Eastside grad credits parents' 'work ethic' for win in Army's Top NCO competition

The competition required a hike over miles of hilly and muddy terrain carrying a 40-pound weight on his back and a rifle in his hand.

It tested marksmanship, physical conditioning and the ability to use a compass, followed by an interview by top non-commissioned officers on competitors' "viewpoint" relating to military life.

Newton County native Sgt. Hunter Davidson emerged the winner of the 2021 XVIII Airborne Corps Non-commissioned Officer of the Year competition recently.

The 24-year-old moves on to face other regional winners in August at Fort Bragg in North Carolina in the U.S. Army Forces Command (FORSCOM) national championship.

Sgt. Hunter Davidson had to hike over miles of hilly and muddy terrain carrying a 40-pound weight on his back and a rifle in hand as part of the competition.

Davidson, said she and other family members knew "in our hearts and minds" that Sgt. Davidson had a very good chance of winning.

"He just has that determination," she said.

Hunter is the youngest of five siblings and said seeing his parents' "extreme work ethic" helped prepare him for the challenges of the NCO competition and military life in general.

"To see them make ends meet where we were all able to play sports, we were all able to do the things we wanted to do, and to see them both working multiple jobs at times to make sure that we had a living — that work ethic and that dedication — that's a big part of my success," he said.

The 2015 Eastside High School graduate is assigned to the 3rd Battalion, 15th Infantry Regiment, 2nd Armored Brigade Combat Team and 3rd Infantry Division at Fort Stewart, according to a story published on the U.S. Department of Defense's Defense Visual Information Distribution Service.

Mike's Tire Depot has several locations in and around Covington. There will soon be another location on Washington Street (Georgia Hwy. 81)

Covington grants SUP for new Mike's Tire Depot location

By TAYLOR BECK
tbeck@covnews.com

COVINGTON, Ga. — Mike's Tire Depot will soon be located at the intersection of Washington Street and Turner Lake Road, taking the former home of Hayes Furniture.

Covington City Council members voted 5-1 (Anthony Henderson opposed) to approve a special-use permit for the incoming business with a handful of conditions.

The most impactful condition was a last-minute addition made by Councilman Kenneth Morgan concerning traffic flow.

Morgan said the intersection was an "area home to a lot of accidents," despite a traffic signal being in place. Because of this, he motioned to approve the special -use permit with conditions recommended by city staff, as well as the condition Mike's Tire Depot makes only one entrance at Washington Street and one exit at Turner Lake Road. After Councilman Don Floyd seconded Morgan's motion, Henderson spoke in opposition of the new condition. Henderson said he believed a traffic study of the area should be completed before holding the business owner to such a condition; however, Henderson said he was not opposed to approving the special-use permit as recommended by the Planning Commission and city staff.

Conditions recommended by city staff included all parking areas be paved with asphalt, concrete or "pervious materials approved by the city engineering department;" fencing be installed where outdoor storage will occur in the rear; removal of existing storage containers and RV; conduct all repair and maintenance activities indoors with no "junkyard or salvage yard" to be allowed on the property. Nonetheless, the council approved Morgan's motion 5-1.

Mike's Tire Depot representatives on hand for the July 6 meeting said the Washington Street location would be an expansion of its current locations on U.S. Highway 278 in Covington and surrounding areas.

In related business, the council unanimously denied a second special-use permit application to allow an automotive and truck repair facility to be located at 9126 Industrial Blvd. Despite being in line with the city's future land use plan, city staff and members of the Planning Commission recommended denial because the site was not compatible for the proposed business plan.

The staff's documented analysis and recommendation stated in part, "Staff finally confirmed with the applicant that the existing accessory structure was the planned site for the proposed

Chelsy Marise Giles
Scot Ward Funeral Services

We lost our beautiful, fierce Chelsy Marise Giles on Saturday, July 3, 2021 after a heartbreaking six-week illness. Chelsy made so many lives better in her short 34 years; her joy, caring, light-hearted and selfless spirit changed the color of this world. Despite the so many difficult cards she was dealt, her optimistic approach to life stayed constant. Whether it was breaking into a Disney song, telling a silly joke, or simply giving a gentle hug, she did whatever it took to bring a smile to all the hearts around her. She was the very loved, "cool aunt" to her nephews, Mason and Jace. Her love was deep for her Doug, her Lucy cat, her family, her Fiddlers family, her friends, camping, dancing and life. She was such a gift — one that was returned to heaven way too soon. Perhaps, as one friend said, her heart was just too big for this world.

Chelsy was born July 17, 1986 in Decatur, Georgia to Bruce and Vicky Giles. At age five, the family moved to Covington, Georgia where Chelsy lived until she left to attend the University of Georgia in Athens. It was also in Athens that Chelsy met her fiancé Doug Herzberg and where they spent nearly five wonderful years together.

After attending college, Chelsy graduated Cum Laude with a degree in Early Childhood education. During college and following graduation, Chelsy worked for her dear friends at Terrapin Brewery in Athens. Most recently, Chelsy was a customer service representative for a non-profit organization, Quality Deer Management Association.

Blossoming into a very beautiful and very loved social butterfly, Chelsy found many BEST friends from Covington and in Athens and beyond. All will miss her.

Chelsy is preceded in death by her beloved daddy, Bruce Giles. Survivors include fiancé, Doug Herzberg and cat Lucy; mother, Vicky Giles; sisters and brothers-in-law, Tori and Rodney Underwood, Lorien and Steven Moran; nephews Mason and Jace Moran; grandmother, Margaret McCamy and many other loving aunts, uncles and cousins from all over - a special mention to her Aunt Terry Gantt and cousin Mitchell Giles.

Creative, funny, intelligent, loving, kind and courageous and most of all fierce. That was our Chelsy. Our lives will never be the same.

Will the Circle Be Unbroken
A memorial service will be held Saturday, July 17, 2021, at 2:00 PM at Scot Ward's Green Meadow Chapel with Michael Thorpe, Presbyterian Elder officiating. Family will receive friends Friday, July 16, 2021, from 5:00 - 7:00 PM at the funeral home. Those who desire may make contributions in memory of Chelsy Giles to the Epilepsy Foundation of Georgia.

Condolences may be submitted on-line at www.scotward.com. Scot Ward Funeral Services, 699 American Legion Road, Conyers, GA 30012, 770-483-7216.

Oxford alumni reconnect with inmates they taught college courses

By TOM SPIGOLON
tspigolon@covnews.com

OXFORD, Ga. — Two former Oxford College students recently reunited with some of the former prisoners they helped teach in a special program that offered college courses to inmates at a state prison in Gwinnett County.

Katie Pleiss of Dunwoody and Ally Render of Johns Creek were the students who volunteered with a college-in-prison program called Common Good Atlanta while they were at Oxford College of Emory University in 2019.

Former Oxford College student Ally Render poses with former inmates who were part of a college-in-prison program Render was part of in 2019. She recently graduated from Emory University.

Higinbotham founded Common Good Atlanta in 2008 after saying she felt called to volunteer to teach at a prison as a response to her uncle’s incarceration, according to information from the nonprofit.

The program has grown to include more than 60 faculty members teaching courses in four prisons, including Phillips, Metro Reentry Facility, Whitworth Women’s Facility and Burruss Correctional.

Pleiss said she oversaw the inmates’ monthly writing projects and was able to establish one-on-one relationships with them.

“Before COVID, it was a big part of my college experience,” she said.

Pleiss said she was able to overcome her apprehension of going through the security measures required to enter a state prison.

“It was intense, very intimidating,” she said.

“Going into an environment where you’re yelled at, I remember the first couple of times I felt like a criminal,” Pleiss said. “You can easily get in trouble if you’re not wearing the right name tag.”

Render recently earned a degree in quantitative science.

She tutored the inmates in math as part of a course that was similar to those required to obtain a GED, Render said.

She said participation in the program showed her some subject areas help “restore dignity and humanity” to prisoners.

“I learned education was a way for them to reconnect with society,” she said. “They kind of changed ... how I viewed education.”

A press release detailed their meeting at an Atlanta park with alumni from the prison program to celebrate the former Oxford students’ recent graduation from Emory University.

Pleiss told six former inmates who participated in the program that, “You changed everything for me.”

“From writing my honors thesis about the need for human dignity in prison to steering my path toward law school, you guys inspired me,” she said.

One former inmate, only identified as Quang, who went to prison at age 16 and served 20 years, brought his young son to the park.

As he held his son, he told the graduates “You didn’t just help us while we were in prison, you transformed the next generation — our children — too.”

Another former inmate named Dominique told the Emory students that, “you have no idea the difference you made.”

“You showed us we are your peers, even when we were hardly treated like human beings in prison,” he said. “You convinced us that we have something to give the world, and now we are out and making it. Thank you.”

Local Head Start programs receive American Rescue Plan funds

By TOM SPIGOLON
tspigolon@covnews.com

COVINGTON, Ga. — More than 100 children in Newton County will be the beneficiaries of funding earmarked for local Head Start programs as part of the American Rescue Plan.

U.S. Rep. Hank Johnson, D-Lithonia, announced he helped secure $562,355 for McIntosh Trail Early Childhood Development Council as part of an overall $6 million grant that will benefit five area Head Start programs.

McIntosh Trail enrolls 120 children in its location near Porter-dale.

It sponsors 25 Head Start and eight pre-kindergarten classrooms in seven counties, including Newton, with a total enrollment of 629 children, according to information from the agency.

“This investment will help our local Head Start programs continue preparing Georgia kids for success and help parents get back to work growing our economy knowing their kids are safe and cared for,” Johnson said.

Officials with McIntosh did not return calls and emails for comment.

Johnson also secured $2,696,911 for YMCA of Metro Atlanta/Early Childhood Development Co.; $2,394,197 for Easter Seals North Georgia, Inc.; $263,230 for CDI Head Start/DeKalb and Rockdale counties; and $220,156 for Georgia Department of Early Care and Learning.

Easter Seals North

Georgia operates 14 child development centers in Metro Atlanta, including one in Monroe, according to the agency’s website.

Donna Davidson, president and CEO of Easter Seals North Georgia, said, “This investment will allow our organization to continue to support our staff, children and families during this unprecedented time by allowing for extended year programming, facility safety upgrades, staff training and wellness supports, along with other components supporting in-person, comprehensive services.”

Head Start is a national program that provides comprehensive developmental services for low-income, pre-school children ages

3 to 5 and social services for their families. Specific services for children focus on education, socio-emotional development, physical and mental health, and nutrition. It is funded by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Pre-K is funded by the state Bright from the Start agency, previously known as the Office of School Readiness.

Per the City’s repair and maintenance activity ordinance under 16.20.100, all automobile repair and maintenance activity shall be conducted indoors, staff finds this structure unable to support the proposed use.”

The council also took the following actions during the July 6 meeting:

- Approved an updated Urban Redevelopment Plan by a vote of 4-2 (Councilwoman Fleeta Baggett and Floyd opposed).

- Tabled discussion of code enforcement concerns to July 19 meeting.
- Approved application to obtain a license to sell alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption for Pure Food Mart on 4120 Washington Street.
- Approved $76,000 in federal funding for the Design Taxiway A2 Relocation project at the Covington Municipal Airport.
- Approved the adoption of an updated Hazard Mitigation Plan for Newton County.

New COVID-19 variant makes it even more important to get jabbed

If Newton County was a state, the latest numbers on COVID-19 vaccination rates show that we'd be the least-vaccinated state in the U.S.

Newton, of course, is only one of 159 counties in Georgia. But it is still well below the state average for being vaccinated against COVID-19.

Almost all of the new cases of COVID-19 in the U.S. — 99.7% — are among people who have not been vaccinated, according to a variety of health agencies.

But only about 31% of Newton County residents eligible for the vaccine, ages 12 and up, were fully vaccinated by Monday, July 12, according to the Georgia Department of Public Health.

We're well below high-income counties like Fayette at 51%, or Oconee at 50%. Newton is even below DeKalb at 43%, the department reported.

Aversion to the vaccine apparently is not confined to either race, as only 33% of Black residents and 31% of white Newton County residents eligible for the vaccine have received it.

Female county residents, however, have been more willing than men in getting vaccinated as 39% of eligible women and 31% of eligible men have been jabbed.

By comparison, the statewide average in Georgia is 39% — and at that rate it is 45th out of 50 states for vaccination rates in the nation.

Our state is lagging well behind states like Vermont and Massachusetts that are around 75% each.

Now comes the news about the highly contagious Delta variant of the disease. And it should make people stand up and realize the COVID-19 pandemic is still with us and still as dangerous as ever.

In the words of, likely, the most highly regarded and, at the same time, most reviled public health expert in our nation's history, Dr. Anthony Fauci, COVID-19 doesn't care if you're Republican or Democrat.

Delta is a highly contagious variant of the novel coronavirus initially identified in India. It is now the dominant strain in the U.S., according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Data from the CDC showed the variant was estimated to account for 51.7% of all new cases of COVID-19 nationwide as of July 3.

Many states seeing the largest two-week increases in cases — including Nevada, Arizona, Missouri, Arkansas, Utah and Oklahoma — all have vaccination rates well below the national rate, according to such sources as Forbes magazine. And those rates do not include the approximately 15% of the U.S. population under 12 who are not, at this time, eligible for vaccines.

Physicians are saying the most important thing you can do to protect yourself from Delta is to get fully vaccinated — get both doses of the two-dose vaccines like Pfizer or Moderna and then wait the recommended two-week period for those shots to take full effect. And follow CDC prevention guidelines both for vaccinated and unvaccinated people.

The Delta variant apparently is able to infect multiple people at the same time. But this area's rate of vaccination has gotten so low we have a stockpile of the vaccines.

Meanwhile, with the reopening of movie theaters and concert venues and a return to "normal," no one seems too worried about being infected anymore.

Gov. Brian Kemp, all aglow with unemployment numbers showing a rapid return of the state's economy, has seemingly been on every news-talk show available (with the exception of CNN and MSNBC) to tout his courageous effort to get people back to work in Georgia amid the pandemic.

Is it courageous leadership to give people what they want or what they need — even if it means requiring people to do something like not be among crowds in places like churches? Churches are the places the less contagious variant of the disease spread like wildfire in places like Bartow County in northeast Georgia in March 2020.

With this news about the Delta variant and the fact it's so easy to get a vaccination, isn't it time you protect yourself and your loved ones?

High schools should add media literacy course

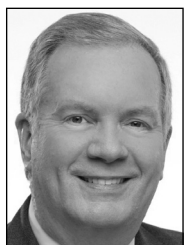

Each week the Associated Press publishes "Not Real News: A Look at What Didn't Happen Last Week." It is a collection of fake news, most of which has been shared online. The stories usually include quotes taken out of context, photo-shopped images, and doctored audio.

These are the stories that appear on your news feed courtesy of friends and relatives who believe journalists are "enemies of the people." It gives them a chance to share outlandish misinformation that reflects their extreme views.

Recent fakes include this one: President Biden wants to "swoop down with Special Forces" and "gather up every gun in America," and then "give out guns to people who get vaccinated for COVID-19."

Here's another internet lie: "Airlines are banning vaccinated passengers."

There was also video of Pope Francis speaking in Italian, with fake English subtitles making it appear he said, "I have a secret agenda to deceive people and unite them under one world religion in order to control them better."

Quite candidly, the most shocking part is that many people believe this stuff.

These fake stories were shared hundreds of thousands of times. The number of people who saw the fakes is likely far greater than those who read the AP's weekly attempt to set the record straight.

Although propaganda is nothing new, the internet has propelled fake news to a new level. These people are experts at distorting images and video so that you will believe that red is blue.

Once the fake toothpaste is out of the tube, there's no putting it back. Many people, out of willful ignorance, will happily spread this garbage. They make no effort to check the facts. They are rightfully worried that a few seconds of research might reveal the truth. When they are confronted by anyone who corrects them, they feign innocence. "Oh, I didn't know. I saw it on Facebook, and assumed it was accurate." Right.

I first realized how dangerous these manipulators are while speaking to a college freshman journalism class in 2016. A student asked why my channel wasn't reporting a sensational claim about a presidential candidate that he had seen on ABC News. I asked him to show me on his computer. It was a bizarre story that obviously had no basis in fact. But the website featuring an ABC logo looked almost like the real thing. Upon closer inspection however, it was not the American Broadcasting Company. It was the "Associated Broadcast Cooperative" or some such nonsense. How is an 18-year-old to know the difference?

Imagine if such deception was widespread during World War II. What if propagandists had such dangerous tools during the Cold War? Our nation was divided enough during the 1960s, with assassinations, protests, and riots. It's frightening to think what America's enemies could have done with the ability to convince half the nation to turn against our government.

I recently argued with folks on Facebook who are convinced reporters are destroying our nation by covering both sides of today's political arguments. "(The other side)" is obviously lying," they said. "Why don't reporters just call them out, or ban them on the spot?"

As tempting as that might be for some, I don't think that's the cure for a fractured nation. Both sides must be heard.

By continuing to flood us with a fire hose of misinformation, the fake news factories are creating damage that will take a long time to repair. We have gone from "I cannot tell a lie" to "alternative facts" and "what you're seeing is not happening."

The truth is out there, and it is presented daily by the vast majority of journalists. If a segment of the public chooses not to believe it, no one can force them to do so.

I can only hope that my children and grandchildren can someday enjoy the America I once did.

That's when certified election results were treated as such. It's when we knew the words that came out of our leaders' mouths were indeed their own. We knew that the news we saw in print, or that we saw and heard with our own eyes and ears, was unbiased and genuine.

I would suggest that high schools add a new class to their list of required subjects. In addition to reading, writing, science, and math, we need a course on "Media Literacy: Separating Fact from Fiction." It's apparently too late for some adults, but maybe we can educate the kids before they fall victim to the fake news epidemic.

Fun by the Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Then, to top off the physical and mental challenge, judges kept the competitors in suspense by not announcing a winner until a ceremony on the last day, he said.

Kathy Davidson said her son enjoyed field sports growing up and competed in a number of organized sports before and during high school — excelling in baseball. Hunter Davidson said he has loved to compete since age 4 when he began playing baseball on a team in Covington.

He grew up playing most sports, like wrestling and football, but spent most of his free time playing baseball on teams at City Pond and other local venues. He also spent many summers competing in other parts of Georgia and the Southeast on travel baseball teams.

Hunter is married to the former Addie Boes, a Newton High School graduate who grew up in Oxford. The couple recently settled in a house in the nearby town of Midway rather than living on the base.

Hunter and Addie married when Hunter was 19. He said he was doing well working with a landscaping business soon after graduation from Eastside but felt he was missing something in his life.

After enlisting, he trained in Europe and moved on to Joint Base Lewis-McChord in Washington State and Fort Stewart.

Kathy Davidson said Hunter let his parents know from his early teens that he wanted to join the Army.

“He wanted to be in the infantry,” she said.

Hunter Davidson agreed.

“It’s something I always thought about,” he said.

He said he saw the Army as a way to help those without the resources who “can’t help themselves” worldwide fight against the tyranny of extremist groups bent on conquest.

“His dynamic background with local government and human resource experience will bring a wealth of knowledge to the office,” the release stated.

He is a member of the Georgia Economic Developers Association, the Southern Economic Development Council, and the International Economic Development Council.

Dozier earned a Bachelor of Science degree in criminal justice and a master's degree in organizational leadership from Troy University and is currently pursuing his doctorate in P-20 and community development through Murray State University.

He is also certified as a Human Resources Certified Professional through the Society of Human Resources Management credentialing program.

Locally, Dozier is an alumnus and past committee member of Leadership Newton County, is a board member of the Newton Education Foundation and Newton County Young Farmer program, and is active in the Covington Rotary Club.

Dozier is a Newton County native.

Piedmont Rockdale opens new labor, delivery entrance

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
news@covnews.com

CONYERS, Ga. — Piedmont Rockdale Hospital has opened a new entrance specifically for laboring patients.

The entrance has been designed to ensure patients are admitted quickly and safely for labor and delivery services.

The new Labor and Delivery entrance is located directly across from the Milstead Avenue entrance. The entrance is for Labor and Delivery patients only and is locked at all times as a safety precaution. Patients and their support person will be granted access to the unit by Labor and Delivery staff members.

Piedmont Rockdale Hospital

The new entrance for Piedmont Rockdale Hospital's labor and delivery services is directly across from the Milstead Avenue entrance.

“We are excited to now have an entrance that opens directly into the department,” said Dawn Hurst, director of Women’s Services for Piedmont Rockdale. “Previously, patients would either enter through Building A or the emergency department, but when you are in labor you do not want to walk through the hospital. Now, our patients come directly to the unit and we are able to swiftly take them in for examination.”

More than 1,700 babies on average are delivered each year at Piedmont Rockdale. The hospital has a Laborist program meaning an OB/GYN physician is in the hospital 24-hours a day, seven days a week. Labor and delivery staff members are highly-trained in women’s services and many hold certifications specific to this specialty area.

“Our team is very supportive of our patient’s individualized labor decisions,” said Hurst. “They do a great job balancing a patient’s childbirth decisions with mom and baby’s health and safety.”

Pinnacle Bank to acquire Monroe-based Liberty First Bank

By DAVID CLEMONS
The Walton Tribune

MONROE, Ga. — Pinnacle Bank has announced plans to buy Monroe-based Liberty First Bank.

Elberton-based Pinnacle Financial Corp., parent company of Pinnacle Bank, has signed a definitive merger agreement with Liberty First Bank in which Pinnacle will acquire Liberty First in a cash and stock transaction worth about $19.1 million.

That’s about $16.50 per outstanding share of Liberty common stock. D. Lee Garrett, president of Liberty First, will remain with Pinnacle as a senior market executive in the area. A news release said Garrett leads Liberty bankers “excited about the new opportunities with Pinnacle.”

Pinnacle has branches at 6124 Highway 278 NE in Covington and 112 N. Cherokee Road in Social Circle. In all, Pinnacle has 22 branches in 15 northeast Georgia counties.

Liberty First is headquartered in Monroe, and Pinnacle has an existing branch in downtown Monroe.

Liberty will add about $183 million in assets, $72 million in loans and $168 million in deposits to Pinnacle, company officials said. Upon completion of the deal, Pinnacle will have about $1.8 billion in assets, $1.1 billion in loans and $1.6 billion in deposits, based on financials reported as of March 31, 2021.

“We are excited to announce the combination of Pinnacle and Liberty,” L. Jackson McConnell Jr., the CEO of Pinnacle Bank and president and CEO of Pinnacle Financial Corp., said in a news release.

“This transaction will allow us to partner with an excellent financial institution sharing our commitment to serving Walton County and other Georgia communities. Our partnership with Liberty furthers our strategy of expanding in our current markets where there is community excitement and growth.”

Dawn Griffin, the CEO of Liberty First since its founding, said the bank was “delighted” to partner with a company that dates to the 1930s.

“Our customers will benefit by the increased market share served by the combined bank, as well as the greater breadth and depth of products and services offered as part of this combination.

“Pinnacle is a true community bank and decisions will continue to be made locally by bankers with a vested interest in our customers’ businesses and community.”

Garrett has been with Liberty First as its head of lending since it opened in 2006. He succeeded Griffin as president on Jan. 1, 2020, and Griffin retained her title as CEO.

The Walton Tribune honored Liberty First

Bank as the Walton County Employer of the Year in 2018. Garrett was the Community Spirit Award winner in 2015.

Pinnacle Bank dates to 1934, when it was founded as the First National Bank of Elberton. The bank acquired Pinnacle Bank of Royston and took on the name in 1998.

Pinnacle Bank came to Newton and Walton counties when it acquired Georgia Central Bank of Social Circle in 2007.

The deal is expected to close in the last quarter of 2021. It had unanimous support of the boards of directors of both companies and is subject to regulatory approval and approval of Liberty shareholders. McConnell will remain as the CEO of Pinnacle after the deal’s completion. He is also chairman of the Pinnacle board of directors, which includes Dr. Thomas E. McGarity of Jersey and Greg T. Herring of Covington.

Lady Cougars working for new season

By CHRIS BRIDGES
Correspondent

MONTICELLO, Ga. — After a memorable and history-making 2020-2021 season, the Piedmont Academy Lady Cougars basketball team is already looking ahead to its next campaign.

The Piedmont varsity girls have stayed busy since the end of the school year and coach Michael Wilson said the team worked hard throughout the month of June.

“We’ve had a great summer,” the coach said. “I was really pleased with the consistent turnout and the work the girls put in for us.”

Players reported for practice each morning at 7:15 and had a determined attitude to get better.

“Our goal as a coaching staff was to make the summer tougher than in years past so we could get better,” Wilson said. “We made it a point to celebrate what we have accomplished but also to tell them that if they felt comfortable this summer they weren’t getting better.”

The Lady Cougars lost three seniors from last year’s squad. That trio won’t be easily replaced, as the senior class made a significant contribution to 67 wins, two region championships, one region runner-up finish, two Elite Eight appearances and the school’s first Final Four appearance in a four-year span.

“Those are big shoes to fill but we plan on doing so as they did when it was their time to step up,” Wilson said. “One thing I’ve tried to teach each team I’ve had is that those before us afforded you the opportunity to go where prior teams didn’t go — this group is no different. Just because the bar has been raised, it does not mean we are satisfied.”

The Lady Cougars played 11 games this

The Piedmont Academy varsity girls' basketball team is putting together a strong summer as it begins preparation for the 2021-22 season. The Lady Cougars are looking to continue their success after graduating a senior class that produced 67 wins, a pair of region titles, two Elite Eight appearances and the first Final Four appearance in program history.

Special to The Covington News

summer, earning nine wins. The competition was strong and should help prepare Piedmont for its opponents on the court in 2021-22.

Wilson’s team defeated rival Gatewood and George Walton Academy early in the summer.

“Gatewood has improved greatly from last season and even playing them in the summer brings out the best effort in both teams,” Wilson said. “George Walton was a good win because they are much bigger than us and are a well-coached team. They are young and improving and I expect our game with them this winter will be a lot more difficult. We also beat Washington-Wilkes and Greene County in a round-robin scrimmage and had a really good controlled scrimmage against Tattnall Square Academy.”

Piedmont ventured to a team camp at Troy University in Alabama and compiled a 4-2 record. The only losses were to Montgomery Academy, a state runner-up last season, and to Fort Walton Beach High School of Florida, a state semifinalist last year.

The losses were by eight and 10 points, respectively, but Wilson noted if they had been a regular season games with clock stoppages, fouls and a full allotment of time, the outcomes could have been different.

“I was extremely pleased with the improvement that Teagan Satterfield, Kylee Keck and Abby Arnold showed at the guard position,” Wilson said. “They are going to be asked to step up this season and fill some voids. We are going to need them to play at a high level and they showed this summer they are capable of that.”

Bailey Mobley, Haiden Crews and Dakota Floyd will also be counted on in the post this winter.

“They definitely gained confidence and at different points in the summer made big statements in games with their scoring and defense,” Wilson said. “All of them still need to work on consistency and their individual skill development between now and November but they are on the right track and I think they will help to fill in what we lost to graduation.”

“Of all the girls on the team, Bailey probably had the best summer in terms of improvement in the post position. I really feel she is going to help us this season. She is going to be a huge part of our success with her rebounding and willingness to screen for teammates and not demand a certain amount of shots each game.”

Maddie Waddleton and Hannah Tyler also impressed their coaches with quality summers.

“Even though they are returning and were very important to us, they are going to need to be leaders for us this season and to be consistent in each and every game,” Wilson said. “Their role for the team is going to expand and it is not going to be easy. They are going to feel more pressure because of what we need from them and part of us making practice so much more difficult was to help them reach the level we need.”

Despite the pressure on them, Waddleton and Tyler handled it well.

“They responded well,” their coach said. “There were some hiccups but it’s all part of the process. With each bump in the road, they came out of it better players and teammates and that’s what we need. They have sat in the shadows for five years or so but I knew when the time came, they would be able to fill their roles. I trust both of them to continue on what others have started and lead this team this season.”

Rising freshman Marissa Holder also had a solid summer of work. She attended the Troy Elite Camp where there were more than 100 high school basketball players and she finished in the top five in the 1-on-1 competition.

She also won the “Hot Shot” competition, which was a 30-second timed shooting contest. She went through six rounds and emerged as the winner of the event.

“That’s not easy for a rising ninth grader to do that at a camp with Division I talent,” Wilson said. “She was impressive and it was good for her confidence. She’s also going to face an increase in her role. Last year she wasn’t always our primary ball handler. And while I hope Teagan and Abby are able to share the load this season, we will rely on Marissa to handle the basketball more.”

“She’s a special talent but what is going to separate her from others is her ability for unselfish play.”

Mallory Kelly and Raleigh Loftin had strong summers and are understanding their roles. Hailey McGinnis continues to improve for the team as well.

“Our goals are simple,” Wilson said. “We want to win our home games and earn a third straight region title. We feel if we do that, we have a chance of being there at the end of the season. We haven’t forgotten how last season ended and we don’t want that to happen again.”

‘Knuckle sandwich’ packs punch

news@covnews.com

Dessert means different things to different people. Some may prefer a piece of cake, while others consider a cup of coffee to be the ideal capper to a delicious meal. Sandwiches may not be the first thing to come to mind when the dessert tray is rolled out, but this delicious recipe is sure to please dessert lovers who want to expand their horizons.

Knuckle Sandwich Yields 12 bites

Ingredients:
1/2 cup whole hazelnuts, ideally blanched (skinned)
2 tablespoons butter
2 pears, skin on, cut into 1/8-inch-thick slices, then cored
1 store-bought pound cake
6 tablespoons Nutella or other chocolate-hazelnut spread

Directions:
Preheat oven to 350 degrees.
Put hazelnuts on a baking sheet and bake for 12 minutes, or until they begin to brown. If hazelnuts are still in their skins, bake until skins begin to darken, or for blanched nuts, until they turn golden. Remove from oven and let cool. If hazelnuts are still in their skins, place nuts in the center of a clean dish towel, fold the towel around the nuts, and rub vigorously between both hands for 15 seconds to release the skins. Discard skins and reserve the nuts.

In a sauté pan over medium heat (err on the low side of medium), melt butter and sauté pear slices for approximately 5 minutes per side, or until they begin to brown. Reserve.

Cut 6 slices of pound cake, 1/4-inch thick. Toast the pound cake in a toaster oven, or on a baking sheet in a 300-degree oven.

Smear 3 cake slices with Nutella or chocolate-hazelnut spread. Cover entire Nutella/spread surface with hazelnuts, then press them into the Nutella/spread. Top with a layer of pear slices and cover with second slice of pound cake. Secure each knuckle sandwich with 4 toothpicks, then cut into 4 pieces.

Salads can be made with whichever ingredients home chefs prefer or have on hand. What better way to maximize the summer season than by incorporating summer berries into the salad mix?

Simple salad is summertime staple

news@covnews.com

When the warm weather beckons, people are apt to spend more time enjoying the great outdoors. Many people also are less likely to prepare heavy meals when the weather warms up. Rich, filling foods can make people feel sluggish, especially on hot days and nights. That’s why salads and summer are such a perfect match.

Salads can be made with whichever ingredients home chefs prefer or have on hand. What better way to maximize the summer season than by incorporating summer berries into the salad mix? In this recipe for “Blueberry Spinach Salad with Grilled Chicken” from “Cooking Light: Fresh Food Superfast” (Oxmoor House) from the Editors of Cooking Light, iron, folate, vitamins, and rich antioxidants combine to create a light, tasty meal that’s perfect for summer evenings.

Blueberry Spinach Salad with Grilled Chicken Makes 4 servings

Ingredients:
3 6-ounce skinless, boneless chicken breast halves
Cooking spray
1 6-ounce package fresh baby spinach
1 cup crumbled goat cheese
1 cup blueberries, optional
Blueberry-Thyme Dressing

Directions:
Prepare Blueberry Thyme Dressing.
Place chicken breasts in a medium bowl. Add 1/3 cup dressing, toss to coat.
Heat a nonstick grill pan over medium-high heat. Coat pan with cooking spray. Add chicken mixture to pan; cook 5 minutes on each side, or until desired degree of doneness. Let chicken stand 3 minutes before cutting crosswise into 1/2-inch slices. Cover and keep warm.

While chicken cooks, place 1 1/2 cups spinach on each of four plates. Top salads evenly with chicken slices; sprinkle evenly with goat cheese and, if desired, blueberries. Drizzle evenly with remaining dressing.

Blueberry-Thyme Dressing Makes 5 servings

1 cup blueberries
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
2 tablespoons honey
2 teaspoons chopped fresh thyme
1/2 teaspoon salt

Place all ingredient in a blender; process for 30 seconds or until smooth.

Fresh vegetables shine in warm weather luncheon recipe

When the mercury rises, savvy cooks know lighter fare is the name of the game. Light recipes can be made even better by incorporating fresh produce that’s full of vitamins and minerals. It’s even possible to grow many of these foods right in your own backyard garden.

“Baked Peppers With Rice Stuffing (Bajoques Farcides)” is a delicate stuffed peppers recipe that originated in Alcoy, Spain. Rich flavors from pork and chicken pair with sweet peppers, tomatoes and corn for a filling, yet not overly dense dish that’s perfect for warm a weather lunch or a light dinner. This recipe comes courtesy of M. Teresa Segura’s “Spain: Authentic Regional Recipes” (Fall River Press).

Metro Creative Service

Light recipes can be made even better by incorporating fresh produce that’s full of vitamins and minerals.

Baked Peppers with Rice Stuffing Serves 6

Ingredients:
3 tablespoons olive oil

1 large chicken breast, diced
5 ounces lean pork,

diced
4 ounces ham or smoked bacon, diced
7 ounces short-grain rice
2 garlic cloves, finely chopped
2 pounds ripe tomatoes, skinned, seeded and chopped
1 green bell pepper, finely chopped
3 tablespoons corn kernels
2 teaspoons paprika
Pinch powdered saffron
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
6 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
6 large red bell peppers

Directions:
Heat the oil in a large saucepan and fry the chicken, pork and ham or bacon until colored on all sides. Take the pan off the heat and reserve.

Meanwhile, cook the rice in plenty of boiling salted water until done — usually about 15 minutes, but follow the instructions on the package. Drain and reserve the rice.

Add the garlic, chopped tomatoes, green bell pepper, corn kernels, paprika, saffron, salt and pepper, and parsley to the pan containing the meat. Let the sauce simmer and reduce the volume of liquid by about half. Stir the rice into the sauce.

Oil a deep ovenproof dish big enough to take all the peppers. Cut off “lids” at the stalk ends of the peppers and remove the seeds. Stuff them with the meat and rice mixture and replace the lids. Tuck the peppers into the dish, cover with foil, and bake at 325 degrees for 1 1/4 hours.

Cecily Strong and Keegan-Michael Key star in "Schmigadoon!," premiering Friday on Apple TV+.

Apple's 'Schmigadoon!' a parody and a love letter to Golden Age movie musicals

You don't have to be an aficionado of mid-20th century movie musicals to appreciate the humor of "Schmigadoon!" But it certainly doesn't hurt.

Premiering Friday, July 16, on Apple TV+, the six-episode spoof offers up sly nods to classics such as "Oklahoma!" "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers," "The Sound of Music" and yes, "Brigadoon" as it tells the story of Josh and Melissa (Keegan-Michael Key, "Key and Peele," and Cecily Strong, "Saturday Night Live"), a bickering couple on a relationship retreat who wander across a wilderness footbridge into a land where everyone is happy and a production number is only a line or two away.

And it is there in Schmigadoon where they encounter such standard issue characters as the mayor (Alan Cumming, "The Good Wife"), the schoolmarm (Ariana DeBose, "Hamilton"), the bad boy (Aaron Tveit, "Graceland"), the flirt (Dove Cameron, "Live and Maddie: Cali Style"), the doctor (Jaime Camil, "Jane the Virgin"), the leprechaun (Martin Short), and the reverend (Fred Armisen, "Portlandia") and his wife, the town prude (Broadway's Kristin Chenoweth). And a whole lot of singing and dancing, sometimes to the dismay of the two newcomers, who find they can't escape this Technicolor hell until they find true love.

The series was created as a love letter to Golden Age musicals by Ken Daurio ("Despicable Me") and Cinco Paul ("The Lorax"), who aimed it at both musical and nonmusical fans.

"Everybody understands, basically, what a musical is," Paul explains, "and so I think it has fun with all those tropes. And then Keegan's character Josh hates musicals and wants nothing to do with them and doesn't know anything about them. So he's kind of the way in for all those people that ... maybe haven't watched 'Oklahoma!' recently."

But there is real meat here for musical fans as well, as the production numbers are elaborate and the performers for the most part have respectable to serious musical chops, especially Chenoweth, Cumming, Tveit and DeBose, who all have extensive backgrounds in stage musicals and in some cases, Tony Awards. And those that don't, such as Strong, a lifelong fan of the genre, acquit themselves quite nicely.

"I think while we're just saying love letter ... it was really important that we have legit Broadway stars in this ...," says the actress, who also has a producer credit here. "And when we filmed it the theaters (in New York) were shuttered, and it's a sad time to see Broadway that way, and we got to make musical theater during this time. And it was really wonderful and that's also our love letter to Broadway, I think."

Exploring new culinary frontiers virtually on 'The Globe'

Imagine having to create a dish from another country with no recipe, no knowledge of its ingredients and using unfamiliar equipment.

That's the challenge faced by contestants on "The Globe." Premiering Saturday, July 17, on discovery+, each episode brings four talented chefs to the greatest culinary destinations around the world via immersive 270-degree LED screen backdrops and tasks them with creating a signature dish from that country using only ingredients indigenous to that area.

The catch is the contestants, all of whom are executive-level chefs, have only a pantry of the ingredients and a few verbal clues from guest judges to go on. Nothing written down, no photo of the dish. Nada. Their training, experience and imagination will fill in the blanks – hopefully – and draw the favor of the judging panel, which includes resident judge Daniela Soto-Innes.

Robert Irvine ("Restaurant: Impossible"), the show's host, chuckles when he discusses this competition's degree of difficulty.

"They are working off taking those foods and using the techniques that they know in their own world to try and create something that is going to inspire or impress a judge," Irvine explains. "... (There is only) the picture on the screen that's 270 degrees, some advice from the judges of what they're looking for and then it's go time. ... The picture is only the town or the area. There's no picture of foods. It's just, 'Hey listen, you're flying into Addis Ababa. Here's the pantry that you've never seen before. Create a dish from it in 30 minutes, 45 minutes depending on the challenge. And this is what we're looking for – taste, flavor, texture.' You know, nothing more than that."

In addition to the aforementioned Ethiopian capital, "The Globe" virtually brings contestants and viewers to such culinary epicenters as Beijing, Mumbai, Paris, Tel Aviv; Florence, Italy; and Lima, Peru. The winner of each episode gets a trip to one of the three destinations in their episode and the chance to win a $25,000 grand prize in the finale.

But first, they have to run this unique competition show's unusual gauntlet, the pressure from which Irvine says can get very intense.

"I like the challenge," he says, "and that's what chefs do on a daily basis and that's what I love about this show. It's taking you as a viewer probably to new places but introducing you to new ingredients – including me, by the way. So it's a great journey for me, also."

OF 'FLATBUSH MISDEMEANORS' ON SHOWTIME

As a comedian by trade, did you find filming "Flatbush Misdeemeanors" helped sharpen your stand-up skills?

Yeah, definitely. I mean, that's always been my goal, is to be like a stand-up comedian who makes things, like the comedian who makes shows and films and stuff and would want each one to sort of feed the other and be able to just continue to do both at a higher level. And so yeah, totally, because you can just tell stories and you can hit other perspectives and that's such an important thing in stand-up, also, when you're doing a bit, is to consider other people's perspectives that helps flesh out the bit. And so to do that with characters and storytelling, they totally feed off each other.

And also, it makes you quicker in also the way we're shooting the show. We're shooting it very fast and we're shooting it – we just have to adjust to a lot of stuff. And doing comedy, you just have the ability to adjust and you're just like, "OK, this is the reality." And you roll with it. So they totally serve each other, yeah.

tonight's PICKS

Maia Mitchell

2021 WNBA All-Star Game

7 p.m. on ESPN

Michelob Ultra Arena in Las Vegas is the venue tonight as women's basketball's top players (as determined by a vote of fans, players, coaches, broadcasters and sports writers) show their stuff in the 2021 WNBA All-Star Game. New this year will be the format, which pits All-Stars voted in who are members of the U.S. women's national team (called Team USA) versus the other voted-on All-Stars (called Team WNBA).

American Detective With Lt. Joe Kenda

9 p.m. on ID

Lt. Joe Kenda showcases homicide detectives from across the United States who worked tirelessly to put killers behind bars and bring justice to victims in this true-crime docuseries. In the series premiere, "Fourteen Stories Down," detectives who are investigating what they believe to be a suicide change their minds and decide foul play is afoot after a second body turns up.

Good Trouble

10 p.m. on FREE

In the new episode "Knocked Down," Callie and Gael (Maia Mitchell, Tommy Martinez) decide to give their relationship a serious shot, while Malika (Zuri Adele) is blindsided by some news from Isaac (Sarunas J. Jackson). Thanks to some help from an unexpected source, Alice (Sherry Cola) is able to return to the comedy program, but the return of Dennis has Davia questioning virtually everything.

Food Paradise

10 p.m. on COOK

A new episode called "Bankable Burgers" launches a determined search to find eateries across America that offer the most bang for a diner's burger buck. That quest begins with a beefy, back-to-basics bargain in Las Vegas for only $7. Other happy discoveries include a wasabi mashed potato burger and a Texas-sized backyard barbecue masterpiece on a bun.

tonight's PICKS

Jessica Green

8 p.m. on FREE
While they're in Mexico, Zoey and Aaron (Yara Shahidi, Trevor Jackson) find themselves in some serious trouble after spending their first night out together as a couple in a new episode called "Drunk in Love." Meanwhile, Ana (Francia Raisa) debates Jazz (Chloe Bailey) and Javi (Henri Esteve) and the current status of their relationship.

The Outpost
9 p.m. on WUPA
Season 4 of this sci-fi series opens with "Someone Has to Rule," and that someone, Garret (Jake Stormoen) hopes, will be Talon (Jessica Green. Meanwhile, a mysterious assassin seeks revenge. Elsewhere, Falista (Georgia May Foote) mourns for Tobin (Aaron Fontaine), while still having the presence of mind to hatch a new scheme. Zed (Reece Ritchie) uncovers a secret about Wren (Izuka Hoyle), whom he wants to be High Priestess.

Sharkadelic Summer 2
9:01 p.m. on DISC
Will this summer set new records for certain types of shark-related activity? Snoop Dogg runs down a report on some of the craziest encounters between humans and sharks, as well as some of the wildest reactions to those incidents, to discern whether once again the United States is proving to be ground zero for a shark superstorm (not to be confused with a Sharknado, of course).

Alone
9:33 p.m. on HIST
The survivalists have struggled this season almost from the first day, but after a month in this stark wilderness, the arrival of bitter winter weather in the region raises the desperate stakes for each individual even higher in the new episode "Surrounded." An absolutely relentless grizzly bear has one participant preparing for a battle, perhaps to the death, while another's desperate attempt to get more food takes a life-threatening turn.

The Patrick Star Show

7 p.m. on NICK

“SpongeBob SquarePants” fans who missed last week’s premiere of this new animated spin-off during the run-up to the Fourth of July holiday weekend still have time to hop aboard this delightful show, which is built around a freewheeling TV talk show hosted by SpongeBob’s BFF, Patrick Star (voice of Bill Fagerbakke), who is lucky to have the warm support of his whole family. The voice cast also includes Tom Wilson, Cree Summer, Jill Talley and Dana Snyder.

Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives

9 p.m. on FOOD

As its title may suggest, the new episode “Pig’s Feet, Mojo and Chow-Chow,” finds host Guy Fieri on a culinary itinerary to sample some anything-but-everyday recipes. In Palm Beach, Fla., he finds a hidden eating spot serving up mouthwatering seafood accompanied by homemade chow-chow. To the extreme south of there, in the town of Marathon, an eatery with strong jungle vibes puts vibrant, fresh-grown flavors into dishes like mojo chicken and mango rice. Finally, a funky Hawaiian Filipino joint in Hawaii is known for their pig’s feet.

SurrealEstate

10 p.m. on SYFY

Fan favorite Tim Rozon (“Wynonna Earp,” “Schitt’s Creek”) returns to TV in this promising new supernatural series, which casts him as real estate agent Luke Roman, a charismatic gent whose team specializes in “metaphysically engaged properties” — an evasive phrase meaning “haunted houses.” For Luke and his associates, a “fixer upper” could mean “has an open portal to hell.” In the series premiere, new employee Susan Ireland (Sarah Levy, another “Schitt’s Creek” alum) gets thrown into the deep end of the paranormal pool on her very first day.

What's Available NOW On

“Flicka” (Available now)
Michael Mayer directed this 2006 update of Mary O’Hara’s 1941 children’s novel “My Friend Flicka,” casting Alison Lohman in the lead role of Katy, a rebellious Wyoming teen determined to tame the wild mustang she found in the woods and prove to her father that she’s capable of one day running the family ranch. Tim McGraw and Maria Bello also star.

“Behind the Attraction” (July 16)

From executive producers Dwayne Johnson and Dany Garcia comes this 10-episode series that takes viewers behind the scenes for an exclusive peek at the most beloved attractions and destinations at Disney Parks and Resorts around the world, including the Jungle Cruise, “It’s a Small World” and the Haunted Mansion. Paget Brewster (“Criminal Minds”) narrates.

“The Sandlot 2” (Available now)

This 2005 sequel to the beloved 1993 family comedy (which also streams this month) picks up 10 years after the original, as new kids in the neighborhood fight for control of the local baseball field and puzzle over how to retrieve a model rocket from the yard of a cranky old man. Max Lloyd-Jones, Teryl Rothery and James Earl Jones star.

“We Bought a Zoo” (July 16)

Cameron Crowe (“Almost Famous”) directed this affecting, true 2011 tale of a writer (Matt Damon) who decides to move his children to ... check the title again. They actually buy a house, but it has an animal park attached. Scarlett Johansson plays the creatures’ caretaker, and her work and Damon’s do much to elevate this above the typical “feel-good” movie that might be expected.

tonight's PICKS

James Badge Dale

Return To Shark Vortex
8 p.m. on DISC
As the natural phenomenon known as the Shark Vortex re-treats in the fall, sharks in the icy waters of New England engage in a ferocious battle for dominance. Experts Joe and Lauren Romero join Dr. Greg Skomal to confront raging oceans and fierce predators to capture new footage of the so-called phantom shark, and check on which species of shark currently reigns supreme.

The Empty Man
8 p.m. on HBO
Originally filmed in 2017, this supernatural horror film directed and adapted from a graphic novel by David Prior, sat on the shelf for a couple of years before getting a limited 2020 theatrical release without being screened for critics, lowering expectations for the movie. Upon its subsequent home video release, however, this surreal chiller immediately began to earn points as a minor cult classic. James Badge Dale stars as a cop on the trail of a missing girl when he stumbles upon a cult trying a raise a malevolent entity.

Family or Fiancé
10 p.m. on OWN
Relationship coach Tracy McMillan returns to work with engaged couples who desperately seek the blessing of their resistant loved ones as this reality series opens its second round.

tonight's PICKS

“Buddy vs. Duff”

MLB Baseball

7 p.m. on ESPN
True, the New York Yankees' struggles this season have taken some of the luster off their age-old rivalry with the Boston Red Sox. But as Yogi Berra once said, “It ain’t over ‘til it’s over,” and the Yankees still have plenty of time to bounce back as they close out a four-game home series tonight against their AL East adversaries. To date, J.D. Martinez and the Sox have dominated the season series, having swept two three-game sets from Aaron Judge and the Bombers in June.

Labor of Lies

8 p.m. on LIFE
Lara, a first-time expectant mother, finds an online “bump buddy” in Jamie, who’s more experienced when it comes to pregnancy, childbirth and caring for an infant. The two women quickly develop a warm virtual friendship, but Lara has no way of knowing that Jamie is concealing a devastating secret that poses a grave threat to Lara and her unborn child. It’s not long before that threat transforms from virtual to real-life, as dangerous characters enter Lara’s world. Gina Vitori, Jenna Michno and Jonathan Stoddard star in this new 2021 thriller.

Buddy vs. Duff

9 p.m. on FOOD
Buddy Valastro and Duff Goldman return for Season 3 of this hit baking competition, with each having won a previous season (Goldman in Season 1, Valastro in Season 2). In a sense, Season 3 spans the country, with Goldman and his cake artists executing challenges from their Los Angeles work space on the West Coast and Valastro and his team working on the East Coast, in Hoboken, N.J. In the season premiere, “Animal Kingdom,” both teams have just two days to complete cakes inspired by an African safari.

Zooey Deschanel

Games of the XXI Olympiad

8 p.m. on TCM

In this striking 1977 portrait of the 1976 Montreal Olympic Games, director Jean-Claude Labrecque — collaborating with fellow filmmakers Jean Beaudin, Marcel Carrière and Georges Dufaux — opted not to present a straightforward chronicle of the Games, but rather to focus on emotion-packed stories of individual athletes, both in competition and out. Thus, instead of the heavily reported triumph of Romanian gymnast Nadia Comaneci, Labrecque follows the story of Soviet gymnast Nellie Kim, who came in second to Comaneci. The film airs as part of TCM's 100 Years of Olympic Films event.

Getaway Driver

9:01 p.m. on DISC

Michelle Rodriguez from the "Fast and the Furious" movie franchise hosts this eight-episode competition series, joined by rally champion Wyatt Knoch, The series features 24 elite drivers ranging from drift champions to street racers to hotshot YouTube personalities who compete to prove they've got the skill behind the wheel and the mental toughness to outrun and out-drive the competition. The rivalry unfolds in a massive (nearly 60 acres) compound filled with obstacles. In the premiere, "Crash and Burn," three competitors vie to be the wheelman in a real-life high-speed chase.

The Celebrity Dating Game

10 p.m. on WSB

Supermodel Tyson Beckford has spent a lot of time on fashion runways, so he asks the women what kind of outfit they would wear to make them feel most confident in this new episode. He's looking to find a date with an adventurous spirit and a lively sense of humor. In another segment, former "Baywatch" star Carmen Electra puts a lot of stock in a potential partner's "vibes," so she asks her prospective suitors to describe their vibe in a single sentence. Zooey Deschanel and Michael Bolton host.

tonight's PICKS

Rob Lowe

In Their Own Words

8 p.m. on WGTV

Season 2 of this documentary profile series opens with an episode devoted to Pope Francis, whose story unfolds largely from the perspective of this religious leader himself, using direct quotations to understand actions and decisions at key points in his life. Born in 1936 Buenos Aires as Jorge Mario Bergoglio, he worked as a club bouncer and a janitor before studying to become a chemist. The episode highlights the experiences that led Bergoglio to the highest office in the Catholic Church as the first pope from outside Europe since the 8th century.

Mental Samurai

9 p.m. on WAGA

Host Rob Lowe closes out Season 2 of this very offbeat quiz show as he welcomes a new batch of contestants to the “obstacle course for the mind” where the game plays out. Contestants in the finale include a CSI forensic scientist, a former Navy cryptologist, a competitive baton twirler and a pre-med student, any one of whom would love a chance to defeat the Circle of Samurai and take home more than $100,000.

Motherland: Fort Salem

10 p.m. on FREE

The Unit competes for a chance to commune with the dead during the Celtic festival of Samhain, which marks the end of harvest time and the beginning of winter, the darker time of the year, in the new episode “Brianna’s Favorite Pencil.” Meanwhile, Scylla and Anacostia (Amalia Holm, Demetria McKinney) search for Camarilla leadership by attending a Halloween gala. Taylor Hickson and Jessica Sutton also star.

ABC News' Rachel Scott makes her mark – and then some

Q: ABC News reporter Rachel Scott certainly made a name for herself at the summit in Geneva recently. What is her background? – Jennifer Singer, Sacramento, Calif.

A: The Southern California native is an alum of the Annenberg School for Communication and Journalism at the University of Southern California, and her tenure with ABC dates back to 2015, when she started work as a production associate for ABC News Live. She then was assigned to cover President Donald Trump's administration. Currently, the U.S. Congress is her regular beat for the network, which led to her being one of few American journalists credentialed for the presidential press pool for the recent Geneva trip.

Q: Is it true that "Manifest" will never have an ending? That seems so unfair to people who followed it for three seasons. – Denise Hall, via e-mail

A: Series creator and executive producer Jeff Rake recently tweeted that he hopes to furnish such an ending, though he doesn't know exactly how, when or where. Originating studio Warner Bros. Television was in discussions with Netflix about salvaging the series that was let go by NBC with plenty of plot questions remaining to be answered. An initially hopeful sign was that the first two seasons of the show shot to the top of the streamer's list of most-watched programs upon their debut there in June. However, in the end, a deal to continue the show couldn't be made there -- and trying to make it happen at another streaming service would have proven expensive, given rights costs plus the price of renegotiating the cast members' contracts. As for what still may be "Manifest"-wise, we'll simply have to wait and see.
