*Fire leaves
local businesses devastated*

COVINGTON, Ga. — At 9:37 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 25, Covington’s fire department responded to a call on Hendricks Street. The building housing Shear Bliss caught fire, before spreading to New Shoez, Shelvie Jean and The Dude Store and Barber Shop.

Though other businesses didn’t catch fire, they were still impacted with smoke and water damage.

Covington’s police department was first on the scene at 9:39 p.m. with Covington fire department arriving at 9:41 p.m.

By 11:20 a.m. Saturday morning, the fire was fully extinguished.

In an interview with The Covington News on Monday, Aug. 28, Covington fire marshal and interim fire chief Joe Doss shared the latest update.

Doss said the investigation has been turned over to the state to avoid bias from those who responded to the scene.

“[The state] has done the investigation. We walked an arson canine dog,” Doss said. “The dog did not respond on anything. But that being said, there was so much water and so much stuff happening. It’s a bad scene to try and investigate.”

According to Doss, the problem with the scene revolved around the ceiling. Due to how expensive replacing a roof is, the building endured having several years of layer added to the roof whenever leaks occurred. Doss said the roof could have been anywhere from 10-15 inches thick.

“You have the ceiling inside the store that you see as a shopper,” Doss said. “Well above that in these old buildings is the actual ceiling. The fire got between the ceiling, the last ceiling, and the bottom side of that roof with no access to it. That’s why it got so hot and that’s why it did what it did and when it finally turned loose, everything collapsed and pancaked into the stores.”

Doss shared that a determination of the cause of the fire has not been reached at the time of this publication, but that an structural engineer has assessed the scene.

Covington Fire Department: 'Thank You'

Dear COV and Neighbors,

Saying thank you is not enough to capture the gratitude of our hearts towards the warm kindness that you all have expressed to us. COV rallied around our organization and our firefighting, EMS, Emergency Management and Public work partners that offered assistance to us during the devastating fire on our historic town square. The long hours and arduous tasks are seemingly less trying now that we are serving a community that appreciates and supports our organization. The well-wishes and generosity is greatly appreciated. Each member of our organization truly feels that we are simply doing our jobs and are humbled by the support that we receive not only during incidents such as this but on a regular basis. This support makes being a member of the Covington Fire Department a true honor.

*With thanks and appreciation,
The Covington Fire Department*

COMMUNITY MEMBERS AND LOCAL BUSINESSES AIDED THE RESPONSE, DONATING WATER, GATORADE AND FOOD EARLY SATURDAY MORNING.

"This is going to be a major scene," Doss said. "They could all look at it and go, 'No, we're going to tear this down.' If they tear it down. That is a freestanding building. It has four sides to it. They will just have to be careful to the left and right as they start dropping things to make sure that those dropping don't affect the building that's touching it."

There were no injuries. Streets near the block (portions of Monticello, Hendricks, Reynolds and Washington) remain closed.

At 1:50 a.m. Saturday morning, Doss described the nature of the fire.

"In one of our buildings, a fire was located on the backside from where we're standing," Doss said. "Units responded. Found heavy fire in the exterior of the building that found its way interior of the building. These buildings are old. Many, many roofs, many ceilings inside. Found its way between ceiling and roof and it's almost impossible for us to get there to get it out."

Covington fire department received assistance from Newton, Rockdale, DeKalb, Henry, Walton counties' fire department as well as the City of Atlanta. Approximately 50 firefighters were on the scene, Doss said.

The Covington fire department and Newton County Fire Services worked through the morning to smother any "hot spots." The Street Department, members of the Land Application Team and Deputy City Manager John King cleaned up debris from the street.

On Saturday, debris from businesses with storefronts on Monticello Street began to clear out. Doss said piles of debris from some of the businesses were taken off site and kept in piles per each business to clear the scene and allow the investigator to look through the evidence.

Doss touched on the historic value of the building - which he estimated to be somewhere from 100-150 years old - and explained how its construction impacted the fire.

"The way they built [these buildings] back in the day, was you build the building, free standing, you build the next building next to that building so the walls touched," Doss said.

"So it's fantastic the way they built it and that's what stopped it from going to other buildings."

Regarding the performance of all fire personnel involved, Doss was pleased and grateful.

"We ended up with 50 plus firefighters on scene. For us, that's massive amounts of moving parts that we're not used to," Doss said. "But we made it work. We kept up with everybody. We knew where everybody was. People reporting in like they're supposed to... A phenomenal job. Everybody did really, really well."

However, the outpour of support from the community is what moved Doss.

First responders on scene were provided with a truckload of water, Powerade and Gatorade through a donation from Walmart and a citizen who delivered the drinks.

Doss said food was also provided.

"I want to tell everybody - what they saw the fire service personnel doing is what they trained for," Doss said. "This is what we do. This is our job. But what we didn't see that we didn't anticipate was that outpouring from the community... The outpouring is just unreal. It really is."

City of Covington community development director and public information officer Ken Malcom provided insight on the impact of the fire on the businesses and the community.

"This is devastating," Malcom said. "There've been businesses who were doing very well for a number of years and now they're gone. It's four businesses that look like they're just going to be a total loss."

In the last 12 months, Malcom said 690,000 different people - with a total of 2.6 million "reaches" altogether - have visited the downtown area. Though the movie and television productions that have been filmed throughout Covington have contributed to tourism, Malcom said it has also given opportunity for local businesses to thrive.

"Our merchants have been able to prosper from that and do well with having the influx of people coming in shopping and eating and just spending time in our downtown," Malcom said. "We've lost a section of that."

In efforts to help affected businesses, the City of Covington, the Downtown Development Authority and the Chamber of Commerce have worked together to establish the Small Business Resiliency Fund - which was initially offered as aid for small businesses during the coronavirus pandemic.

"This would be funds that are donated from organizations, corporations, businesses, individuals and fundraising efforts," Malcom said. "We're hoping that anyone that wishes to do something will send their funds to this fund."

Malcom said the city is working to create links and QR codes for easy access and to ease the process of donating through apps like Venmo and Cash App. For those looking to donate to the fund before those links are made available, Malcom said they can write a check making it out to the fund and deliver it to the Chamber.

Additionally, Malcom said T-shirts are currently being designed through Rush Tees, where proceeds will benefit the fund.

Following Friday night's devastation, other local businesses on the Square have stepped up to the plate to support their fellow merchants - something Malcom notes as "special."

"It's one of the benefits of living in a small town," Malcom said. "I think the people that live in this community are connected to somebody that's been impacted by this personally... One thing that is so special is you're seeing all these other businesses downtown, they're rallying right now to take care of their own and then you got Covington, Newton County rallying to take care of them."

Despite the devastation of the fire, Malcom said the "tight-knit" community of Covington will offer aid to those affected by the fire.

"We'll rebuild and we'll move forward and we'll support these merchants that lost everything tonight the best we can," Malcom said. "We're a tight knit community and we'll help them pick things back up."

State senators to take on commercial trucker shortage

CAPITOL BEAT
News Service

ATLANTA - The Georgia Senate is about to tackle a persistent shortage of workers in one of the state's key industries: commercial trucking.

A Senate study committee formed to find solutions to an inadequate supply of truck drivers will hold its first meeting this coming Wednesday.

"It's been an issue for awhile," said Seth Millican, executive director of the Georgia Transportation Alliance, an affiliate of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce. "The pandemic and supply chain crunch we saw directed a lot of attention to it."

The shortage is being felt particularly in long-haul trucking. Millican said many drivers have been lured away from the long-haul segment of the industry by the growth in e-commerce that accompanied the pandemic and has continued as Georgians become accustomed to the convenience.

"People who had never been online shopping became one during the pandemic," Millican said.

"A lot of drivers are working for Amazon," added state Sen. Jason Anavitate, R-Dallas, who will chair the study committee. "They still drive a truck, but they can go home at night."

Like many other industries, commercial trucking is suffering from an aging workforce.

Ray Perren, the Technical College System of Georgia's (TCSG) deputy commissioner for technical education, said more than half of the commercial trucking workforce is within five years of retirement.

The technical college system has been working for the past decade to train young Georgians to replace those retiring truckers. An initiative then-Gov. Nathan Deal launched in 2013 to offer full tuition coverage through the HOPE Grant program for technical college students pursuing certain high-demand careers includes commercial truck driving.

Enrollment in the TCSG's commercial trucking program increased by 24 percent during the last school year to more than 2,600 students, Perren said.

"We took a dip during the pandemic, but it's coming back strong," he said.

The technical college system recently was awarded an $8.3 million state grant to expand the program, which already is offered at 19 of the system's 22 technical colleges. West Georgia Technical College in LaGrange has just opened a new trucking range, and ranges are being built at technical colleges in Columbus and Augusta, Perren said.

Still, Perren said there are challenges to training enough students to meet the growing need for truck drivers. He said one obstacle is Georgians' attitudes toward a technical college education.

"There's so much emphasis on getting a four-year degree," he said.

Perren said parents and students don't realize there's good money to be made in commercial truck driving. Graduates of the technical college system's five-week commercial trucking program earn starting salaries of at least $42,000 a year, he said.

"That's not a bad salary for a five-week training program," he said. "There's a lot of earning potential in this career."

Perren said another obstacle to churning out more commercial truck drivers is that - unlike other TCSG high-demand career programs - high school students can't earn dual enrollment credits because Georgians must be 18 to get a learner's permit to drive commercial trucks.

Millican said the General Assembly could help address the shortage of truckers through tort reform, a cause the Georgia Chamber has embraced for years.

"In Georgia, it's often exorbitantly expensive or impossible to insure a driver with less than two years of experience," he said.

Millican said other steps lawmakers could take to make trucking a more attractive career choice would be to support initiatives aimed at reducing chronic traffic congestion - particularly in the Atlanta region - and identifying and securing more parking options for big rigs.

Anavitate said the committee likely will hold two or three meetings around the state before a final meeting in Atlanta in November to finalize recommendations for the full Senate to consider during the 2024 legislative session.

Trump booked into Fulton County Jail in 2020 election case

CAPITOL BEAT
News Service

ATLANTA - Former President Donald Trump turned himself in at the Fulton County Jail Thursday night to face charges that he and 18 co-defendants participated in a criminal conspiracy to overturn Georgia's 2020 presidential election.

Trump - now the frontrunner for the 2024 Republican presidential nomination - and the others were indicted last week by a Fulton grand jury on charges including violating Georgia's RICO (Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations) law, submitting false documents and false statements, forgery, conspiracy to commit election fraud, and perjury. The RICO charge carries a mandatory minimum prison term of five years.

The former president traveled in a motorcade from his golf club in Bedminster, N.J., to Newark Liberty International Airport, then flew to Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport for the trip via a second motorcade and motorcycle escort to the Fulton County Jail in northwest Atlanta.

The motorcade pulled into the jail's sally port shortly after 7:30 p.m. Once there, Trump was fingerprinted and a mug shot was taken. The motorcade left the jail at 7:55 p.m.

The other defendants in the case - including former New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani and Mark Meadows, Trump's chief of staff - have been turning themselves in for booking all week to comply with a Friday deadline set by Fulton District Attorney Fani Willis.

The 97-page Georgia indictment is much broader than three other indictments handed down against Trump in recent months, both in the number of defendants and the scope of incidents it cites.

Trump is accused of asking Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger during a phone call at the beginning of January 2021 to "find" 11,780 votes, the margin Trump needed to overcome Democrat Joe Biden's winning margin in Georgia in the November 2020 election.

The indictment also cited a meeting of "fake" Republican electors held inside the Georgia Capitol in December 2020 to certify Trump as the winner of Georgia's 16 electoral votes rather than Biden. Other charges relate to presentations Giuliani made to state lawmakers - also in December 2020 - leveling false allegations of election fraud, a data breach at the elections office in Coffee County, and alleged harassment and intimidation of two Fulton elections workers.

Trump is due to return to Atlanta Sept. 5 to be arraigned on the charges.

A trial date remains uncertain, with lawyers on both sides filing motions requesting dates ranging from this October - April 2026.

WE NEED IMMIGRATION, NOT TRUMP, AT THE DEBATE

Donald Trump, the least self-aware person in the country, at least seems to know that he's a terrible debater. He has the vocabulary of a kindergartener, strings words together in combinations that aren't recognizable as English and has absolutely no idea what he's talking about most of the time. His sole objective when he begins a sentence is to get to the end of the sentence.

So why did he crush all the debate insta-polls in 2016?

First of all, Jeb! needed a billion more exclamation points. But more important, Trump had something no other candidate had: He took the popular position on immigration.

You forget this now because — post Trump — nearly all Republicans pretend to take America's side on immigration. Even Trump pretends to take America's side! (Luckily, he didn't keep any of these immigration promises, so he's free to reissue them.)

Even Mr. Open Borders, Gov. Chris Christie, who gave in-state tuition to illegals and directed his Senate appointee, Jeff Chiesa, to vote for amnesty, now resignedly says of Trump's nonexistent wall: "Look, at this point, I think we've started to build it; let's finish it." Gee, thanks.

Until Trump's 2016 campaign, the standard Republican mantra on immigration required these four points and no others:

1. Cite your immigrant relatives.
TED CRUZ: "I am the son of an Irish-Italian mom and a Cuban immigrant dad." (And a feral badger.)

MARCO RUBIO: "My family's immigrants. My neighbors are all immigrants. My in-laws are all immigrants."

2. Claim you will "secure the border."

SCOTT WALKER: "I believe we need to secure the border. I've been to the border!"

CHRIS CHRISTIE: "What we need to do is to secure our border."

3. Say walls don't work.

JEB BUSH: "To build a wall, and to deport people ... it would destroy community life, it would tear families apart."

RUBIO: "I also believe we need a fence. The problem is if El Chapo builds a tunnel under the fence ..."

4. Propose a bunch of B.S. solutions that definitely won't work.

CARLY FIORINA: "Look, we know what it takes to secure a border. We've heard a lot of great ideas here: money, manpower, technology ..."

CHRISTIE: "We need to use electronics, we need to use drones, we need to use FBI, DEA and ATF ..."

What would any of those accomplish, exactly? These politicians say a wall is cruel, but they're going to direct troops to shoot illegals? Have the drones drop bombs them? Will we use "electronics" to amuse ourselves with videos of illegals as they pour across our border?

The media try to dismiss Gov.

ANN COULTER

Ron DeSantis as another Scott Walker, but I distinctly recall breaking things during Walker's presidential announcement because he didn't say one word about immigration. (On the other hand, he did propose a slew of new military interventions!)

Jeb!'s presidential announcement also had nothing about immigration (unless you include a boring digression about his wife being Mexican). A year earlier, he'd said on Fox News that illegal immigrants had not committed a felony, but "an act of love." (The roar of applause from The Wall Street Journal could be heard for miles.)

Rubio only glancingly mentioned immigration in his announcement, buried in a list of other needed reforms. His main point was that "Cuban exiles ... former slaves and refugees ... together built the freest and most prosperous nation ever!" (What British and Dutch settlers? Never heard of 'em.)

This was a striking omission inasmuch as Rubio had won his Senate race vowing never to support amnesty, then spent his first two years in office pushing amnesty, which won him a pat on the head from Fox magnate Rupert Murdoch. Fox News rewarded him at the first GOP debate in 2015 by not asking him a single question about immigration, despite this massive betrayal.

After the debate, Murdoch tweeted: "Bush [and] others did well, perhaps Rubio best of all," while Trump spoke "nonsense" on immigration.

As you will recall, Jeb! dropped out after the second primary, having won only four more delegates than I did; Rubio lost his own state, and Trump went on to win more primary votes than any Republican in history. (Totally upsetting my worldview. If an Australian billionaire doesn't have his finger on the pulse of the American voter, nothing makes sense anymore — up is down, cold is hot, liquid is solid, black is white ...)

The crucial point is Trump wasn't a dazzling debater — the man can barely talk. His ace in the hole was to take America's side on immigration — something voters had been politely requesting for 50 years. He said he'd build a wall, end anchor babies, deport all illegals and on and on.

His immigration positions were steroids in a race where all his competitors had vowed to be steroid-free. And then, like every other politician who's ever promised to "secure the border," Trump betrayed us. Now, he's just another lying politician.

I guess we're about to find out which of the current candidates are smart enough to take the steroids this time.

Are you ready for some football? Woof! Woof!

Are you ready for some football? I sure am and it is about time. The University of Georgia, the oldest state-chartered university in the land and the last I looked with 25 Rhodes Scholars to its credit, is set to defend its two consecutive National Football Championships next Saturday against the University of Tennessee at Martin Skyhawks on Dooley Field.

Everybody assumes it will be a walkover for the Dawgs. UT Martin plays in the Ohio Valley Conference along with the Lindenwood Lions and the Fighting Leathernecks of Western Illinois, among others. Dooley Field and its 92,746 fanatics — some well-lubricated by kickoff — will be a whole new ballgame.

It is very satisfying to refer to the place as Dooley Field, in honor of the late Hall of Fame coach Vince Dooley. It took years to get it done. A petulant member of the powerful Board of Regents blocked any effort to make it happen and vowed it never would as long as he had any say.

And then along comes a guy by the name of Brian Kemp, who grew up in Athens, went on vacations with the Dooley family and was a college roommate at UGA with one of the Dooley sons. It seems he got himself elected governor of our great state. Among a governor's prerogatives is naming members to the Board of Regents. He "suggested" the board might want to reconsider the idea and — voila! — Dooley Field was dedicated in 2019 in time for Vince Dooley to enjoy the deserved honor. One more reason to love Brian Kemp.

Speaking of Vince Dooley, were he still coaching, he would have me worried sick right now over the real possibility of UT Martin upsetting the Bulldogs. Allowing fans to become overconfident was not his style.

I remember listening to him on the radio the week UGA was set to play Vanderbilt, not exactly a powerhouse. Dooley bemoaned the fact that the Commodores had a punter whose specialty was coffin-corner kicks — meaning he could consistently punt the ball out-of-bounds within the 10-yard-line. That would require long drives downfield for Georgia, which he wasn't sure they could sustain over four quarters. I fretted all week long over that possibility. Georgia won by 7 touchdowns.

Today, it is just the opposite. Georgia fans exult in two straight national championships and fully expect a third. Anything less and the anonymous social media rant-and-ravers with the fake cutie-poo names will likely be calling for Kirby Smart's scalp. To say expectations are high is an understatement.

But not for me.

In the good ol' days when I was at UGA, those good ol' days didn't include football. A four-win season was the norm. The annual butt-kicking by Georgia Tech was as painful as it was humiliating. Today's Johnny-come-lately fans dismiss Tech as a mere trifle on the schedule as compared to Auburn, Florida and Tennessee. Not me. The scars are too deep. You may judge the Georgia Bulldogs success as national championships or even SEC championships. I judge success by one game, the only game. Beat Georgia Tech.

I have had season tickets since the Kennedy Administration, which means I have seen a lot of football games on pre-Dooley field. The three best athletes I ever saw play were Fran (née Francis) Tarkenton, the Hall of Fame quarterback who provided a couple of years of sunshine in those dark days and whose jersey should have been retired years ago; Archie Manning, of Ole Miss, who would gain 10 yards after being chased around the field for 50 yards and quarterback Preston Ridlehuber from Gainesville, Georgia, who may have been the best athlete of them all.

A piece of trivia: Perhaps you remember the famous "Heidi game" in 1968 when NBC cut away from the New York Jets-Oakland Raiders game in the final moments of a seesaw battle to show the movie Heidi resulting in a national outrage from viewers. Preston Ridlehuber scored the winning touchdown for Oakland with 33 seconds remaining that most of the nation never saw.

Admittedly, I am an old fogey but I am a bit dismayed at what is happening to college football these days with the transfer portal, open betting and an NIL (name, image and licensing) program that has merit but needs better governance. The college game is becoming as professional as the NFL. But one thing hasn't changed: My love for the Red and Black. Go you Hairy Dawgs! Woof! Woof! (Just beat Tech. Please.)

on the day along with Eva Davis.

Anslee Saunchevraw pitched in two RBIs with Allie Vaughn and Avery Jewell's RBI apiece. Lila Whitmire had an inside-the-park home run as well.

It wasn't just the players' bats to pave the way for the rivalry sweep. Eastside's pitching assisted in a big way.

Davis registered five innings pitched — all against Newton — while giving up one earned run and struck 10 batters out. Meanwhile, Johnson saw action in both matches.

The senior ace went seven total innings and had a combined six strikeouts and surrendered three earned runs.

As a result of Saturday's outcomes, the Lady Eagles improved to 6-2 overall and have now won four of their last five games.

Wood has liked what she's seen to this point, but recognized some things she wants her team to continue to work on.

"We can do a better job — and we did today — with situational hitting and just situations on defense. And these are things we expect early on and something to be ready for," Wood said. "I've felt like we're already ahead of last year just because everyone's returned for the most part from last season."

Of the six wins so far this year, two came in Region 8-AAAAA play.

"It's about winning the series, not the individual games."

The Lady Eagles enjoyed a 7-1 triumph over Wind-Barrow in the region opener on Aug. 10. Seven days later, they downed Flowery Branch on the road 9-1.

In between those two contests, Eastside suffered its only region loss to date in a 5-4 nailbiter at Jefferson on Aug. 15.

On Aug. 24, the Lady Eagles produced their biggest win of 2023 so far by defeating Clarke Central 19-0.

The Lady Eagles plan to keep pushing forward with region action resuming.

"It's about winning the series, not the individual games," Wood said. "Every single week our region is tough. We're really trying to embrace it. It's only going to make us better. We've gotten off to a solid start. There are obviously things early in the season we still have to correct and be ready for the next round."

This week, Eastside will conclude its first round of Region 8-AAAAA games when defending region champs Loganville and Heritage come to town on Aug. 29 and 31, respectively.

The second round of region games will begin on Sept. 5 at Winder-Barrow.

Wood recognized the 2023 schedule as a tough one, but she has confidence her players are ready for the challenge.

"We're facing top 10 teams pretty much every week in Class AAAAA," Wood said. "But I believe in this team and I think they're capable of doing great things this season. I have no doubt we will stay on track."

followed by an additional three runs in the sixth.

It was a similar situation versus Alcovy.

Two and a half innings in, the Lady Rams led 1-0. Then, the defense gave up four runs in the bottom of the fourth. From there, Newton couldn't recover as it committed four errors in each contest.

Smith wants to see how her team performs in practice and translate it to gameday.

"We can do these things when we're at practice," Smith said. "But, it's like, when we get on the big stage, it's a completely different team that shows up sometimes."

Aaliyah Wilcox, Leilani Garcia and Karian Christmas each had an RBI in the two games. Wilcox's RBI came off a solo homer to center field against Alcovy in game one — her second of the year.

Senior ace Elle Standard was a workhorse throughout the day for her team. She pitched all 12 innings, allowed 11 earned runs — compared to the 16 total runs scored — recorded eight strikeouts and didn't allow any walks.

The Lady Rams have had some close matchups along the way, too.

In the season opener on Aug. 8, they lost to Monroe Area 5-3 and, on Aug. 22, were edged out by Grayson 11-9.

Newton's win came on Aug. 15 on the road at Barrow Arts and Sciences Academy (BASA) 16-0.

Next up for the Lady Rams was a trip on Monday right down the road to face Rockdale County. A day later, they traveled to South Gwinnett in a Region 4-AAAAAAA matchup.

Moving forward, Smith wants to see her team have the "next play" mindset.

"We've talked about the mentality of it and how you gotta shake things off and make the next play, but we're beating ourselves up and we can't shake it off," Smith said. "And so we live in our heads and, once we get up there, you might not come back down."

Tigers at the plate in the win versus Newton.

Williams went 4-for-4 and batted in two runs. Kaylie McDonald had an RBI, too, in addition to Jamaya Anderson's RBI.

Olivia Tomberlin pitched the full, seven-inning game. In her outing, Tomberlin allowed four hits, one earned run and struck out two opposing batters.

In the second game against Eastside, it was the Lady Eagles who set the tone early.

By the end of the top of the first, Eastside led 5-0 followed by a one, two, three bottom half by Alcovy. But the Lady Tigers never seemed to give up.

At the bottom of the fifth inning, they scored three runs. Two of those runs were batted in by Kaitlyn Williams on an RBI double. Tomberlin contributed the third run before the final out was recorded to end the contest.

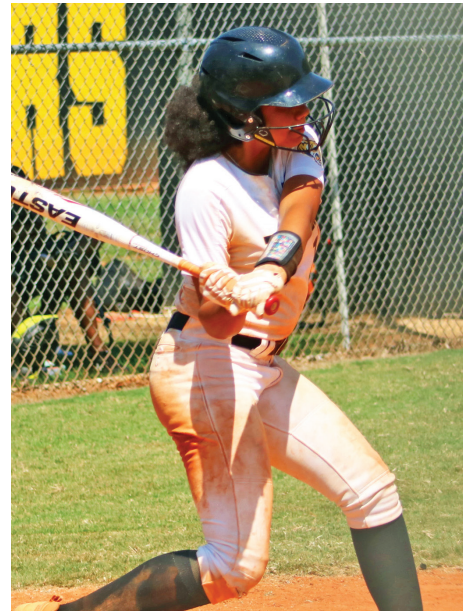

Saturday's contest ends the bulk of Alcovy's non-region slate. Before the season, Lamb wanted to see her team compete throughout each non-region test. Though she would've liked to see more, Lamb believes the non-region games will help boost the team's chances as the season progresses.

"There's things I think we're figuring out in those non-region games that will benefit us come October," Lamb said. "We knew going into it, we talked this summer about how tough that schedule was. I just want to see them compete a little bit more."

Two of those losses were a 1-0 defeat against Heritage on Aug. 8 and a 5-4 loss at Social Circle on Aug. 15.

Similar to last year, though, the Lady Tigers haven't missed a beat in the Region 3-AAAAAA part of the schedule.

Alcovy is 2-0 with a 21-0 triumph over Forest Park on Aug. 17 followed seven days later by a 27-0 victory at Mundy's Mill.

But the region foe to contest the Lady Tigers the most last season — Woodward Academy — comes to town Tuesday, Aug. 29. Alcovy swept the Lady War Eagles in 2022 and won Region 3-AAAAAA.

Lamb believes that facing Newton and Eastside will help her team ahead of Tuesday's match.

"I told them in the huddle after the game, 'Next week is a big week. We had five games this week so we have two next week but they're huge for us,'" Lamb said. "It's really important to beat Woodward here, because we don't have the region tournament this year. There's no chance for us to see them a third time. 'What are we going to do with them these two times we see them during the season?'"

SOFTBALL DIAMOND DAY

COUNTY CHAMPS

By PHILLIP B. HUBBARD
Sports Editor

COVINGTON, Ga. — At the conclusion of a sweltering hot Saturday, the Eastside Lady Eagles reigned victorious. The Lady Eagles defeated both in-county foes Newton and Alcovy to claim the 2023 Newton Cup. Head coach Heather Wood highlighted the significance of bringing home that hardware. “It’s always great to win against your cross-town rivals,” Wood said. “We always have a big crowd with parents and softball fans here. It’s great for the community. We’ll use this as momentum going into next week and region play.”

Eastside downed Newton 9-3 and Alcovy 11-3. Multiple players produced to help Eastside earn both victories, too.

Dezaria “Z” Johnson batted the most runs in with four RBIs and finished with a .571 average. Donee Morain had three RBIs

Lady Tigers ready for ‘big week’

By PHILLIP B. HUBBARD

COVINGTON, Ga. — Alcovy High School hosted the 2023 Diamond Day festivities on Saturday, Aug. 26. The Lady Tigers started the day off with a 7-2 victory over the Newton Lady Rams, but lost to the Eastside Lady Eagles 11-3 in the final game.

After the day concluded, head coach Miranda Lamb noticed progression from her players.

we’re playing Eastside,” Lamb said. “I think that affected them more here. I tried to remind them, ‘Hey, we have the talent to be able to battle back with this team.’ And head-to-head, I feel like we have just as much talent, if not more, than the team in green. I think we grew a little bit from that game especially in this heat. Even keeping the focus for five innings in this heat is saying a lot.”

Errors continue to hinder Lady Rams

By PHILLIP B. HUBBARD

COVINGTON, Ga. — It has been rough sledding for the Newton Lady Rams eight games in the 2023 season. They currently stand at 1-7 overall.

The latest two losses came at Alcovy on Saturday in the Newton County Diamond Day. Newton lost to the Lady Tigers 7-2 and against the Eastside Lady Eagles 9-3.

A commonality among the losses are errors, according to head coach Virginia

Tucker-Smith. After Saturday’s games, Smith said she believes that’s what’s holding the Lady Rams back.

“We showed everybody down here that we can play with them,” Smith said. “But we can’t play with them when we play against ourselves.”

Both contests were close early on. Through the first four innings against Eastside, Newton led 3-2. Then, its defense surrendered a four-run, fifth inning

With school back in session, 3 lunch ideas that kids (and parents) can enjoy

CHRISTOPHER KIMBALL

Bologna sandwiches may be the easiest kid’s school lunch, but it’s not difficult to prepare brown-bag meals that parents can appreciate too. These chicken cutlet, pasta salad and chicken salad recipes come together with flavor-boosting ingredients in just about 30 minutes. Thin breaded chicken cutlets fry up in minutes, and are terrific made into sandwiches or served with any of the easy dipping sauces listed below. To boost their flavor, mix whatever spice blend you have on hand into the breading before coating the chicken. We use Japanese panko bread-crumbs, which have a coarse, fluffy texture that cooks up remarkably light and crisp. Look for cutlets that are about ¼ inch thick so they cook through at the same speed the bread-ing browns. For creamy-rich pasta salad that’s also bright and fresh, we took inspiration from Mexican esquites, corn that typically is grilled or roasted and finished with a mixture of herbs, lime, chili and cheese. We simmer corn cobs in the water that’s later used for cooking the pasta for additional sweet, grassy flavor. The kernels, meanwhile, are charred and tossed with brine from pickled jalapeños, cilantro, Mexican crema and salty cotija. If you can’t find fresh corn, then frozen kernels that have been thawed and patted dry work nicely; you’ll need 2 pounds. If using frozen kernels, you won’t have cobs to simmer, so simply boil the pasta in the water. To make a better chicken salad, white miso is a one-stroke solution, adding savory flavor to a tangy, aromatic dressing with rich body. Grated ginger brightens the dressing with punchy flavor, and sliced cucumber and a generous dose of herbs add freshness. Slivered almonds contribute a pleasing crunch. You could poach the chicken for this salad, but to simplify the recipe even further, we used the shredded meat from a rotisserie chicken. A 3-pound rotisserie chicken will yield about 3 cups of shredded meat. The dressing can be made ahead and refrigerated up to four days.

Crisp-Breaded Chicken Cutlets
Start to finish: 30 minutes
Servings: 4 to 6

2 large eggs
Kosher salt
½ cup all-purpose flour
2 cups panko breadcrumbs
2 tablespoons chili powder OR curry powder OR harissa spice blend OR shichimi togarashi
Six 4-ounce chicken cutlets (about ¼ inch thick)
½ cup neutral oil, divided

Beat the eggs with 1 teaspoon salt. Place the flour in a second bowl and the panko in a third; stir 1 teaspoon salt into each, then stir the chili powder into the panko. One at a time, coat the cutlets on both sides with flour, dip into the eggs, then coat both sides with panko, pressing to adhere. In a large nonstick skillet, heat ¼ cup of oil until shimmering. Add 3 cutlets and brown on both sides, then transfer to a wire rack. Add the remaining ¼ cup oil and cook the remaining cutlets in the same way.

Dipping Sauces for Crispy Cutlets

Tangy Soy-Sesame Sauce
In a small bowl, stir together ½ cup soy sauce, ¼ cup unseasoned rice vinegar and 1 teaspoon toasted sesame oil. Makes ¾ cup.

Yogurt-Chutney Sauce
In a small bowl, stir together 1 cup whole-milk plain yogurt, 3 tablespoons mango chutney, ½ teaspoon kosher salt and ½ teaspoon ground black pepper. Makes 1¼ cups.

Yogurt-Tahini Sauce
In a small bowl, stir together 1 cup whole-milk plain yogurt, 2 tablespoons tahini, ½ teaspoon kosher salt and ½ teaspoon ground black pepper. Makes 1 cup.

Sour Cream and Lime Sauce
In a small bowl, stir together 1 cup sour cream, the grated zest and juice of 1 lime, ½ teaspoon kosher salt and ½ teaspoon ground black pepper. Makes 1 cup.

Sriracha-Mayo Sauce
In a small bowl, stir together 2 tablespoons Sriracha and ½ cup each mayonnaise and ketchup. Makes ¾ cup.

Pasta Salad with Charred Corn and Cilantro
Start to finish: 30 minutes

Servings: 4 to 6
5 ears fresh corn kernels from about 5 ears of corn, cobs reserved (see headnote)
8 ounces ditalini OR penne OR elbow macaroni
Kosher salt and ground black pepper
2 tablespoons neutral oil
½ cup Mexican crema OR ½ cup sour cream whisked with 2 tablespoons water (see headnote)
2 ounces cotija cheese, finely grated (½ cup)
1 cup lightly packed fresh cilantro, roughly chopped
⅓ cup pickled jalapeños, chopped, plus 3 tablespoons brine

In a large pot, combine 4 quarts water and the corn cobs. Bring to a boil and cook for 10 minutes, then remove and discard the cobs. Stir in the pasta and 1 tablespoon salt, then cook, stirring occasionally, until fully tender. Drain in a colander and rinse under cold water, tossing, until cool to the touch. Drain again, shaking the colander to remove as much water as possible; set aside. In a 12-inch skillet over high, heat the oil until barely smoking. Add the corn in an even layer and cook without stirring for about 3 minutes, allowing the kernels to char. Stir once, then cook without stirring until most of the kernels are fully charred, about 2 minutes. Set aside off heat. In a large bowl, whisk together the crema, half of the cotija, the cilantro, pickled jalapeños and their brine, and ½ teaspoon each salt and pepper. Stir in the corn and pasta, then taste and season with salt and pepper. Transfer to a serving bowl and sprinkle with the remaining cotija. Optional garnish: Chili powder OR lime wedges OR sliced scallions OR a combination

Miso-Ginger Chicken Salad
Start to finish: 30 minutes
Servings: 4

⅓ cup white miso
2-inch piece fresh ginger, peeled and thinly sliced
⅓ cup slivered almonds, toasted, divided
⅓ cup lime juice
1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
1 teaspoon honey
Kosher salt and ground white pepper
½ cup grapeseed or other neutral oil
3 cups shredded cooked chicken (see note)
6 medium scallions, thinly sliced (½ cup)
½ cup lightly packed fresh cilantro, finely chopped
½ English cucumber, halved lengthwise, seeded and thinly sliced (1 cup)

In a blender, combine ⅓ cup water, the miso, ginger, ⅓ cup of the almonds, the lime juice, mustard, honey and ½ teaspoon white pepper. Blend until smooth, about 1 minute. Add the oil and blend until thick, about 1 minute. Transfer to a jar, cover and refrigerate for at least 30 minutes or up to 4 days. In a large bowl, combine the chicken, scallions, cilantro, cucumber and remaining ⅓ cup almonds. Add 1 cup of the dressing and toss. Taste and season with salt and pepper. Serve with the remaining dressing on the side.

"The Wheel of Time"

'The Wheel of Time' returns for Season 2

Within the realm of the fantastic, several novels, movies, video games and series exist to tickle the adventure bone. However, despite the plethora of content, few franchises have the hold that Harry Potter, Game of Thrones and The Lord of the Rings do. One series that has recently re-entered the chat, however, is "The Wheel of Time," which is about to begin its second season on Prime Video.

First written by Robert Jordan beginning in 1990, the 15-book series was expected to comprise just six novels. In 2009, the book series was taken over by fellow fantasy writing powerhouse Brandon Sanderson, following Jordan's death two years earlier. As time progressed and more books emerged, fans of high fantasy craved a TV or film adaptation that would do the then-still-growing book series justice. Finally, in 2018, following nearly two decades of rights disputes, low-budget pilots and controversy, it was announced that Amazon Studios would partner with Sony Pictures Television to make everyone's otherworldly dreams come true.

Now, following further setbacks brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic and more, "The Wheel of Time" Season 2 premieres Friday, Sept. 1, on Prime Video.

Already renewed for a third season ahead of the Season 2 premiere, WOT fans can rest easy knowing that the series' writers did not need to rush to fit several books' worth of content into one (potentially) final set of episodes. Instead, audiences get another eight episodes in the second season, while looking forward to even more come Season 3 (likely to be released 2024-25).

When Season 1 began, viewers met Moiraine (Rosamund Pike, "Gone Girl," 2014) as she began her quest to find the Dragon Reborn in the Two Rivers. As a member of the powerful Aes Sedai, an order of women with the ability to channel a form of elemental magic called the One Power, Moiraine has been called upon to find a kind of "chosen one," the reincarnation of a channeller called the Dragon, who once destroyed the world. After gathering a small group — any of whom could possibly be the Dragon Reborn — Moiraine, her Warder, Lan Mandragoran (Daniel Henney, "Big Hero 6," 2014), and the four new candidates — Perrin Aybara (Marcus Rutherford, "Bulletproof"), Mat Cauthon (played by "Clique's" Barney Harris in Season 1 and replaced by "The Witcher's" Dónal Finn in Season 2), Rand al'Thor (Joshua Stradowski, "High Flyers") and Egwene al'Vere (Madeleine Madden, "Dora and the Lost City of Gold," 2019) — begin their quest to defeat a primordial evil known as the Dark One.

For the sake of brevity and avoiding as many spoilers as possible, suffice it to say that the first season did not end on a high note for Moiraine and her tribe of villagers. Despite the unveiling of the Dragon Reborn, a battle between the reincarnation and a villain presumed to be the Dark One only appeared to awaken a more sinister energy. Needless to say, a war is on the horizon headed into this new instalment.

"In Season [2], threats new and very old seek out the young friends from the Two Rivers, now scattered over the world," the Prime Video description reads. "The woman who found and guided them is now powerless to help, and so they must find other sources of strength. In each other, or themselves. In the Light ... or the Dark."

"The Wheel of Time" was adapted for the screen by creator Rafe Judkins ("Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D.") and the Season 2 premiere is directed by Sanaa Hamri ("Empire") and Thomas Napper ("Jawbone," 2017). Zoë Robins ("Black Christmas," 2019) and Guy Roberts ("Hanna"), who play Nynaeve al'Meara and Uno Nomesta, respectively, are both expected to return to the series for Season 2 as well.

BEST FOOTBALL MOVIES

"Knut Rockne, All American" (1940): In this unabashedly sentimental but potent biography, Pat O'Brien plays the Notre Dame legend who facilitates the wish of one of his star players (Ronald Reagan) to "win one for the Gipper."

"Brian's Song" (1971): A landmark television drama, this true story made stars of James Caan and Billy Dee Williams as football-playing peers Brian Piccolo and Gale Sayers, whose bond didn't waver in the face of serious illness.

"The Longest Yard" (1974): The remake went for broader laughs, but director Robert Aldrich's original is a perfect blend of humor and brawn, with Burt Reynolds as a former player who coaches fellow inmates against guards.

"All the Right Moves" (1983): This gritty but earnest high-school-football drama helped Tom Cruise along his road to stardom.

"Rudy" (1993): Sean Astin is affecting in the title role of this true drama about an unlikely player for the University of Notre Dame.

"The Program" (1993): James Caan is superb in going to the other side of the game as a college coach who tries to keep his job while helping his players through various personal problems.

"Jerry Maguire" (1996): Actual football action is sparse in Cameron Crowe's superb character study until the final stretch, but once Rod Tidwell (Cuba Gooding Jr.) takes the field, it's clear to see how much his performance in the game impacts sports agent Maguire (Tom Cruise).

"Any Given Sunday" (1999): Director Oliver Stone captures every crunch on the field and every maneuver in the boardroom with his saga of a pro team facing big changes, as the coach (Al Pacino) and the team's new president (Cameron Diaz) clash over everything including the latest quarterback (Jamie Foxx).

"The Replacements" (2000): An extremely good-humored tone informs this comedy, featuring Gene Hackman as a coach brought back to a team to guide (you guessed it) replacements - including Keanu Reeves - during a players' strike.

"Remember the Titans" (2000): The Disney studio got on a trail of inspirational sports dramas with this true story of a new high-school coach (Denzel Washington) who unites his racially divided team in early-1970s Virginia.

"Friday Night Lights" (2004): A darker side of small-town high-school football comes to the fore in director Peter Berg's fine, frank drama, with Billy Bob Thornton portraying the team's coach and country-music star Tim McGraw in an impressive acting turn as a player's father.

"We Are Marshall" (2006): The deeply emotional story of Marshall University's football team, which had to rebuild after a plane crash claimed many of its members, stars Matthew McConaughey, Matthew Fox, Ian McShane and Anthony Mackie.

"The Blind Side" (2009): Sandra Bullock won an Oscar for this true story, casting her as a woman who becomes the surrogate mother of football-star-to-be Michael Oher (played by Quinton Aaron). Lily Collins and Kathy Bates also star.

“I Am Groot” - Season 2 (Sept. 6)

There's no guarding the galaxy from this mischievous toddler! Baby Groot takes center stage once again in his very own collection of shorts, exploring his glory days growing up—and getting into trouble—among the stars. Season 2 consists of five new original shorts featuring several new and unusual characters, starring everyone's favorite little tree, Baby Groot, voiced by Vin Diesel who voices Groot in the Guardians of the Galaxy franchise.

“Movie: The Little Mermaid” (Sept. 6)

The classic, beloved story of young mermaid Ariel (Halle Bailey) takes on new life in this recent live-action adaptation. Hoping to make her own way away from her father's (Javier Bardem) strict rules, Ariel makes a deal with a sea witch (Melissa McCarthy) in order to pursue a chance at love on land with the dashing Prince Eric (Jonah Hauer-King).

“9/11: One Day in America” (Sept. 6)

This documentary miniseries from National Geographic examines the harrowing moments of the historic morning of Sept. 11th, 2001, through archival footage, eyewitness and survivor accounts, and with new footage that has never been seen before.

“Bin Laden's Hard Drive” (Sept. 8)

“Welcome to Wrexham” - Season 2 (Sept. 12, Season Premiere)

This hit FX docuseries is hitting the pitch with high spirits for its second season. Following “Deadpool” (2016) star Ryan Reynolds and “It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia” star Rob McElhenney as they purchased Wrexham AFC, a historic professional football club in Wales, and work to return the struggling team to its former glory, the series zooms in on the passion of the community and the impact the club has on their lives. This season, the team continues their quest to move up through the ranks to the premier league.

PICKSJessica Matten in "Dark Winds"The Real Housewives of Atlanta

BRAVO 8 p.m.

It's hard to hide at a reunion and the ladies bring all the drama back to the studio. It seems affluent lives often come with drama and conflict in Georgia's steamy capital city. Kandi, Kenya, Sher-ee, Marlo and Sandra have tried to keep it nice — but why?

Worst Cooks in America

FOOD 8 p.m.

It's time to "Choux" or be chewed as Anne Burrell and Jeff Mauro transform boot camp into a Parisian patisserie. The singles are then tasked with recreating pastries. In addition, the teams must create flavoured profiteroles and cook a romantic dinner.

Dark Winds

AMC 9 p.m.

In an all-new episode, Leaphorn (Zahn McClarnon) and Chee (Ki-owa Gordon) discover evidence that connects their cases, only for Leaphorn to realize justice won't be easily served. Meanwhile, Manuelito (Jessica Matten) prepares for a big life change.

Renovation Resort Showdown
HGTV 9 p.m.

The teams are exhausted now that all four vacation rental cabins are renovated. But they get a surprise with one last Rock the Dock challenge, giving them their final chance to impress Scott and Bryan and walk away with bragging rights and $100,000.

Unforgotten on Masterpiece
WGTV 9 p.m.

DCI Jessica James (Sinead Keenan) has big shoes to fill as she teams with DI Sunny Khan (Sanjeev Bhaskar) to investigate the discovery of human remains in a recently renovated old house in West London in this Season 5 premiere. It's a tough first day.

Mariska Hargitay: Calling the shots again?

Q: Will Mariska Hargitay direct more episodes of "Law & Order: Special Victims Unit"? – Gary Muller, via e-mail

A: It seems likely, since it's a job she clearly enjoys doing. She has directed eight episodes of her long-running NBC crime drama, two of which were in Season 17 ... quite a task, since it's often enough for a star of a show to direct only one during a season, given how much else has to be done acting-wise.

The real question for Hargitay now is time, since the actors' and writers' strikes probably will lead to a reduction of episodes ordered for the upcoming Season 25 by the time production on the series is able to resume. It takes quite a bit of advance preparation to direct a show, and since Hargitay also will need to focus on her role as Olivia Benson in other episodes, it would appear to be a matter of whether she feels she has enough time to get another directing job done to her satisfaction.

Q: When did Malin Akerman stop being a series regular on "Billions"? – Peter Drake, Terre Haute, Ind.

A: She stopped getting billing as a cast regular on the Showtime drama with Season 3, though she returned as a guest star in Season 4. The dissolution of her character Lara's marriage to Bobby "Axe" Axelrod pretty much spelled the end of that road (though they share two sons), particularly as Axe started to have romantic involvements with other figures including fellow financial genius Rebecca Cantu (played by Nina Arianda) and even his close counsel Wendy Rhoades (Maggie Siff) ... though the latter connection has been a long series of fits and starts where matters of the heart are concerned.

It's hard to hide at a reunion, but these ladies are searching for the spotlight, ready to bring all the drama back to the studio. It seems affluent lives often come with heaping piles of conflict, when you're living in Georgia's steamy capital city. Kandi, Kenya, Sheree, Marlo and Sandra have tried to keep it nice — but why? The curtain will be drawn back on all of Georgia's most fabulous drama in Part One of "The Real Housewives of Atlanta" Season 15 reunion, airing Sunday, Sept. 3, on Bravo.
