Newton basketball coach moving to Gainesville

By PHILLIP B. HUBBARD
phubbard@covnews.com

COVINGTON, Ga. — Charlemagne Gibbons is leaving his post as head coach of the Newton Rams' basketball program to take the same position for the Gainesville High School Red Elephants.

Though Gibbons confirmed the move to The Covington News Monday evening via text message, it was made official Tuesday morning.

The news was first reported by AccessWDUN and, according to their report, Gainesville athletic director Adam Lindsey sent a press release Tuesday morning.

“We couldn't be more excited to have (Charlemagne) Gibbons join us,” Lindsey said. “What his teams have accomplished in each of his coaching stops speaks to the coach he is, but when you look at how he's been able to cultivate individual talent, that doesn't happen unless you can build relationships, and that's when you start to realize what a special human exists in that resume, too.”

The Rams' concluded the 2022-23 season at 19-11 overall along with a 9-2 record in Region 4-AAAAAAA and finished as region runners-up to Grayson for the third straight season.

Less than two weeks ago, the fourth-year head coach led the Rams one last time to the Elite Eight of the Class AAAAAAA playoffs that ended in a heartbreaking 58-56 overtime loss to Norcross.

Nearly 365 days prior, Newton's season ended in the Final Four, losing to Norcross 75-72 on March 5, 2022 at Buford Arena.

'Unlock the skies'

Work begins on factory to produce vertical takeoff aircraft

By TOM SPIGOLON
tspigolon@covnews.com

COVINGTON, Ga. — A company whose “mission is to unlock the skies” has begun construction on its new Covington facility that will produce hundreds of vertical takeoff aircraft annually.

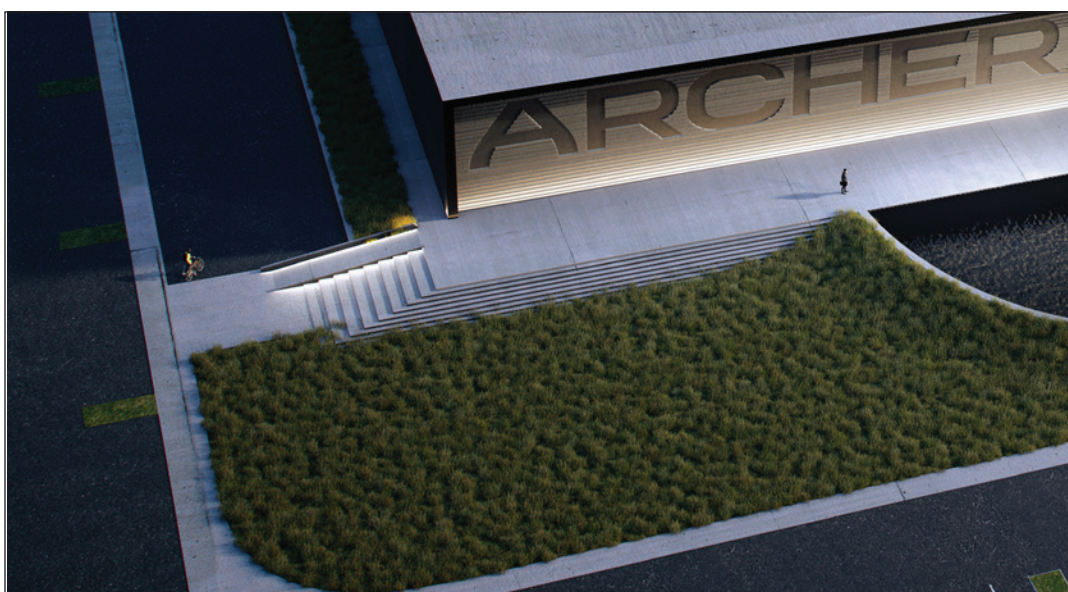

Archer Aviation Inc. announced it began construction March 2 on a site adjacent to Covington Municipal Airport for the facility to manufacture electric vertical takeoff and landing (eVTOL) aircraft, the company said in a news release.

“This achievement will be marked with a ceremonial event in April,” the release stated.

Santa Clara, California-based Archer is planning a $118 million complex on 96 acres of city-owned land on the western edge of the airport between Williams and Airport roads.

Hiring was expected to begin late this year and the facility was slated to open in the first three months of 2024, the company announced in November. Employment could reach 1,000 jobs, officials said.

will be 350,000 square feet and capable of producing up to 650 aircraft per year. It also will be designed for possible expansion by 800,000 square feet, which is estimated to support long-term production targets of up to 2,300 aircraft per year, the company said. “This type of high-volume manufacturing facility is believed to be a first for the eVTOL industry,” Archer officials said.

Archer's manufacturing facility was a joint project between the Newton County Industrial Development Authority, Covington city government, Georgia Department of

Piper to seek mayor's seat in Porterdale

By TOM SPIGOLON
tspigolon@covnews.com

PORTERDALE, Ga. — Kay Piper says she is running for mayor to use her marketing and accounting experience to remake Porterdale as a tourist and retail destination and make sure the government is on a sound financial footing.

Piper, a real estate broker and owner of Magnolia Realty Group, represents Post 1 on the council. She is the second candidate to announce publicly for the mayor's seat after Post 3 Councilmember Michael Patterson announced in December he planned to seek the office.

They are hoping to replace Arline Chapman, who has said she will not seek reelection to a fourth term as mayor in this year's election.

The mayor in Porterdale's government presides over meetings but only votes on agenda items if there is a tie.

However, that person also is responsible for signing checks and works with the city manager to negotiate and sign contracts, among other duties, Piper said.

Piper won her council seat in a special election in 2021 to serve out the remaining term of a councilmember who moved from the city. Piper previously served as a councilmember from 2005 to 2008 but resigned for

Search ongoing for suspects in triple shooting

By TOM SPIGOLON
tspigolon@covnews.com

COVINGTON, Ga. — Newton County sheriff's deputies Monday were still searching for the suspect after shootings injured three people in a west Newton park Saturday night.

The shootings reportedly followed an incident that occurred Saturday, March 11, sometime between 8 and 10 p.m., in a park on Crestfield Circle inside Fairview Estates subdivision off Fairview Road in west Newton County.

All three victims were in stable condition after being transported to a local hospital, said Newton sheriff's spokesperson Caitlin Jett.

The victims included three males, including a 43-year-old Covington resident, a 37-year-old Lithonia resident and a 31-year-old whose address was not listed.

"No arrests have been made," Jett said. "It is still an ongoing investigation."

A Newton sheriff's deputy reported being dispatched to a call about a discharged gun in the area of Crestfield Circle.

"While en route dispatch advised me a person was shot in the area of Crestfield Circle. I then activated my emergency lights and sirens and arrived at the scene," he reported.

"Upon arrival, I observed a black male with two gunshot wounds to the back and to the leg. Fire and EMS arrived and transported the male."

The Rockdale County Sheriff's Office, who assisted Newton County with the incident, said the other two victims made their way in a vehicle to a Shell Gas Station on Salem Road in Conyers before one of them had to be airlifted to the hospital, WSB-TV reported.

The 2022 Toyota Prius they were traveling in before they stopped in Conyers was listed as evidence in the case. It was reportedly damaged during the incident at the park, an incident report stated.

The Newton County deputy reporting on the incident identified four people as "offenders" but only one listed as both "offender" and "suspect."

A resident of Crestfield Circle also sustained damage to her home and vehicle in the incident, the deputy reported.

to lease the land as part of a tax abatement plan in exchange for producing the jobs and investment it is promising.

The company announced Tuesday it had approved a local incentives deal that, along with a state Regional Economic Business Assistance (REBA) grant, comprised about one-third of the planned capital investment in the plant.

Georgia was chosen over Texas and others competing for the company's first manufacturing facility, according to sources.

Archer announced in January a partnership with Stellantis to make the automaker the exclusive contract manufacturer for mass production of Archer's eVTOL aircraft.

Company founder and CEO Adam Goldstein said, "The key to unlocking the promise of what the eVTOL aircraft industry can bring is scale, and we are thrilled by the support of the state of Georgia and Newton County are providing to this first of its kind facility in such an exciting new industry.

"We are thrilled to be taking this next important step as we work closely with Stellantis to ramp up our high-volume manufacturing capabilities at this new facility in Covington, Georgia," Goldstein said.

The partnership with Stellantis will leverage each company's respective strengths and competencies to bring the Midnight aircraft to market, the release stated. Stellantis produces such vehicle brands as Jeep, Ram and Maserati.

"Archer brings its team of eVTOL, electric powertrain and certification experts while Stellantis will contribute advanced manufacturing technology and expertise, experienced personnel and capital to the partnership," officials said.

"The combination is intended to enable the rapid scaling of aircraft production to meet Archer's commercialization plans, while allowing Archer to strengthen its path to commercialization by helping it avoid hundreds of millions of dollars of spending during the manufacturing ramp-up phase."

Archer is designing and developing electric vertical takeoff and landing aircraft for use in urban air mobility networks.

"Archer's mission is to unlock the skies, freeing everyone to reimagine how they move and spend time," the release stated.

NEWTON:

Newton advanced to the Sweet Sixteen in the 2020-21 season before losing 87-59 to Pebblebrook on the road — a loss the Rams avenged this past season beating Pebblebrook by 22 points on Feb. 25 at home to advance to the Elite Eight.

Across the past four seasons, Gibbons compiled a 76-36 record overall and went 8-4 in the postseason. Gibbons was also awarded the 2022 Region 4-AAAAAAA Coach of the Year.

Not only did Gibbons coach the Rams against some Georgia powerhouses, such as Feb. 6's ESPNU broadcasted matchup against Wheeler, but he took them nationwide during his tenure.

Just this past season, Newton traveled to face Duncanville High School in Texas and then against IMG Academy in the HoopHall Classic played in Springfield, Massachusetts. The Rams also won the City of Palms Tournament in Fort Myers, Florida after beating teams like Charlotte High School and Tampa Catholic — both based in Florida.

That's not to mention last season when the Rams claimed the 2022 Sugar Bowl National Prep Classic tournament championship in Westwego, Louisiana.

Newton went 4-0 in that tournament beating John Curtis Christian (in Louisiana), St. Mary's High School (in Arizona), Westminster Academy (in Florida) and downed Beaumont United out of Beaumont, Texas 67-54 in the title game.

In addition to Gibbons' team success on the hardwood, he has also coached some high profile athletes including 5-star, McDonald's All-American, UCONN commit Stephon Castle. Additionally, 4-star prospect, McDonald's All-American nominee and Indiana signee Jakai Newton helped headline this year's Newton squad that started the 2022-23 season nationally ranked.

Gibbons will take on a Gainesville Red Elephants squad that's seen a bit of turmoil at the program's helm over the last couple of seasons. Coach Chuck Graham was ousted after the 2021-22 season ended with a 5-18 finish, but was given his job back before the start of the 2022-23 campaign. Gainesville (14-11, 7-5 in Region 8-AAAAAA) ended this season with a 76-68 loss to Habersham Central in the first round of the Class AAAAAA playoffs.

Bands asking support at performance evaluation event

By GABRIEL STOVALL
gstovall@covnews.com

COVINGTON, Ga. — If you want to hear some of the best young musicians Newton County has to offer, then Newton High School may be the place for you to be this week.

Starting Wednesday, March 15, and lasting through Friday, March 17, a total of 43 school bands from Newton, Rockdale, Morgan, DeKalb and Butts counties will converge on Newton High to perform in the Georgia Music Educators Association’s Large Group Performance Evaluation (LGPE).

The LGPE has been hosted at Newton High for the last seven years, and Newton band director Jason Smith is even more excited this year to get the word out.

“It’s a great opportunity, not only for students to get a chance to perform and be evaluated in front of judges, but also for people in our community to come and get a glimpse of the music talent we have in the area,” Smith said. “We definitely want the community to come out and be a part of this.”

Performances will take place between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. Schools will have the choice to present one or more groups to perform state-approved music. The groups will be evaluated by a panel of three judges with a separate judge appointed to evaluate the sight reading portion. Each judge will be evaluating performances based on national and state music standards.

In all, nine band programs from the Newton County area will be participating, and their performance dates and times are as follows:

Eastside High, Wednesday March 15, 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.; Newton High, Wednesday 1 p.m. and Friday March 17, 6:30 p.m.; Indian Creek Middle,

Wednesday, 10:40 a.m.; Liberty Middle, Wednesday, 1:45 p.m. and Thursday March 16, 1 p.m.; Veterans Memorial, Thursday, 11:10 a.m., Newton County Theme School, Thursday, 10 a.m.; Veterans Memorial Middle, Thursday, 11:10 a.m.; Cousins Middle, Friday 9:30 a.m.; Clements Middle, Friday 10 a.m. and Alcovy High, Friday, 4 p.m.

Faith Parker, director of bands and connections department chair for Newton County Schools, says having an audience beyond just the judges for these students to perform in front of would greatly enhance their experience.

“We’d like people from the community to come and support the bands even if they don’t have a loved one performing,” Parker said. “There are many talented groups that would appreciate the support, especially those from another county.”

Millard family requests another agency handle investigation

By CHRIS BRIDGES
The Walton Tribune

JERSEY, Ga. — The family of the Walton County man whose body was found wrapped in plastic and carpet and left in an empty lot almost two weeks after he went missing in Baton Rouge, is asking the Louisiana State Police to take over the case.

A petition circulating on Change.Org named “Justice for Nathan Millard” by Sarah Porter supporting this request has already garnered more than 2,500 signatures.

The Baton Rouge Police Department held a press conference Tuesday to release preliminary findings of the autopsy performed on the body of the Walton County man who went missing on Feb. 22 while in the city on Business.

The body of Jersey husband and father Nathan Millard was located 12 days later in a vacant lot wrapped in plastic and carpet.

During the press conference, Baton Rouge Police Chief Murphy J. Paul, Jr., said the autopsy revealed no evidence of internal or external trauma.

The final autopsy results are pending further studies including the toxicology report.

Paul said, however, that at least at this point there are no indications of foul play. They are asking for anyone who was with Millard on the night he went missing to come forward, even if something happened that caused a moment of panic. They just want to know what happened to Millard.

Investigators are asking anyone with information about the case to call the Baton Rouge Police Department or Capitol Region Crime Stoppers at 225-344-STOP (7867).

Millard vanished while walking back to his hotel room during a work trip in Baton Rouge. His wife and family are still searching for answers in his death.

Millard’s wife, Amber Maughon, said her husband was in Baton Rouge for a brief work trip which was only supposed to have about a 24-hour turnaround. Instead, according to Amber, her husband went missing after going to a basketball game and then going to a pub with a client.

There has been a lot of speculation as to what could have happened to Millard in the early morning hours of Feb. 23, but most agree that some sort of foul play had to have occurred. At the very least, his body had to have been wrapped and moved following his death.

Amber Maughon officially contacted the Louisiana State Police on March 8 requested the agency take over the investigation into the case. The request was also sent to Baton Rouge mayor Sharon Weston Broome and Louisiana Gov. John Bel Edwards.

increasing conservative outrage.

Collins’ office then released the following statement when contacted by multiple media outlets about his comments.

“Representative Collins has long been an outspoken supporter for the rights afforded to all Americans under the Constitution and Bill of Rights and will continue to do so while in Congress.”

Carlson said the footage he aired on Monday disputes the “lies” told by Democrats and those sitting on the House Select Committee investigating the Jan. 6, 2021, attack. Carlson alleged that the Democrats exaggerated the violence which occurred that day.

During a “Tucker Carlson Tonight” broadcast on Monday, the host said: “A small percentage of them were hooligans, they committed vandalism ... but the overwhelming majority weren’t. They were peaceful, they were ordinary and meek. These were not insurrectionists, they were sightseers.”

Carlson played footage that showed “QAnon Shaman” Jacob Chensley being allowed to walk through the building’s corridors without being stopped by police.

He showed clips of Capitol Police officer Brian Sicknick, who died a day after the riots, looking “healthy and vigorous” after he was attacked by Trump supporters to suggest his death was “very obviously” not the result of violence he suffered at the entrance to the Capitol.

A medical examiner ruled that Sicknick died of natural causes after suffering multiple strokes hours after the riot and that the events of Jan. 6 “played a role” in his condition.

In a statement, Sicknick’s family accused Carlson of spreading “lies” about the Jan. 6 attack by choosing to air clips that downplayed the violence in order to support his “delusional” views that the insurrection was “peaceful.”

Collins was a strong supporter of President Donald Trump during his tenure in the White House and continued to support him even when Trump endorsed opponent Vernon Jones in the 10th Congressional District Republican primary last year.

Collins eventually defeated Jones in a runoff and then cruised to election against his Democratic opponent in the general election in November. He officially took office earlier this year and is in his first term in Congress.

On March 6, the Department of Justice said that around 1,000 people have been arrested in connection to the Jan. 6 attack, including more than 100 who were charged with using a deadly or dangerous weapon or causing serious bodily injury to an officer.

Nineteen people have been found guilty of assaulting, resisting, or impeding officers, a felony, including one — former New York police officer Thomas Webster —

Hoping meeting was start to more unifying tone

My mother taught me that whenever you pass out critique of someone or something that's not living up to standard, if you truly mean well in that critique, you'll also follow it up with a little praise when an attempt to be better has been made.

The Feb. 21 Newton County Board of Commissioners meeting was the most tenuous and hard-to-watch local government spectacle I've personally had to cover. And, if you recall, I used this space to issue a challenge for the BOC to do better.

I don't know how many BOC members, if any, actually read that piece. But what I do know is that I was far from the only one speaking that "do better" sentiment, so whether they heard it from me or others across our county, I'm sure they received the message.

Thusly, the March 7 meeting was the smoothest one I've seen to date. The business portion of it started with an apology from Chairman Marcello Banes who expressed what felt like genuine sorrow for that Feb. 21 debacle that robbed citizens of a chance to sound off on issues of concern because Banes adjourned it early due to incessant chatter and bickering by the Board.

But last Tuesday's meeting was efficient and congenial, if not pleasant. And it was a refreshing change of pace. Albeit, it was just one meeting. To be sure, the Feb. 21 meeting was an eruption of a gradual buildup of tensions that stretched back a few months, all the way back to the insurance lapse when Travelers Insurance Co. told the Board last August that it would not renew its coverage for the county.

Let's hope this most recent meeting signals a positive buildup that continues.

Why? Because Newton County has way too much going on in and around it for our governing board to be vehemently and visibly at odds with each other and with the county's citizens. That's not my way of suggesting that a Pollyanna world should exist. I've said in this space — and really in any space I can — how much I loathe politics at times. But just because I don't like politics doesn't mean I don't understand politics.

And the truth is, no matter how you slice it, politics can be messy. It can be nasty. It can present some of a community's most cantankerous characters and chaotic moments. But it doesn't always have to be that way.

Here's another bit of wisdom from Dear Old Mom: You don't always have to like someone in order to respect someone and work well together with them.

This holds true, especially when working for the greater good of the constituents that placed elected officials in their seats. Whether we're talking County Board, city of Covington, Newton County School Board, whatever. We have much bigger fish to fry than to be trying to one up each other in public view.

I don't know how well the County Commissioners get along be-

My draft Ron DeSantis presidential announcement

With Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis busy running the third-largest state, enacting a magnificently conservative agenda, promoting a new book, and having to respond to endless demands that he run for president (not to mention banning the words "gay" and "slavery" — the man's a whirlwind of activity!), I thought I'd jot down a few ideas for his presidential announcement speech.

Here are some of the main points I think he should hit.

— "We are never going back to the party of Paul Ryan!" (Donald Trump, 2023 CPAC)

During his first two years in office, Trump had a Republican House and a Republican Senate. He'd just won a stunning upset victory that should have scared the bejesus out of every Republican in Washington. The people had spoken! They wanted a wall, not more tax cuts.

But Ryan wanted to cut taxes, so Trump forgot all about the wall and gave them tax cuts. (In fairness to Trump, challenging Ryan and pushing for wall funding would have required making a phone call.)

HEADLINE: "Ryan gets big — and much-needed — win on tax cuts" — Politico, Nov. 16, 2017

From the article: "Loathed by the Breitbart wing of the Republican Party — which sees Ryan and Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell as Trump's biggest obstacle to making America great again — the Wisconsin Republican scored a major victory in Thursday's 227-205 vote to pass a massive tax-cut package that dramatically alters the U.S. tax code ... [T]he biggest legislative win so far for Trump is an issue that Ryan has been working on for virtually his entire career."

— "Now we have complete chaos [at the border], fentanyl is pouring in and families are being destroyed. There is death everywhere caused by incompetence." (Trump, 2023 CPAC)

In fact, drug overdose deaths in America skyrocketed during the No-Wall/Open-Borders policy of the Trump administration, going from an average of about 50,000 a year in Obama's second term to more than 90,000 in Trump's last year in office.

Even in his CPAC speech, full of preposterous, fantastical claims about all the great things he did, Trump couldn't stay focused on the (now) 100,000 Americans who die of drug overdoses every year -- something that is 100% attributable to not having a border wall. After briefly mentioning fentanyl, he got right back to something much more important — Syria and Iraq!

Trump said — no ellipses, this is exactly what he said — "Fentanyl is a big problem. In fact with the ISIS caliphate, a certain general said, it can only be done in three years, it probably cannot be done it all, sir. And I did it in three weeks. I went over to Iraq. Met a great general. 'Sir, I can do it in three weeks.' You heard that story."

What on Earth? The man makes Biden look razor sharp.

— "I stood firm against the forces of anarchy and decay. I arrested the Marxists who toppled statues of our great heroes in Washington, D.C. I arrested them. They were knocking down the most beautiful artwork, the most beautiful statues of great heroes. They didn't even know who they were, they just wanted anarchy." (Trump, 2023 CPAC)

Under President Trump, hundreds of national treasures were destroyed, mangled, defaced, thrown into lakes, chopped up, melted down, hidden away or renamed. It was the greatest desecration of our country's inheritance since the British set fire to the White House during the War of 1812.

Among the casualties were memorials not only to anyone who ever had anything to do with the Confederacy (on the plus side, black SAT scores immediately improved!), but also statues of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Ulysses S. Grant, Francis Scott Key and Christopher Columbus. Also, a statue of an elk in Portland, Oregon.

In DeSantis' Florida, no monuments or statues were toppled or defaced — not even the Confederate ones. About a dozen park names were changed and statues moved to other locations, but 75 Confederate memorials still stand in the Sunshine State, including an obelisk at Florida's state capitol.

Wouldn't it be nice to have a president who gave a damn about our country's heritage and beautiful artwork?

Tennessee's public restrooms are 'number two'

You won't find anyone prouder of their Southern heritage than me. Heck, I even wrote a book called "Volunteer Bama Dawg," celebrating my connections to Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia, the states in which I've lived all my life.

Admittedly, there have been a few bumps in the road. As a kid, I wasn't proud of Alabama when Gov. George Wallace was embracing staunch racism.

Not to be outdone, Georgia soon elected Lester Maddox as governor. His claim to fame was standing in the doorway of his restaurant with an axe handle to keep black people out.

Tennessee hit bottom a few years later. Gov. Ray Blanton shamed the state by operating a clemency for cash operation, unleashing dangerous prisoners. In an unexpected turn of events, "Pardon Me Ray" paid for his scheme by spending a few years behind bars himself.

All three would later attempt to rehabilitate their images, with varying degrees of success. But not before they turned their names (and by association, their states) into punchlines, providing great fodder for America's comedians and editorial cartoonists.

Much to my delight, starting in the 1970s my three favorite states made great strides in boosting their national reputation. For about 40 years we elected men and women of good character to our state and federal leadership positions. They generally did their jobs, stayed out of trouble and didn't say anything stupid. It was fun while it lasted.

Now we're right back on top of the national joke heap. Various southern members of Congress are acting out like playground bullies, serial liars, and kids whose parents failed to teach them any manners.

We've got one in Georgia who voted against sending a message of sympathy to the families of 50,000 earthquake victims in Turkey and Syria. The vote was 414-2 in favor. We have one of the 2.

We have another in Tennessee who is in a tight race with the notorious George Santos of New York. They are apparently competing to see who can get away with the most lies about their educational background.

We have still another Georgian who described the January 6, 2021 Capitol riots as "normal tourist activity." Speaking as a frequent tourist, I'll just say I've never been on a tour like that one.

And those are just the representatives we have sent to Washington. In our state capitols, various yokels are fresh out of Hee Haw High School. On an almost daily basis they propose and pass legislation that would have felt right at home in the 1950s, or earlier. One of them shared a fond remembrance of the days of lynching. When they are cornered by reporters, they generally run away, wearing a smirk that says, "Don't blame me, it's the people in my district who keep sending me here!"

In the midst of these hayseeds giving the rest of America a big

Congressman calls for release of Jan. 6 suspects

By CHRIS BRIDGES
The Walton Tribune

Republican Congressman Mike Collins has called for the release of those arrested in connection with the Jan. 6 attack after Fox News talk show host Tucker Carlson aired new footage from the riots at the U.S. Capitol in 2021. Collins, who represents Georgia’s 10th Congressional District that includes much of Newton County, said in a tweet on March 6: “I’ve seen enough. Release all J6 political prisoners now.” The tweet was sent as Carlson played clips of the Capitol attack — handed over to him by House Majority Leader Kevin McCarthy — during his primetime show. Not all Republicans agree with Carlson and Collins, however. Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell as well as several other Republican U.S. Senators said Carlson’s portrayal of the Jan. 6, 2021, incident was incorrect. Approximately 518 people have pleaded guilty to a variety of criminal charges in connection to the riot, according to the Department of Justice, with 235 receiving a custodial sentence. A number of Republicans, such as Georgia’s Marjorie Taylor Greene and Florida’s Matt Gaetz, have described those arrested as “political prisoners,” with the clips featured on Carlson’s show further health reasons. The Porterdale native said she's in the process of writing a book chronicling the history of the town, including details on the mills that operated there for almost a century and their workers, as well as a history of the textile industry in the South. However, Porterdale must continue to “change for a better future,” she said. “We’ve got to have a plan to move it forward,” Piper said. She said she wants to work to revitalize the downtown business area, including replacing the cramped and outdated city hall building. Piper said she developed a city revitalization plan in 1998 and hosted town meetings and weekly cleanup sessions. Downtown Porterdale first was revitalized after she marketed the vacant Bibb Manufacturing Co. Porterdale Mill for redevelopment which attracted developers interested in converting it into loft apartments in the early 2000s. However, she said now the city should not confine its economic development efforts to downtown. It also should encourage development of retail outside the historic downtown in such areas as the planned mixed-use developments called The Oaks on the north side and Cedar Shoals on the town's west side, she said. She also wants to reestablish the Porterdale Business Alliance and work with the Friends of Porterdale and Porterdale Woman’s Club civic groups to hear their thoughts on how the city should proceed. The town's unique design, geography and history makes it a natural magnet for everything from unique shops and restaurants to recreational, historic and cultural tourism, Piper said. She noted the town has been the location for as many film productions as Covington, which attracts tourists because of such shows as "Vampire Diaries" and "Sweet Magnolias." The current ABC-TV series "Will Trent" recently used the historic Welaunee Inn in Porterdale as a location for an episode while other shows like the Stars series "P-Valley" and the Amazon movie “My Best Friend’s Exorcism” used locations in the city in recent years. Piper said she also wanted to use her 30 years of experience in corporate accounting to benefit city taxpayers. "I will be able to review the full financial statements that are issued monthly, including bank statement reconciliations, in an effort to avoid the fiasco that was made public in 2020 when it was revealed that the city of Porterdale was over $1 million in debt and that there were limited funds in the bank," she said. "Prior to my coming back on the council in 2021, there was not and still is not anyone on the council who can read a financial statement to know if it is accurate or not," she said. "This is vital in order to assure that the mayor, council and city manager are making financial decisions based on true numbers. Piper said she wanted to establish "more structured and orderly City Council meetings and work sessions with a format that draws on a similar format as Roberts Rules of Order." She said she would be at City Hall one Saturday each month to meet with residents who have questions about the city or problems they may be having with city services. Along the same lines, she said she wanted to reestablish a series of open meetings with government officials "that I initiated during the years of my “Let’s Sweep it Clean!” campaign" which she led to help clean up residential areas of the town in the early 2000s. "The format would be the same with guest speakers at each meeting to address various developments and programs that are of interest and benefit to the city," she said. Piper is a Porterdale native who returned with her husband to live in the town in 1989. Four generations of her family have worked in Porterdale or were born there — beginning with her great-grandparents who came to work in the then-new mill in 1899. The councilwoman was born in Porterdale Hospital and her father and grandfather were in management with Bibb Manufacturing Co. while it operated the mill, she said. "I grew up in Porterdale Baptist Church where my daddy was a deacon and my mother taught the Beginner’s Sunday School Class," she said. She began serving the church as pianist at age 13 and has served as pianist, organist, ladies’ Sunday School teacher, and director of women’s ministries in other churches.

chuckle, comes the biggest embarrassment of all. A national survey revealed that our public bathrooms aren’t just bad. They stink, for real. For example, Tennessee’s public restrooms scored a 4.6 out a possible 10 points. The only southern state with a lower score was Mississippi with a 4.2 rating. Yes, in our region, Tennessee is truly “Number Two,” but we’re not bragging about it. (By contrast, Vermont scored a sparkling 8 out of 10, but that’s an 18-hour drive from my house, and I can’t hold it that long). The southern toilet survey also blasted our public johns for lack of privacy, poor accessibility for people with disabilities, overflowing trash cans, clogged commodes, missing mirrors, a lack of diaper changing tables, no toilet paper, mysterious odors, malfunctioning hand dryers, and faulty flushing mechanisms. That’s our reputation you see, circling the drain. Although there were no positive mentions in the survey, I will make an exception for the chain of travel centers called Buc-ee’s. When I enter their shiny, fragrant restroom, I picture myself on the throne at Buckingham Palace. Literally. By the way, the Buc-ee’s stores are all located in southern states, leaving our visitors with a positive impression. Our politicians could learn something from all of this. Four little words:

— “Republicans must compete using every lawful means to win. That means swamping the left with mail-in votes, early votes and Election Day votes.” (Trump, 2023 CPAC) Before the absolutely vital Senate runoff election in Georgia in January 2021, Trump did everything he could to discourage Republicans from voting. HEADLINE: “Turnout dip among Georgia Republicans flipped U.S. Senate” — Atlanta Journal Constitution, Feb. 2, 2021 The AJC reported: “Trump’s message that the election was stolen discouraged voters such as Craig Roland, a 61-year-old Rome resident. Roland said he didn’t believe his vote would count. ‘What good would it have done to vote? They have votes that got changed,’ Roland said. ‘I don’t know if I’ll ever vote again.’” — “We will keep men out of women’s sports.” (Trump, 2023 CPAC) It was during Trump’s first year in office that biological men competing in women’s events destroyed women’s soccer and track and field in Connecticut, an absurdity that quickly spread to the rest of the country. Trump did nothing about it, unless you count a strongly worded tweet. (Heard of Title IX?) Gov. DeSantis signed a bill prohibiting biological males (according to their birth certificates) from competing in women’s sports in any interscholastic, intercollegiate, intramural or club athletic teams or sports that are sponsored by a public secondary school, high school, public college or university institution in the state of Florida. — “I will revoke every Biden policy promoting the chemical castration and sexual mutilation of our youth and ask Congress to send me a bill prohibiting child sexual mutilation in all 50 states.” (Trump, 2023 CPAC) The entire transgender craze kicked off during the Trump administration, and it continued unabated throughout the Trump administration. By contrast, acting at the behest of Gov. DeSantis, Florida medical boards have issued rules prohibiting the poisoning and mutilation of youth under 18 years old, one of the first such policies in the nation. — “[Fox News host] Sean Hannity should get a [Pulitzer] prize ... Tucker should get a prize.” (Trump, 2023 CPAC) Hmmm. After the election, Hannity was “privately disgusted by Trump ... but was scared to lose viewers,” according to Rupert Murdoch. In texts, Tucker Carlson called Trump “a demonic force” and “a destroyer.” I don’t know if having a tenuous grasp of the obvious warrants a Pulitzer Prize, but if those are Trump’s biggest boosters, he may want to go back to Kanye West and Nick Fuentes.

hind the scenes. I don’t fully know the interpersonal dynamic of our Board. Do they chat on the phone with each other from time to time? Do they have casual lunch meetings to discuss issues without the pressure of a public vote in front of the scrutinizing gaze of citizens. Truth is, it doesn’t matter. When you look at the scope of our county and see all that’s coming, not to mention all that’s already here, in the way of growth, we need a unified Board now more than ever. We need a Board that’s selfless and willing to embrace the fact that no one individual will always get his or her way. We need a Board that puts personal feelings aside to push for what’s in the best interests of the County and its citizens.

We need a Board that does all the things we’ve taught our children about respect and working together for a common goal — lessons most of us learned in kindergarten. I hope we have that Board now. When I came into this position as publisher last August, some readers sent me emails loaded with assumptions of my, and by proxy, our news-paper’s, allegiance to certain members of our county Board of Commissioners. To this day — though I know it’s par for the course for our industry, and really our current cultural climate — it baffles me how people who don’t know a person can make such personal assumptions of what that person believes in, supports or holds in high esteem. I have my thoughts as to why it was so easy for some of those folks to make some of those assumptions. But I digress. The point is this: The only thing we at The Covington News are rooting for is unity among our county’s local decision makers. Unity doesn’t always mean agreement. I don’t expect people in such capacities to agree on everything. But at least let’s agree on rallying together to do what’s best for the county’s interest and not our own. March 7 gave us a glimmer of hope that, with this group, such unity is possible. We know that it’s sorely needed. Only time will tell if it will be consistently executed.

Eagles setting standard for future of program

Anthony Williams watches and coaches as the Eastside Eagles battle against Region 8-AAAAA foe Loganville at home on Feb. 21.

By GARRETT PITTS
Correspondent

COVINGTON, Ga. — Transitioning through new players and coaching personnel is not easy, but the Eastside boys soccer team feels revamped and ready to make noise in the years to come.

After going 4-10 last season, the Eagles named Anthony Williams as the new head coach for the Eastside Eagles. Now, they look to begin the journey back to the state playoffs.

While Eastside sits with a 3-7 record currently, Williams emphasized that every game is a moment for the team to get better as his first season coaching ensues.

“It has been fun, it has been a good transition,” Williams said. “Despite our record, we come out of every game with a positive mindset. We try to figure out what we did right and what we did wrong, it is part of becoming better.”

One immediate challenge that Williams faced the moment he took over the team was the lack of returning seniors.

Going into the 2023 season, the Eagles were only bringing back three seniors: Jesus Mejia, Jace Shirah and Eli Caid. Williams stressed how important the three seniors have been and how each provides something that the team needs in every game.

“Coming into the season with only three seniors and three players with varsity experience. We are in a state of finding out who we are, knowing that we are going against a very competitive region with a lot of talent,” Williams said.

As those three seniors have locked down their veteran presence on the team, Williams made a point to reference underclassmen such as Hudson Harris, who has made quite the impact for the Eagles despite playing varsity as a freshman.

Even though Harris does not have the playing time that some of his teammates do, he provides a lot for the Eagles, playing multiple different positions for Williams on the pitch.

“Hudson Harris is a freshman who plays like he has played varsity all his life,” Williams said. “He is not one of the biggest kids but has one of the biggest hearts.”

Having the talent on the roster does not guarantee success, which is why Williams knows how important it is for the players to buy into his process and preparation.

“Coming in, I know I had to set the standard. I had to set a standard of practice, how to act on and off the field as a student athlete,” Williams said. “I just wanted to make sure I made it concrete of what is expected from everybody.”

Deep into the season, Williams is impressed with the way the team has gelled and how they continue to be consistent in practice and on game days.

As Williams looks ahead to the back half of his inaugural season at the helm, he has high hopes on what the team can accomplish.

“We just need to build off every game,” Williams said. “To finish strong, it is going to take commitment to working hard every day, not taking any days off and knowing that we represent Eastside and still have games to play.”

On the basketball court, Berrian was a key contributor to the Eagles’ Sweet Sixteen run this past season. He averaged four points and eight rebounds per game on 53% field goal shooting percentage.

Berrian’s senior track and field season began last weekend.

Though he is a multi-sport athlete, Berrian’s decision to pursue a football career past high school was quite simple.

“If you had asked me my first year of high school, I would’ve told you basketball,” Berrian said. “But after the first time I put the pads on and the first day of practice, I felt the energy of everyone being there. That just spoke to me.”

After his high school graduation in May 2023, Berrian will then move 300-plus miles to join Catawba’s football program in the fall.

But, even though he’ll be moving on from Eastside, Berrian noticed some similarities between the Eagles and the Indians’ programs.

“[Catawba’s] culture is a lot like our Eastside culture,” Berrian said. “So I felt like that was the best team for me to go to, because they already have that and they’re asking for leaders to come. And I feel like this move is going to be really good.”

Nevertheless, there are some aspects of high school football Berrian will miss. None of them compare to the relationships he’s built the past four years.

“I appreciate my coaches the most, keeping it 100% real with me,” Berrian said. “I feel like that just helps everyone play better. And the biggest thing I’ll miss is playing with my brothers. We make each other great. Without them making me better in practice every day, I feel like I wouldn’t be able to do this today.”

from Alcovy’s last region win, which was a 5-1 triumph over Evans on March 9, 2018.

The Lady Tigers then suffered a 3-2 overtime loss to Mundy’s Mill on Feb. 28, but got back in the win column by shutting out Rockdale County 2-0 on March 6.

Right now, Alcovy is placed fourth in the region standings, which would qualify it for the state playoffs with three games remaining.

And, even though the Lady Tigers are excited with the success thus far, they recognized there’s more left on the table for this group.

“To continue our growing success, we as a team can work on continuing to fight despite what the score is,” Menchaca said. “Even if we are in the lead, we have to keep fighting to keep it that way because that cost us a game this season.”

But, no matter what the remainder of the 2023 season holds, there seems to be a consensus throughout the program: The best days of Lady Tigers soccer are still to come.

Pantoja is especially excited about how bright the future of the team is.

“This season has shown us and others what Alcovy girls soccer is capable of and what it can be,” Pantoja said. “I hope that the girls continue to play together, support each other and most importantly remember to have fun and enjoy it.”

physical education as well as getting teacher certification in the state of Georgia.

McCarty has 33 years worth of athletic training experience. In Newton County specifically, he has serviced all three public schools the last two years.

And, though he originally aspired to become “the next Warren Morris” — at one point he thought of being an athletic trainer in the National Football League, too — McCarty is glad to have remained on the high school level.

“I learned in a small town years ago, there’ll be kids hanging out the window hollering at you,” McCarty said. “Or their parents are stopping me in the grocery store, ‘Hey, thanks for taking care of my kid.’ The relationships you build with the students, the parents, the coaches and the physicians is the best part.”

Being an athletic trainer, though, is more than just assisting a student-athlete when they sustain an injury.

McCarty highlighted six domains of athletic training — Prevention, Clinical Evaluation and Diagnosis, Immediate and Emergency Care, Treatment and Rehabilitation as well as Organization and Professional Health and Well-Being.

McCarty stressed how athletic trainers have to take each domain seriously.

“What a lot of folks don’t realize is that, it may look like we’re sitting over there on the sideline doing nothing in that 100 degree heat, but we’re monitoring the weather,” McCarty said. “We’re the ones documenting the heat. When it’s too hot, we’re telling the coaches, ‘Hey, it’s too hot. We got to do this, this and this.’”

“We do concussion testing. We are one of only four professions in the state of Georgia that is approved to return a player to play after a concussion.”

Other aspects of athletic trainers’ responsibilities include surveying athletic facilities and helping student-athletes in their conditioning to best return from injury.

McCarty enjoys all facets of his position as athletic trainer. And, from that one summer where he didn’t score a touchdown, McCarty picked up much more than just six points in a touch football game.

“I knew from the fourth grade this is what I wanted to do,” McCarty said.

Lady Tigers are amid program turnaround

By PHILLIP B. HUBBARD
Sports Editor

COVINGTON, Ga. — Brighter days have arrived for the Alcovy Lady Tigers in 2023. This season's result has allowed for a culture shift within the program, too.

Tania Menchaca, a sophomore, highlighted how this year's success has penetrated past the soccer field.

"I do believe that we are getting way more recognition as a result of the success," Menchaca said. "For example, we have a lot more people coming to our home games than we did last year. And we are definitely working hard to keep our names out there."

Alcovy currently stands at 3-3 overall including a 2-2 record in Region 3-AAAAAA. This comes after the Lady Tigers only won a single match in the last three seasons.

Albeit a COVID-19 shortened 2020 season plus the struggle of fielding a team in 2021 are among the factors behind the recent slump. However, as the lone senior on this team, Sheylin Pantoja recognized the team's development from where it was previously.

The program has progressed so much in a good way," Pantoja said. "It was rough at the start and two years were taken from us by COVID. But returning from that we were getting somewhere but the team was missing something and we needed to improve a lot. Now the program is strong and I can tell it's going to just get stronger from now on and I can't wait to see what they do these next seasons."

This season, the Lady Tigers are under the direction of first-year head coach Ashley McHenry, who also coaches Alcovy's volleyball team. Earlier in the season, McHenry stressed how she felt like the players were close.

Pantoja concurred by saying that seems to be a main difference compared to years past.

"The team has a better bond this year and is working hard all together," Pantoja said. "It felt like last year we were playing individually and it wasn't a team for the most part and everyone isn't putting effort in unlike this year everyone is contributing and working hard together to reach our goal, which is to win."

On top of that, Menchaca said how the coaching staff has served as proponents for this year's turnaround.

"Before and after every game and even every practice, coach McHenry always gives us an uplifting speech to motivate us," Menchaca said. "Our assistant coach, Mrs. Precious, is also our biggest supporter. You will always hear her yelling and cheering us on from the sidelines during the games. She always knows how to cheer us up and hype us up."

Alcovy bounced back from an 0-2 start to this year, falling to Locust Grove and Forest Park by a combined 10-0. The Lady Tigers' rebounded with a 10-0 win over McDonough on Feb. 7 — the program's first win since a 3-2 over Salem on March 21, 2022 — followed by a 7-1 win over region foe Morrow six days later.

Berrian anticipates energetic career with Catawba

COVINGTON, Ga. — In the early part of Thursday morning, Eastside football hosted a special ceremony for its senior wide receiver Saabir Berrian. During the ceremony, Berrian signed his national letter of intent to Catawba's football program.

Berrian looks forward to taking his talents to the next level.

"From the first moment I put pads on until now, I've been working to get to this point," Berrian said. "And I've been dreaming of this moment and extending my athletic career."

In addition to his play on the gridiron, Berrian was also a member of the Eagles' basketball team and track and field. That's not to mention him participating in theater as well.

No matter the sport, Berrian displays high energy in the competition. Now, he plans to pack up his energetic personality and take it with him to Salisbury, North Carolina.

"I've always tried to be energetic and bring it into the game, because I know that's the best thing I can do to help the team on and off the field," Berrian said. "

Berrian closed out his senior season with First Team All-Region honors from Region 8-AAAAA before which he hauled in nine receptions for 188 yards and two touchdowns.

McCarty living out fourth grade dream as athletic trainer

Phillip B. Hubbard | The News
Chip McCarty tapes the foot of a student-athlete before an Eastside boys soccer home match during the 2022-23 season.

By PHILLIP B. HUBBARD
Sports Editor

COVINGTON, Ga. — Chip McCarty has been an athletic trainer for 33 years now and currently holds that position at Eastside High School. Though McCarty has been all over Georgia as an athletic trainer, he remembers the moment he decided to become an athletic trainer like it was yesterday.

McCarty was a fourth grader participating in the University of Georgia's summer football camp during which he was about to score his "one and only touchdown."

It didn't quite play out that way, though.

While racing toward the goal line, McCarty tripped over his "own two feet" and fell around the three-yard line. As a result, McCarty broke his collarbone.

Since the incident occurred early in the camp, McCarty had a choice — go home early or be confined to UGA athletic trainer Warren Morris' office the rest of the way.

McCarty chose the latter.

"I watched what [Warren] did in amazement and loved every minute of it," McCarty said.

The next six summers, McCarty returned to that same football camp but, instead of playing football, he shadowed Morris.

"He taught me how to tape, clean Whirlpools, mix Gatorade and stuff like that," McCarty said. "My 10th grade year in high school, he sent me an official University of Georgia sports medicine kit for Christmas."

That one summer sparked a lifelong dream McCarty is living today.

Since that moment, McCarty has earned a bachelor's degree in sports medicine from Valdosta State University in 1989. He obtained a master's in health and

Get into the Irish spirit

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
news@covnews.com

St. Patrick’s Day began as an opportunity to honor St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, who was credited with bringing Christianity to this island nation. Through the years, St. Patrick’s Day has transformed into a celebration of Irish culture as well as a day for fun and fanfare. Of course, no celebration would be complete without delicious food.

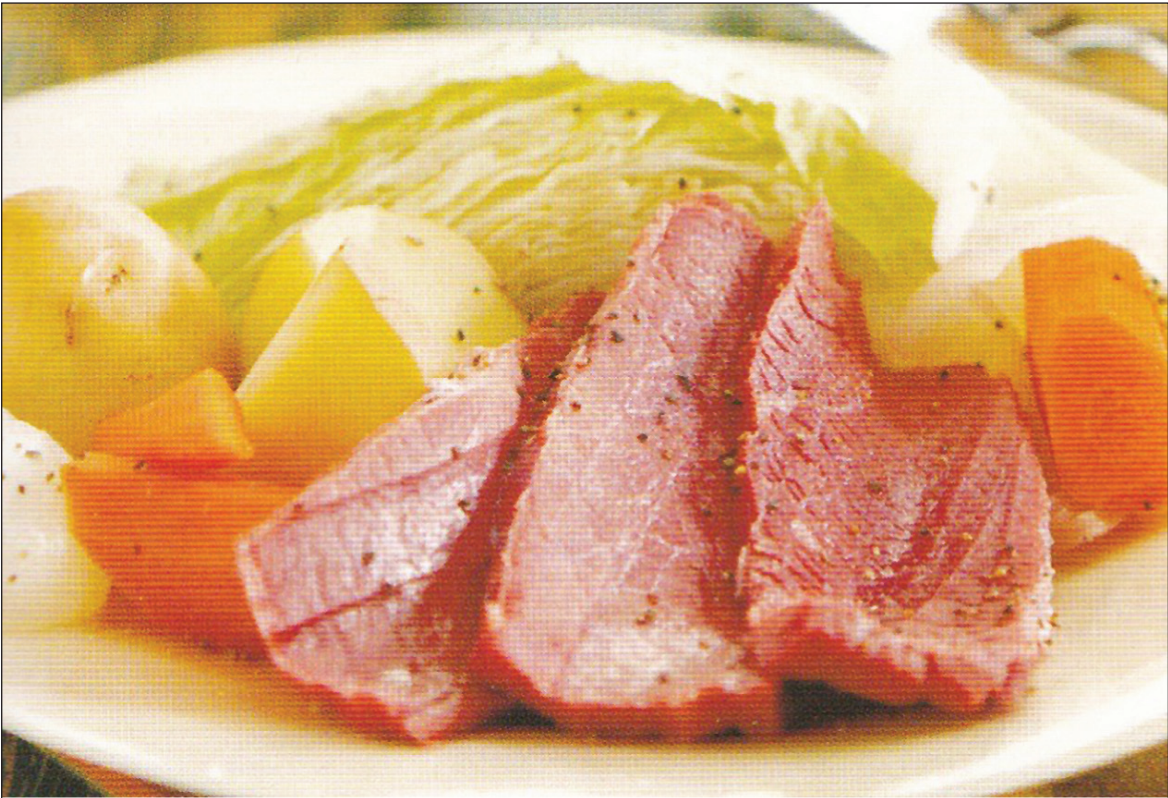

Although corned beef may not be the most authentic representation of Irish cuisine, it certainly has become synonymous with St. Patrick’s Day. During the early influx of Irish immigrants to North America, corned beef was more readily available than some other cuts of meat from the Emerald Isle. When cooking St. Patrick’s Day dinner this year, the process can be made even easier with the use of a slow cooker. Try this recipe for “Corned Beef and Cabbage” from “Crock•Pot® 365 Year-Round Recipes” (Publications International) from the Crock•Pot kitchens.

Corned Beef and Cabbage

Makes 6 to 8 servings

- 12 new red potatoes, quartered
- 4 carrots, sliced
- 1 corned beef brisket (about 4 pounds)
- 2 onions, sliced
- 3 whole bay leaves
- 8 whole black peppercorns
- 1 head cabbage, cut into wedges

1. Place potatoes and carrots in bottom of slow cooker. Add brisket, onions, bay leaves, and peppercorns. Add enough water to cover brisket. Cover; cook on low 4 to 5 hours or on high 2 to 2½ hours.

2. Add cabbage. Continue cooking on low 4 to 5 hours longer or on high 2 to 2½ hours longer. Slice brisket against the grain, and serve with vegetables.

Cook up a classic Philly sandwich

news@covnews.com

Cheesesteaks are decadent sliced beef sandwiches covered in gooey cheese and served on crusty rolls. According to Philadelphia’s official tourism site, Pat Oliveri invented the cheesesteak in the 1930s. Oliveri was a hot dog vendor who decided to grill beef from the butcher and put it on an Italian roll. A cab driver smelled the creation and asked for the sandwich. Word spread about this new concoction, and soon lots of customers were coming by for their own. Oliveri opened up Pat’s King of Steaks on 9th Street soon after. Cheese was added later to the sandwiches in the 1940s after a suggestion from manager Joe Lorenza.

Cheesesteaks have become synonymous with Philadelphia. In fact, there is a fierce rivalry between Pat’s and Geno’s, which is another cheesesteak restaurant that opened across the street from Pat’s in 1966 and claims they were the first to add cheese to the steak. Fierce loyalties to both of these restaurants stand today in Philadelphia. However, a person doesn’t have to take sides when he or she makes cheesesteak at home. This recipe, courtesy of chef Robert Irvine and the Food Network, is easy and quick.

Cheesesteak

Makes 4 sandwiches

- 2 tablespoons grapeseed oil
- 2 cups thinly sliced yellow onions
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper
- 4 tablespoons unsalted butter, softened
- 4 nine-inch sub rolls

Metro Creative

This recipe, courtesy of chef Robert Irvine and the Food Network, is easy and quick.

- 2 pounds shaved beef, such as ribe eye or sirloin
- 12 thin slices provolone

In a large saute pan or griddle, heat the oil over medium-high heat for 1 minute, and then add the onions, 1 tablespoon salt and 1 teaspoon pepper. Cook the onions until caramelized, stirring throughout the process, 5 to 6 minutes. Remove and keep warm.

Spread the softened butter on the interiors of the rolls and cook, butter-side down, on a griddle until browned, 1 to 2 minutes. Remove the rolls, add the raw steak to the griddle and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cook briefly, shredding the meat into small pieces with two metal spatulas. Add the onions and cook for 2 minutes.

Portion the meat into 4 piles, and top each pile with 3 slices of the provolone. Continue to cook until the cheese melts (putting the lid and adding a little water to the pan can help with this step). Cover each pile with a browned roll, and slice a spatula under the meat to pick it up with the roll.

Freshly made potato chips cannot be beat

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
news@covnews.com

Everyone has his or her own idea of comfort food. For some, it is biting into a piping-hot slice of pepperoni pizza. Others can’t get enough of a hearty bowl of beef stew.

Snack foods also can be categorized as comfort foods — and potato chips (or “crisps” as they’re known across the pond) are no exception. Potato chips come in different flavors and cuts, including crinkle and kettle chips. While it’s easy to pick up a bag at the store, why not whip up a fresh batch right at home? You will have complete control over the ingredients and enjoy the freshest chips around. Try this recipe for “Homemade Potato Chips” courtesy of home cook, and country living blogger Kathy from Beyond the Chicken Coop.

Homemade Potato Chips

- 6 medium russet potatoes
- 2 tablespoons white vinegar
- Water

Metro Creative

While it’s easy to pick up a bag at the store, why not whip up a fresh batch of potato chips right at home?

- Oil for frying (vegetable, canola or peanut oil)
- Salt
- 1. Peel potatoes and place potato in a bowl filled with water.
- 2. Slice potatoes to 1/16 inch thick. Use a mandoline to get an even, consistent size. Immediately place sliced potatoes in another bowl filled with cold water and 2 tablespoons of white vinegar. Allow potatoes to soak for at least 1 hour.

3. Drain potatoes and rinse with cold water. Leave potatoes in colander and allow all water to drain.

4. Place drained potatoes on a clean, dry kitchen towel. Pat lightly to remove any remaining water.

5. Fill pot with 2 inches of oil. Preheat oil to 380 F. Use a thermometer to test temperature of oil.

6. Test oil temperature. Ideal temperature will vary from 370 to 380 F. Fry one or two slices in the oil and cook until they are nicely browned. If the potatoes brown quicker than 3 minutes, lower the temperature by 5 degrees.

7. Place one handful of sliced potatoes in the oil. Stir gently to prevent potatoes from sticking to each other. Cook until golden; 3 minutes.

8. Scoop out and place on a baking sheet lined with a baking rack.

9. Sprinkle with salt immediately and repeat until all potatoes are cooked.

Tips: Soaking the potatoes helps remove excess starch and prevents the potatoes from sticking together. It also helps them fry up more crispy.

Chips are best eaten the day they are made. Store in an airtight container for up to two days.

BY JAY BOBBIN

Brendan Fraser is among the nominees being honored in The Oscars Sunday on ABC.

Everything all at once, Oscar-wise: ABC televises 95th movie awards

The movie business has changed a lot in recent years, but the Oscars remain a constant of it.

Though more films have returned to theatrical-only releases than in earlier phases of the COVID-19 situation, the future of some theaters is in jeopardy ... and a significant number of them have closed. Still, there are enough releases and places to see them for the Academy Awards to have an impact on how they perform economically. Jimmy Kimmel has his third stint as host of the ceremony as ABC broadcasts the 95th edition Sunday, March 12, from Los Angeles' Dolby Theatre.

One never can be sure, but it seems unlikely that a year later, a repeat of what immediately became one of history's most famous slaps will be delivered on the Oscar stage (unless someone does something along those lines to reference that moment in jest). Kimmel is sure to have other subjects for pointed barbs, such as the absence of female nominees in the category of best director — a fact that critics were quick to point out after the nominations announcement in January.

As for those who are nominees, the fantasy "Everything Everywhere All at Once" leads the contenders with 11 Oscar bids. The latest screen version of the war drama "All Quiet on the Western Front" and the seriocomic "The Banshees of Inisherin" follow with nine each, and the Presley biography "Elvis" has eight. Steven Spielberg's semi-autobiographical "The Fabelmans" registers with seven nominations, and the box-office blockbuster "Top Gun: Maverick" has six. "Black Panther: Wakanda Forever" and "Tar" have five each.

Here are the nominees in several categories in the 95th Oscars:

Best picture: "All Quiet on the Western Front"; "Avatar: The Way of Water"; "The Banshees of Inisherin"; "Elvis"; "Everything Everywhere All at Once"; "The Fabelmans"; "Tar"; "Top Gun: Maverick"; "Triangle of Sadness"; "Women Talking"

Best director: Martin McDonagh, "The Banshees of Inisherin"; Daniel Kwan, Daniel Scheinert, "Everything Everywhere All at Once"; Steven Spielberg, "The Fabelmans"; Todd Field, "Tar"; Ruben Ostlund, "Triangle of Sadness"

Best lead actor: Austin Butler, "Elvis"; Colin Farrell, "The Banshees of Inisherin"; Brendan Fraser, "The Whale"; Paul Mescal, "Aftersun"; Bill Nighy, "Living"

Best lead actress: Cate Blanchett, "Tar"; Ana de Armas, "Blonde"; Andrea Riseborough, "To Leslie"; Michelle Williams, "The Fabelmans"; Michelle Yeoh, "Everything Everywhere All at Once"

Best supporting actor: Brendan Gleeson, "The Banshees of Inisherin"; Brian Tyree Henry, "Causeway"; Judd Hirsch, "The Fabelmans"; Barry Keoghan, "The Banshees of Inisherin"; Ke Huy Quan, "Everything Everywhere All at Once"

Best supporting actress: Angela Bassett, "Black Panther: Wakanda Forever"; Hong Chau, "The Whale"; Kerry Condon, "The Banshees of Inisherin"; Jamie Lee Curtis, "Everything Everywhere All at Once"; Stephanie Hsu, "Everything Everywhere All at Once"

Venom: Let There Be Carnage

7:19 p.m. on STARZ

Tom Hardy — who stars as main human character Eddie Brock and voices Eddie's CGI alien alter-ego Venom — also co-wrote the story that became the screenplay for director Andy Serkis' 2021 superhero adventure sequel to 2018's hit "Venom." The film follows Eddie as he and the hitchhiking alien symbiote who shares his body are forced to confront serial killer Cletus Kasady (Woody Harrelson) after the latter becomes the host of a murderous symbiote named Carnage. Michelle Williams, Naomie Harris and Reid Scott also star.

The Flash

8 p.m. on WUPA

Just as Barry (Grant Gustin) and Iris (Candice Patton) make plans for their new life, luck begins to change for those in Central City. Cecile (Danielle Nicolet) begins a case with Allegra's (Kayla Compton) help, involving a string of unfortunate — and highly unexpected — events. Meanwhile, Chester (Brandon McKnight) and the team work with Khione (Danielle Panabaker) to better understand her abilities. Chad Lowe directed the new episode "The Good, the Bad and the Lucky."

Pawn Stars

As Rick prepares to battle over a pair of vintage posters, will he win the war or end up framed for cheapness? Then, Rick and Chum call on the power of Grayskull as they check out a large Battle Cat toy. But will the duo be cringing from sticker shock, or will they be able to transform the negotiations? Meanwhile, Corey takes a look at an old fireman's megaphone. Can he ignite a deal, or will he get hosed in the new episode "Battle-Pawn."

Spring Break Nightmare
8 p.m. on LMN
Kayla (Kalen Bull) and Ally (Grace Patterson) are pro surfers and best friends planning a spring break trip to a beach paradise. But Kayla immediately disappears once they arrive. It seems Kayla may have been betrayed by those closest to her in this 2022 thriller.

Butchers of the Bayou
9 p.m. on A&E
This new miniseries examines two serial killers who were operating separately in the area of Baton Rouge, La. In 2002, Charlotte Murray Pace, an LSU graduate, was found raped and stabbed to death in her home in 2002. The crime reminded police of the unsolved case of Gina Wilson Green in 2001. Then, in March 1994, Ann Bryan was found murdered in her home at the St. James Place retirement community. Despite attempts to catch her killer, the case went cold. Part 2 immediately follows with the conclusion airing Friday.

Alaska Daily
10:01 p.m. on WSB

Meanwhile, Austin (Craig Frank) and Claire (Meredith Holzman) follow Conrad Pritchard's (John Getz) trail to figure out what he is really up to in Alaska in the new episode "Rush to Judgement." Jeff Perry, Matt Malloy and Ami Park also star.

celebrity q&a BY GEORGE DICKIE

Melissa Ponzio

OF 'TEEN WOLF: THE MOVIE' ON PARAMOUNT+

Have you done any of the fan conventions – including the Comic-Cons – for the "Teen Wolf" series and movie?

Yes. I've been lucky enough to go to both the larger San Diego and New York Comic-Cons while the show was on the air, and we always love all of the friends and fans of the show that show up for that. And yes, we have a very strong fandom around the world. We've been everywhere from Australia to Italy to Rome to France to all across the world, even Warsaw. There's a Comic-Con in Warsaw that I was able to go to. And you name a continent and "Teen Wolf" is on it.

How were you received in Poland?

It was amazing. That was one of my favorite trips, actually, just culturally, spiritually to be there. To be at the first Warsaw Comic-Con was pretty special, and it was very well attended and we're all so very lucky that we're able to go to these larger Cons and then we can kind of blend fandoms and be able to be with some of the "Game of Thrones" characters, and so that was a lot of fun.

And the fans at these Cons are very well educated and very knowledgeable.

Yes, and I feel like when you create a mythical world, when you create a place like Beacon Hills or when you're talking about shows like "The Walking Dead," you have to really honor the spirit of what you create because the fans will know. They'll figure it out. They'll be the ones that'll be like, "Hey, you can't do that because X, Y, Z." And I feel like our writers and our creators have a lot of attention to detail to make sure that we keep consistent within our mystique.

The sisters hope to make a good impression on new recruit Sister Veronica (Rebecca Gethings). But it's clear she is no shrinking violet and will ruffle a few feathers. Then, racial tensions stretch a shadow over Poplar following Enoch Powell's incendiary "Rivers of Blood" speech. And Nancy (Megan Cusack) and Trixie (Helen George) team up to support a terminally ill patient, while Fred (Cliff Parisi) is saddened to receive an official letter confirming the disbandment of the Civil Defence Corps in the Season 12 premiere.

Don't turn around now but that person looks familiar. Elena's (Mariel Molino) nanny cover is threatened when someone from her past unexpectedly shows up at The Greybourne in the new episode "The Serpent's Tooth." Will they put two and two together and expose her or find a mutually beneficial arrangement? Warren Christie, Amy Acker, Jon-Michael Ecker, Aliyah Royale and Kelly Bishop also star.

9 p.m. on FOOD
Chef/host Darnell Ferguson welcomes two pairs of clashing superstar chefs to his arena to resolve feuds that have been boiling for more than 10 years. First up, Chef Aaron May's bad blood with Chef Ilan Hall began when they line-cooked Spanish food in a cramped kitchen and big egos clashed, so now it's tapas to the death. Then Chef Davonte Bolden goes against his partner from "Guy's Grocery Games," Chef Randy Pasch, who he blames for their devastating loss in the new episode "Unfinished Business."

History's Greatest Heists With Pierce Brosnan

10:03 p.m. on HIST
In 1997, Allen Pace III, an armored-car depot employee in Los Angeles, uses his insider knowledge to plan a heist that would net him and the longtime friends he recruits more than $18 million in cash in the new episode "The Unbar Armored Depot Heist." They left almost no clues and would have perhaps gotten away with it if one of the members hadn't tried to buy real estate with the cash in its original currency straps. Pierce Brosnan hosts.

TV work was part of Raquel Welch's way

Q: Did Raquel Welch do any TV series? – Greg Guthrie, via email

A: The recently deceased actress was a regular on several shows. She played a member of the title clan in the 2002-04 drama "American Family," then she appeared as a resident of a Hollywood apartment building in the short-lived 2008 sitcom "Welcome to the Captain." Her final career credit was the 2017 comedy show "Date My Dad." Along the way, Welch also did other television work including the movies "Right to Die," "Scandal in a Small Town," "Tainted Blood," "Trouble in Paradise" and "The Legend of Walks Far Woman." Additionally, she made guest appearances on such shows as "Seinfeld," "Mork & Mindy," "Spin City," "Evening Shade," "CSI: Miami," "8 Simple Rules" and "Lois & Clark: The New Adventures of Superman."

Q: Where can I watch the original version of "Night Court"? – Susan Poole, Buffalo, N.Y.

A: It hasn't been available for the past couple of months, but that's about to change. Before the current NBC revival launched, the first version (which, like the new one, starred John Larroquette) could be seen on the channel Laff, but that ended with the start of the new year. The reason for that evidently was a deal made for the show by what has been known as Decades, which will be rebranded as the all-sitcom Catchy Comedy Network starting March 27. Two episodes of the original "Night Court" will be shown there each weeknight. Executives of the network have said they're feeling pretty lucky, since their purchase of that series was made before the revival premiered to very impressive ratings ... likely making some viewers interested in checking out the parent show now.
