019, but all anyone wants to talk about is her involvement in one project, and it was just for a single episode.

Earlier this year, Forbes appeared on an episode of the Paramount+/CBS series "Star Trek: Picard," reprising her role as Ro Laren, which she played for three years on "Star Trek: The Next Generation" in the early '90s.

Thanks to the strength of "Trek" fandom, and "Picard's" habit of bringing back other fan-favorite characters from "The Next Generation," that one episode got Forbes more press and attention than everything else she's done since 2019. That includes lengthy arcs on network shows such as NBC's "New Amsterdam" and ABC's "Big Sky."

It also includes a starring role on a high-profile show that looked a lot like Epix's "Berlin Station." The same year that show was canceled, she debuted on "Treadstone," the USA Network drama set in the same universe as "The Bourne Identity" (2002) and its smash-hit sequels.

Unfortunately, it didn't find the same traction as its film predecessors and was canceled after a season.

NFL Live: Back Together Saturday

WSBDT 1 p.m.

This special takes a look around the NFL's 32 training camps with all teams back in action on a single day. There will be access to comprehensive feeds from all teams, creating awareness and engagement. Laura Rutledge anchors the coverage.

AKC Fastest Dogs USA 2023

ESPN 2 p.m.

Run, Rover! Run! America's quickest canines come together in Rock Hill, S.C., in what is essentially a 100-yard dash for dogs. Everything from golden retrievers to basset hounds will put the zoomies to good use in hopes of beating last year's winner.

Aloha Heart

HALL 8 p.m.

When Sara (Taylor Cole), a conservationist, travels to Hawaii for her best friend's wedding, instead of having a relaxing vacation with friends, she finds herself helping Manu (Kanoa Goo), the new hotel manager, make changes to his family business.

Vacation House Rules

HGTV 9 p.m.

Real estate expert and contractor Scott McGillivray joins with Debra Salmoni to help a couple with a full makeover. They love to stay at their family cabin, but spend more time working on it instead of relaxing inside of it.

Sudoku Solution

tonight's PICKS

Phil Keoghan hosts “Tough as Nails” The Great Food Truck Race FOOD 8 p.m.

Taste the fumes. The season finale pits the final two teams against each other as they steal one dish from the other’s menu to sell at a food festival. Then a rapid fire exchange surprises the teams, and they can only sell one entrée all day for win.

Tough as Nails WANF 8 p.m.

The competition winds down and a winner is named in tonight’s finale. All season long, the competition has tested the contestants’ strength, endurance, life skills and mental toughness in a series of challenges set at real-world job sites.

When Calls the Heart HALL 9 p.m.

Hope Valley is facing serious economic uncertainty in this Season 10 premiere. But Elizabeth (Erin Krakow) and Bill (Jack Wagner) learn that the children of Hope Valley have made a discovery that could radically change the future of the town.

Black Snow AMC 10:05 p.m.

When a time capsule is opened in the small Australian town of Ashford, a secret is unearthed that could hold the clues to an unsolved murder of a 17-year-old girl. Detective James Cormack (Travis Fimmel) is put on the trail of a murderer from a 1994 case.

The Righteous Gemstones HBO 10:30 p.m.

It’s the season finale for the three generations of Gemstones, a famous televangelist family with a tradition of charitable work, deviance and greed. Will Eli (John Goodman) be able to keep the monkeys in check or has the circus tent already come down?

"The Big D" got a big reprieve

Q: I thought "The Big D" wasn't going to be on television. What happened? – Jill Hanley, via e-mail

A: The reality show about divorced people seeking new romances – with their former spouses there to watch – was supposed to premiere last summer on TBS, but shortly before the scheduled debut, it was pulled as part of several programming decisions made by that network's then-just-merged parent company Warner Bros. Discovery.

However, there still was a full season of the show in existence, hosted by JoJo Fletcher and Jordan Rodgers ... the "Bachelorette" alums whose pandemic-postponed wedding finally took place just before "The Big D" originally was intended to debut. USA Network expressed interest in picking up the show as a Wednesday-night companion to "Temptation Island" and made the deal, and that's why it's there now.

Q: I enjoyed seeing "Fiddler on the Roof" on Turner Classic Movies on Father's Day. Didn't I see that its star, Topol, passed away recently? – Richard Bell, Tacoma, Wash.

A: Sadly, he did. Chaim Topol died in March in his native Tel Aviv, where he also was celebrated as a founder of Variety Israel and Jordan River Village, organizations benefiting children who either have special needs or deal with critical illnesses. While "Fiddler's" Tevye was Topol's most internationally recognized role, both on stage and screen (earning him Tony and Oscar nominations), the actor did much other work including the sci-fi fantasy "Flash Gordon" and the James Bond adventure "For Your Eyes Only." A playwright, screenwriter and producer as well, Topol was in demand as a voice talent as well ... dubbing the voices of characters in foreign versions of films that originally were made in the English language. Disney's animated "The Jungle Book" and the first two "Harry Potter" movies are among examples of such jobs that he did. After Topol's death, it was revealed that he had been involved in Mossad espionage missions, with his fame serving as a distraction for those who didn't notice others' spying activities.

A "Summer Under the Stars" continues, celebrating Lucille Ball with a day filled with Lucy-loving movies, including "Easy Living," airing Tuesday, Aug. 1, on TCM. The film follows Pete Wilson (Victor Mature), a football star who's just discovered he has a heart condition — he just so happens to also have a nagging wife (Lizabeth Scott) and a secretary (Lucille Ball) who loves him. To see what other stars will be celebrated by this summertime marathon event, visit: tcm.com/summerunderthestars
